

ENGLISH THREAT TO HOLD GERMAN EXPORT PROFITS TO PAY ON DEBTS

Chancellor of Exchequer Neville Chamberlain in House of Commons Discloses Counter-Proposal to Moratorium.

PLAN FOR CLEARING HOUSE ANNOUNCED

Government Would Not Act If Agreement on Fair Treatment of British Bondholders and Commerce Is Reached by July 1.

LONDON, June 15.—As a counter-measure to the German moratorium the British Government will propose legislation enabling it to set up an Anglo-German clearing office, Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons today.

The Government would be prepared, however, to refrain from exercising its powers under such a measure, Chamberlain said, "if a satisfactory agreement insuring fair treatment to British bondholders and British commerce can be negotiated before July 1."

Great Britain's Ambassador to Berlin has informed the German Government of the plan, Chamberlain disclosed.

"I should add that anyone who purchases German bonds now held by foreigners, does so at his own risk," the Chancellor warned. "It will be observed that the declaration made by the Reichsbank refers to medium and long term loans. I have seen no suggestion that the German Government intends to interfere with the standard agreement under which it has been agreed to pay interest on its bonds."

The general effect of a clearing house would be to impound Germany's favorable trade balance with Britain.

All Anglo-German trade would pass through the clearing office. British importers of German goods would make their payments into it; British exporters to Germany would be paid through it. As Britain now buys more from Germany than she sells to Germany, the balance of payments not seized to Germany would be seized to meet creditors' claims.

France Considers Joining Britain in Clearing House Plan.

PARIS, June 15.—France has tentatively decided to create a clearing house for Franco-German trade to insure the payment of commercial balances and to collect funds for bond interest on the Dawes and Young loans, despite the German moratorium. The French action is to be taken in co-operation with the British.

Officials explained that the German Trade treaty was designed purposely to enable Germany to export sufficient goods to meet the interest of French bondholders and it was officially asserted that "these interests will be protected."

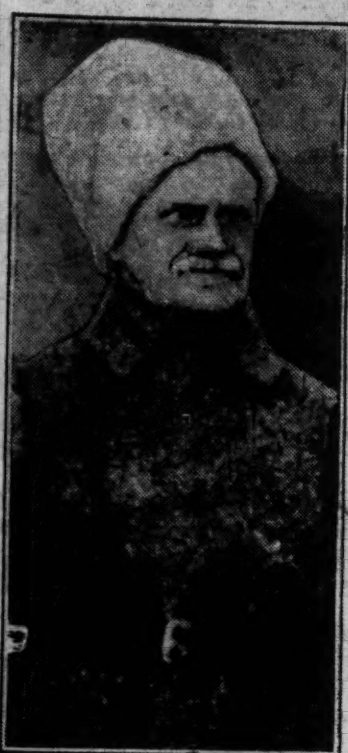

House Suspends Payment on German War Claims.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Payments by the United States under the war claims act will be postponed so long as Germany is in arrears under the debt funding agreement. A resolution adopted by the House sets forth that under the 1930 debt-funding agreement Germany agreed to pay the United States on awards entered by the Mixed Claims Commission 40,000,000 marks for the period from Sept. 1, 1929, to March, 1930, and an equal amount for the period from April 1, 1930 to March 31, 1931. Germany is in arrears, the resolution added, and "has failed to make suitable provision for the satisfaction of the claims against Germany."

Hitter Paper Lays Moratorium to S. Parker Gilbert Jr.

BERLIN, June 15.—Chancellor Hitter's newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter said today that foreign creditors should hold S. Parker Gilbert Jr., American Agent-General for Reparations, responsible for yesterday's moratorium declaration. "Germany's declaring a moratorium bespeaks an energy which Gilbert never possessed," said the paper. "The reparations agent bears the bulk of responsibility for the city jail to the county jail."

Attorney-General Gives Opinion to State Liquor Control Supervisor.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—The opinion, written by Assistant Attorney-General John W. Hoffman Jr., points out that it is illegal to sell both intoxicating and non-intoxicating beverages on the same premises.

While it is unlawful to sell beverages with more than 3.2 per cent alcoholic content on Sunday, there is no restriction on the time non-intoxicating beverages may be sold. The ruling was requested by E. J. Becker, State Liquor Control Supervisor.

$500,000 PLAGIARISM SUIT OVER 'HOME ON THE RANGE'

Song, Which Is President Roosevelt's Favorite, Is Said to Have Been Stolen.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. William Goodwin of Manhattan Beach, Cal., filed a plagiarism suit in Federal court yesterday charging that the song, "Home on the Range," was stolen from their place, "An Arizona Home." They referred to "Home on the Range" as President Roosevelt's favorite.

They charged they had been damaged "not less than $500,000." They listed 26 defendants engaged in the distribution and singing of "Home on the Range."

'Thought' Wife Was Kidnaped and Wanted to Use Phone.

Police were called to the offices of the Town Talk Ice Cream Co., 1200 North Thirty-seventh street, East St. Louis, at 3 a. m. today, by George Chance, manager of the company, who lives at the same address. In the rear of the building they found a man caught in a window.

He told them he was trying to get to telephone because he thought his wife and daughter had been kidnaped. He was taken to city jail.

PLANES SEEK MISSING CREW

Take Off From Colon to Rescue 17 in Lifeboat.

COLON, C. Z., June 15.—Three naval planes left here early today to search along the Nicaraguan coastline for the 17 or 18 sailors reported adrift in a lifeboat. The men were on the Norwegian freighter, Knut Hamsun, which was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Death for Killing Policeman.

DALLAS, Tex., June 15.—A jury in District Court today found Richard Rhem, New York parole violator, guilty of the killing of Police Officer Luke Bell here on May 18 and assessed the death penalty. Bell was shot to death as he grappled with Rhem on the floor of a garage after Rhem had escaped while being transferred from the city jail to the county jail.

U. S. MISSIONARY KILLED BY BANDITS AT PEIPING, CHINA

Dr. J. H. Ingram, 75, Father of Director of Washington U. School of Nursing.

SLAIN IN ATTEMPT TO PROTECT FAMILY

Shot When He Grapples With One of Band of Robbers—Wife and Grandchildren Not Harmed.

PEIPING, China, June 15.—Dr. J. H. Ingram, 75-year-old American missionary, was shot to death early today in his summer bungalow on the outskirts of Peiping as he attempted to shield his wife and grandchildren from bandits.

A native of Richmond County, Ohio, and attached to the American Board of Missions with headquarters at Boston, Dr. Ingram had been in China 50 years. He went through the siege of Peking (Peiping) in the Boxer uprising of 1900. In 1918 the American Red Cross sent him to Siberia for medical work among troops and later to Prague to direct the repatriation of 1000 Czech-Slovakian soldiers.

He, with his wife and grandchildren, had gone to the bungalow yesterday to gather belongings before going to Peking for the summer. Shortly after midnight a band of robbers entered the house and went into the room where the missionary and his wife were sleeping. As the bandits stood over the Ingrams with pistols pointed the frightened grandchildren crawled into Mrs. Ingram's bed for protection. Dr. Ingram jumped from his bed and grappled with one robber, pinning him against the wall, but the bandit shook off the missionary and shot him in the arm and head.

The bandits then ransacked the house. They got only a small amount of personal property and $5 each.

Mrs. Ingram and the children, unharmed but shaken by the experience, were brought to Peiping today. Nelson T. Johnson, United States Minister, called on her to offer sympathy to the Chinese Government also sent a representative with condolences.

Representations Made.

The United States legation promptly made representations to the Chinese authorities. Chinese officials promised to take immediate action to capture the bandits and to protect other foreigners living for the summer in hills near Peiping.

The Ingram killing was a climax to periodic banditry nearabouts. The American army officers were shot at recently by bandits in the west hills area, where the Ingram family was kidnapped and held for ransom. Six other Chinese were killed in a bandit raid on a village nearby.

One of Dr. Ingram's daughters is the wife of Capt. William F. Mayer of Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland, and another, Miss Ruth Ingram, is director of the Washington University school of nursing at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Mo. There are also two sons, Robert and Louis.

Daughter Cables to China For Confirmation of Death Report.

Miss Ruth Ingram today cabled the United States Legation in China to confirm the report of her father's death. She said that on previous occasions reports of the death of her father and other members of her family at the hands of bandits had come through, only to be proved false later on. She also telegraphed the American Board of Missions. Miss Ingram was born in China and received her early schooling there.

Dr. and Mrs. Ingram were for a long time friends of the ex-emperor and Empress of China, giving medical treatment to them and their relatives. In 1931, when the Japanese proposed to make the young Emperor, Pu-yi, Emperor of Manchuria, other members of the family asked to hide in the attic of the Ingram home because of the high feeling against them.

Pu-yi is now Emperor of Manchuria and has taken the name Kang-Tei.

Miss Ruth Ingram spent 10 years in the Orient, from 1918 to 1928, first in Siberia and then as head of the nursing school of the Peking Union Medical College Hospital.

ASSASSINS KILL POLISH MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR

Col. Bronislaw Pieracki Shot by Two Men as He Is Leaving Club in Warsaw.

WARSAW, June 15.—Col. Bronislaw Pieracki, Polish Minister of the Interior, was assassinated this afternoon by two unidentified men who shot him in the head and escaped in a crowd.

The assassins approached the Minister as he was leaving a club and without warning began to shoot. He died at 5:30 o'clock tonight in the military hospital.

Col. Pieracki was the host of Dr. Joseph Paul Goebbels, German Minister of Propaganda and right-hand man to Chancellor Adolf Hitler, during Goebbels' stay in Warsaw.

The attack occurred as the Minister was descending a staircase. Two shots were fired from a group of men who had waited some time for Pieracki to come from the building. The assassins escaped in the confusion which followed. A policeman who tried to hold one of them was wounded.

One of the bullets struck the Minister in the head. He did not regain consciousness before he died.

One theory held by the authorities is that the assassination was provoked by the arrest of a large number of Ukrainian terrorists yesterday at Cracow and Lwow. Officers who made a succession of raids seized a large supply of explosives and confiscated revolutionary literature.

CONVICTED IN FALSIFYING CLIENT'S INCOME RETURN

Chicago Attorney and Accountant Found Guilty of Abetting Tax Evasion.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Payoff Tinkoff, attorney, was convicted today by a jury in the court of Federal Judge Stone on two counts of an indictment charging him with aiding and abetting William J. Newman, 70-year-old wealthy ex-convict, in the evasion of approximately $200,000 in income tax payments for 1928.

The maximum possible sentence is five years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000 on each of the two counts. Judge Stone set June 24 for argument on a motion for a new trial and permitted Tinkoff to remain at liberty until $15,000 bond.

In his defense, Tinkoff laid the entire blame on Newman. He charged that Newman had a secret fund of $500,000 out of which payments were made to "certain public officials." Newman has pleaded guilty of making a false return and today was fined $1,000 and costs on each of two charges.

RULING ON JUDGE WILL NOT DELAY THE KELLEY CASES

Chief Justice of Supreme Court Says Decision Will Be Made Before Date of Trial.

FOUR DEFENDANTS ARE SEEKING WRIT

Defense Ordered to File Pleadings in Effort to Disqualify Nolte — Mrs. Muench in Jefferson City

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—The Supreme Court en banc will rule before July 9 on an application filed yesterday by defendants in the Kelley kidnapping case for a writ of prohibition to prevent Circuit Judge Nolte of Clayton from trying the case, Chief Justice Frank said today. The trial is set for July 9.

After the application had been filed, Judge Frank ordered the defense to file its supporting pleadings, all written, within five days and granted the State an additional five days within which to file its brief, so that the case will be ready for adjudication by June 24.

The prosecution this morning filed with the Supreme Court a set of informal suggestions on the law in the case as seen by the State. The suggestions were signed by Attorney-General McKeltrick and Associate Prosecuting Attorney Wolfe of St. Louis County.

Four Defendants Seek Writ.

All four of the defendants who are scheduled for trial on July 9 joined in the application for the writ of prohibition, by which the defense hopes to disqualify Judge Nolte, force the case back into the court of Judge McElhinney, make him disqualify himself as judge and to appoint in his place a judge selected by defense and prosecution.

Defendants participating in the application are Felix McDonald, Jefferson City convict; Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, 4738 Westminster place, who is at liberty on $25,000 bond; Judge Rosegrant and Bart David, alleged former associates of McDonald, who have been held in jail at Clayton, since last February, awaiting trial.

First plea in the application is that Judge McElhinney, who transferred the case to Judge Nolte's court at Clayton last Monday, be ordered to disqualify himself and order trial by another judge. The second plea is that Judge Nolte be prohibited by Supreme Court order from accepting jurisdiction in the case.

Following the usual practice the Supreme Court ordered Judge Nolte by telegram last night to take no further action in the case until the application had been adjudicated. This means the hearing scheduled for Saturday on motions to quash, filed in behalf of Mrs. Muench, Rosegrant and David, will be continued until the Supreme Court gives a decision.

Argument on McElhinney.

Following the line of argument presented to Judge McElhinney, the defense contends in its application that McElhinney went beyond his authority last Monday in amending the caption of the defense motion that he disqualify himself. Judge McElhinney ruled that the document was in effect a change of venue motion, amended its caption to fit his ruling, and granted it forthwith.

The defense contends that Judge McElhinney should have disqualified himself as prejudiced and should have ordered State and defense to agree on a lawyer who would be appointed special judge to preside at the trial. For this reason, the defense reasons, his order of transfer to Judge Nolte's court is illegal, and Judge Nolte's assumption of jurisdiction on the basis of the order also is without the sanction of the law.

Mrs. Muench, only defendant at liberty, accompanied Verne Lacy, attorney for her, David and McDonald, to Jefferson City yesterday, and shortly after noon visited the Supreme Court building.

Missouri: Mostly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, possibly showers in west and central portions; somewhat cooler tonight.

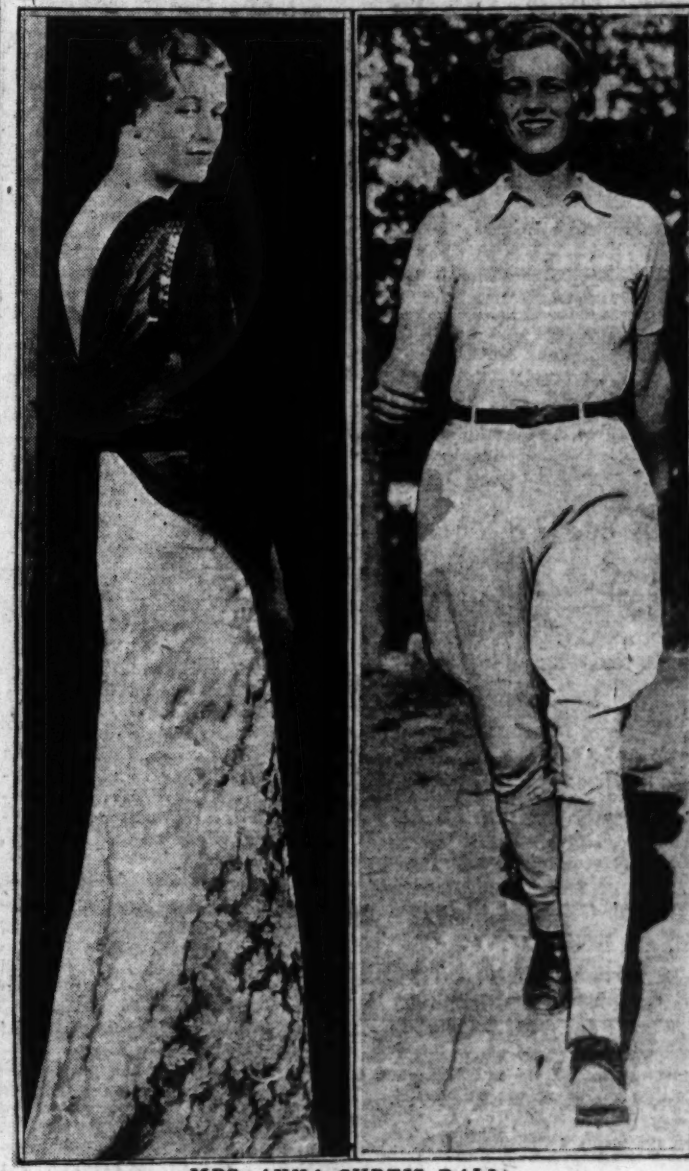

Illinois: Partly cloudy tonight; somewhat cooler in central and north portions tonight.

BAR REGULATION PLAN IS ADOPTED BY COURT

Missouri Supreme Bench Approves Rules Drafted by Commission.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—Without a dissenting vote, the Missouri Supreme Court en banc today adopted a report of an 11-member commission of attorneys, headed by former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield of St. Louis, recommending strict regulation of the law profession in the state.

The report of the commission, made a month ago, was adopted with only one change. The entire court voted to increase the fee for taking the state bar examinations from $10 to $25.

The report, made after a six-month study of the best methods for regulating the practice of law in the state, recommended the appointment of a state judicial council and a bar committee in each of the judicial circuits of the state to regulate the legal profession.

The report of the commission recommended raising of the requirements as to training of applicants for admission to the bar, and independent investigations as to the character of applicants "to eliminate at the source many of those not fit to become lawyers."

It is expected that the report of the commission will soon be made a permanent rule of the court.

HOUSE PASSES BILL CREATING RAIL LABOR DISPUTES BOARD

Measure, Which Also Prohibits Carriers From Influencing Unions, Is Sent to Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Crocker bill to establish a national adjustment board to hear railway labor grievances was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure is designed to promote peace between carriers and workers and to prevent interruption of rail transportation. It prohibits carriers from influencing workers' organizations and outlaws contracts forbidding workers from joining labor organizations.

It provides that in the event the adjustment board fails to reach an agreement on a dispute over wages, working conditions or contracts the Board of Mediation shall appoint an umpire.

GREEN OFFERS BOARD PLAN TO PREVENT STEEL STRIKE

A. F. of L. President Suggests "Impartial Group" to Be Named by Roosevelt at Workers' Pittsburgh Convention.

REPUBLICANS SEEK LABOR BILL CHANGES

Substitute for Wagner Measure Runs Into Objections—White House Conference With Senate Leader on Situation.

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 15.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today proposed to the special convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers' Union the appointment by President Roosevelt of a board of arbitration to handle all collective bargaining disputes in the steel industry.

The convention was called to take final action on a proposed steel strike tentatively set for tomorrow to force recognition from the operators.

Green termed his offer a "counter proposal" to the revised Wagner labor control bill submitted to Congress and the industry by President Roosevelt in a move to avert the strike.

Green's plea to the convention ended with these words: "I want to insist that you adopt this proposal."

Some union delegates later said they interpreted this statement as a possible ultimatum to the workers not to strike. The strike, if voted, according to previous decision, would go into effect tomorrow.

Immediately after Green's address in which he submitted his plan, the convention went into executive session.

Gist of Green's Proposal.

The gist of Green's plan is contained in four points:

1.—An impartial board of three, appointed by the President, to adjust all violations of code; to mediate and conciliate any dispute; to offer its services as arbitrator, and with authority to determine any matter of discrimination or discharge of any employee.

2.—Give the workers the right to organize freely, clothing the board with power to hold elections under its supervision.

3.—All grievances or complaints to be referred to the board for final decision.

4.—If accepted by all parties, the strike in the steel industry to be called off.

The plan differs from President Roosevelt's plan in several particulars, notably that the majority vote would prevail in collective bargaining elections by the employees. Under the President's plan, the employees might be split into two or more factions.

The labor president pledged the union the "unreserved support" of the Federation "in any necessary future action to force recognition on the steel corporations." He described President Roosevelt's latest labor control plan as "a thing designed to perpetuate company unions" and told the union delegates they were right in not accepting it.

Advice of an Old Miner.

Green told the steel workers he had spent 30 years in the coal mines as a member of the United Mine Workers of America—"an organization with a record not excelled by any other in the world"—and that he came "as a miner speaking to the steel workers. Think of me not as president of the American Federation of Labor, but as a miner who recalls years of hard work in the mines."

"I know what it is to go starving; what it is to go through 18 months of strike and to taste the bitter drags of defeat. I am sure I can speak to you in man-fashion, counseling together in a great crisis which affects not only the steel industry but the entire labor movement as well."

Green said there was "no more autocratic, dictatorial, unreasonable group in America" than those who "represent the steel corporations. But we cannot let them choose our battlefield nor the way our battle is to be fought. We must use strategy, meet issue with issue, conduct ourselves so we can get public opinion behind us."

"If I followed my feelings, I would take one course, but when I consult with supporters of the present

MRS. DALL EXPECTED TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

President's Daughter, Separated From Husband, Leaves Home at Reno.

By the Associated Press. RENO, Nev., June 15.—Mrs. Anna Curtis Dall, daughter of President Roosevelt, is establishing residence here, and it was assumed divorce proceedings were in prospect. Mrs. Dall has leased a home at Lake Tahoe.

She has been separated from her husband for more than a year. With her two children, "Satie" and "Buzzie," she has lived at the White House during the last year. It is understood Mrs. Dall is en route to this city. She left Washington yesterday with her children.

Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, the only daughter of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, was married to Curtis E. Dall at Hyde Park, N. Y., in June, 1928. For their wedding trip they went to Europe for three months.

The first news of marital difficulties was in January, when the Social Register's "divisive domiciles" pamphlet listed separate addresses for the two.

Dall's address was listed as Panache, an estate in North Tarrytown, N. Y. Mrs. Dall's address was given as the White House. Previously it had been noted that Dall did not visit the White House.

Dall formerly was a partner in an investment banking firm, in charge of its New York office. In December, 1932, he announced that he would become an independent commission broker.

Shortly after the Roosevelts entered the White House, Elliott Roosevelt, a son, established residence at Lake Tahoe and was divorced by Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt of Philadelphia at Minden, Nev., on her cross complaint, which he did not contest. A few days later, in Davenport, Ia., he married Miss Ruth Googins of Fort Worth, Tex.

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Daughter's Destination Is Undecided.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today her daughter had gone to Nevada with her two children. Mrs. Roosevelt said that when Mrs. Dall left here she was not certain at what town she would stop.

SECRETLY WED

MRS. JOHN R. MCCLAIN.

SECRET MARRIAGE OF YOUNG SALESMAN AND EX-STUDENT

John R. McLain and Miss Virginia Hauk Wed April 14.

The secret marriage of Miss Virginia Hauk, 19-year-old former student of Clayton High School, to John R. McLain, 5233 Plymouth avenue, at Waterloo, Ill., on April 14, became known today.

Mrs. McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard R. Hauk of 7727 Country Club court, Clayton, was to have been graduated from high school at the end of this term but left school early in March. McLain, 20 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. McLain, of the Plymouth avenue address. He attended St. Louis-University High School, graduating two years ago. He is a salesman for the General Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain have been making their home with the bride's parents for the last week.

It was thought it was just a publicity case—that the whole thing would flare up and die out. Judge Tipton is certain that his sister is innocent as she strongly maintains.

"So I went out to Clayton, I think the day the first grand jury was called, not thinking it was serious. You don't need to tell me now that it is. That's the reason I later advised Judge Tipton to hire Verne Lacy or Sig Bass or Larry McDonald or somebody who knew more about the criminal side of the law than I do."

"Well, anyway, I went out there the day the grand jury was charged and again the day bond was set. To tell you the truth, I was surprised to find they were going to put anybody in jail. I talked to Anderson (County Prosecuting Attorney), but I'm sure I had no influence in obtaining the bond for Mrs. Muench, as they apparently had determined on their course of action long before I got there."

Expected to Defend Mrs. Muench.

"All this time, you see, there was a sort of an understanding that I would represent Mrs. Muench at the trial. It was felt that it would be better to keep her case on sort of a different plane—that is, instead of being represented by a criminal lawyer to have a lawyer in civil practice for her, and I was going to do it. Why, I don't know anything about the criminal law. There's even a lot of the legal terminology I don't know the meaning of."

"I was amazed when this fellow Johnson was killed. That was a terrible thing. I remember when I was out at the Clayton Courthouse, I think it was when the grand jury was charged, somebody—I don't remember who—came up to me and said: 'Did you hear the nigger had peached?' and I said: 'Is that so?' and went on and didn't think any more about it."

Did Not Go in for Fee.

"It was about four weeks ago I talked with Judge Tipton and Waechter here in my office, and told them that I thought I ought to get out and competent criminal counsel should be hired and they saw it my way and I have been out of the case ever since. Waechter's position in the matter is the same as mine."

"No, of course, I wasn't in for a fee. If you come to me for work on something in my line, you'll pay at the same rate as anybody else, but when somebody asks me to do something that isn't my specialty, why, that's a favor for a friend."

Soon thereafter, Verne R. C. Lacy, attorney with a wide criminal practice, was employed to represent Mrs. Muench. Lacy, whose trial on a charge of corrupting a juror in the first trial of Paul Richards, disbarred attorney, for the kidnapping of the late Alexander Berg, is set for Monday in Circuit Court, also represents Mrs. Muench's co-defendants, David and McDonald. McDonald was brought here for trial from the Jefferson City penitentiary, where he is serving a term for robbery in connection with the attempted kidnapping of Oscar Johnson, wealthy president of the St. Louis Symphony Society, on Aug. 3, 1933, less than four months after the Kelley kidnapping.

MOTION FOR DIRECTED VERDICT OVERRULED

Effort to Show State Was Not Defrauded as 'Confidential Investigators' Gave Service.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15.—The case against Hiram L. Williamson, former Illinois State Superintendent of Printing, and his former chief clerk, Miss Nello A. Machin, will go to the jury in the Sangamon County Circuit Court here, at the close of arguments today.

The two defendants are charged with conspiracy to defraud the State by diverting its funds in connection with their participation in arrangements to pay $7000 in salaries to two "confidential investigators" on the payroll of Oscar E. Carlstrom, former Republican Attorney-General. The investigators were on the payroll under names not their own.

Defense counsel Arthur M. Fitzgerald did not attempt to disprove that the two investigators received salaries of $150 a month. In arguing a motion for a directed verdict of not guilty, which was overruled by Judge Victor Hendricks, Fitzgerald said the State's testimony failed to prove any intent of the defendants to conspire, and he contended the evidence showed the State was not defrauded, since services had been given by the investigators for their pay.

Defendants Do Not Testify.

The defendants did not testify. The defense closed its case with 11 character witnesses, including public officials, professional men, business men and ministers of Springfield, who testified to the good reputations of Williamson and Miss Machin.

One of his duties he said was an inquiry at the Moline State Trust & Savings Bank, which went into receivership, and where the State Savings Bank of Alton, of which Carlstrom is a director, had $40,000 on deposit. He said Carlstrom's position as director had nothing to do with his inquiry.

When he began employment as bank investigator, he told the State special prosecutors, John J. Neiger and Walker Butler, eight of the 13 banks in Mercer County were closed and two others closed during the period of his employment. He said he was trying to determine for Carlstrom what banks could be kept open and those that might be reopened.

Carlstrom had testified the services of both the investigators for the State were adequate for the pay they received, and denied the State was defrauded.

The penalty on conviction is not more than $2000 fine and one to two years in prison or jail.

LONDON WAITRESS TIES UP
CARNER'S SHARE OF PURSE

Woman Has $15,000 Breach of Promise Judgment Against Fighter.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 15.—Miss Emelia Tersini, young waitress saw to it that Primo Carnara collected none of the proceeds for the battering he took last night.

New York lawyers at the instance of Miss Tersini tied up Carnara's share of the proceeds, since the recent heavyweight champion for some months has owed her $15,000 and was awarded in a breach of promise suit.

Miss Tersini, although of Italian descent, is an English subject and was born in this country. She won her suit in July, 1933. Among letters from Primo read at the trial was one saying, "you can live tranquilly because I will not have another girl but you. They are all an aversion to me. They frighten me, all but you. You will be my wife before a year."

The warrants for Petrie under the name "A. L. Justin" were exchanged for bank drafts in Petrie's name, according to State witnesses, and the drafts for both investigators.

Pay warrants for Blazer were taken by messenger from the Attorney-General's office to Williamson's office, where they were given by Miss Machin to Nello Hatfield, according to State witnesses, who took them home to be indorsed by her sister, Cora. Nello Hatfield said that at first she cashed them and put the cash on Miss Machin's desk and later put the indorsed pay warrants on the chief clerk's desk. The arrangement was made by Williamson, she said, and she participated unwillingly.

Twins Share College Award

MARY and MARTHA DAVIDSON of Petersburg, Ind., have been chosen "the most outstanding girls" in the senior class of Indiana State Teachers' College at Terre Haute. The award is made on a basis of character, scholarship, leadership and general worth. The girls also serve as joint president of Pi Gamma Mu. A separation is in sight, however, as they soon will draw straws to see which will accept the one teaching position open in their home town.

C. OF C. SEEKS REGIONAL HOME
LOAN OFFICE FOR ST. LOUIS

John H. Fahey, Head of Corporation, Says Study of Territory Will Be Made.

Efforts to obtain a regional office of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation for St. Louis are being made by the Chamber of Commerce city officials and other business groups. Such offices have been established in Boston, New York and San Francisco.

John H. Fahey, chairman of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, told the Chamber's representative in Washington that a thorough study would be made before any regional office for the Midwest was selected.

Telegrams urging selection of St. Louis have been sent to Fahey, Senator Clark and Congressman Cochran. Clark and Cochran were asked to impress on officials of the corporation that the territory accessible to St. Louis by overnight travel is the largest of any city in the country.

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN RIVER

The body of Ernest Winter, 70-year-old laborer, was found in the Mississippi River at Jefferson Barracks yesterday. He had been missing since Tuesday.

The body was identified by Andrew Guth, florist, who employed Winter at his shop at 2835 Nebraska avenue. Guth said Winter believed himself suffering from cancer. Guth knows of no relatives.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAPTURED AFTER KIDNAPING 3 MEN

Texas Fugitive Arrested at St. Joseph, Mo., Following Release of Victims He Seized in Iowa.

700-MILE RIDE
IN TWO AUTOS

Policeman, Forced to Ride in Rear Compartment—Prisoners Given No Food
on All-Night Trip.

By the Associated Press.
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 15.—
Three Iowa men who were held prisoners for about 18 hours by an escaped Texas convict were released here early today. The ab-ductor was captured 15 minutes later.

The three men were Elmer Schleuter, Davenport (Ia.) policeman; Al Schultze, secretary-treasurer of the Davenport Baseball Club, and Dr. W. H. Fitch, Walcott (Ia.) veterinarian. A widespread search had been made for them by Federal agents and posse.

The abductor was identified by police as Joe Palmer, 32 years old, who with four other men escaped from the Eastham (Tex.) prison farm last Feb. 16 after killing a guard.

Sherman B. Winder and Ernest Deal, St. Joseph policemen, captured Palmer on highway No. 71, 10 blocks from where he had released
the three, heading toward Kansas City on foot, with a sack of food in one hand, a $1 bill in another and a pistol in each hip pocket.
Palmer told the officers he hoped to steal another car.

Schultze said he thought Palmer's motive in kidnaping the three was to escape identification. He quoted Palmer as saying he wished to get to St. Joseph for he had "connections" there.

How Men Were Seized.
The kidnaping of Schultze and Schleuter took place in front of the Western League Baseball Park
at Davenport yesterday.

The patrolman approached Palmer to question him. Palmer drew a pistol from his pocket and forced the officer to stop. When Schultze approached in his automobile, Palmer forced the policeman into it and ordered Schultze to drive on.

Palmer complained about the condition of the car and near Walcott, stopped Dr. Fitch and com-mandered his coupe. He forced the officer into the rear compartment of the coupe and ordered Dr. Fitch and Schultze to take turns at driving.

"We zigzagged here and there," Schultze said. "We traveled all the time. We must have gone at least 700 miles. Once Palmer stopped to buy himself a candy bar, but bought no food for us."

"Palmer never really got rough with us, in fact, we gave him no reason to."

"The doctor made a hit with him, but he didn't like me because I was a friend of the policeman—and he said he hated cops."

"He and the doctor talked about the medical profession and got real chummy on the subject."

Release of Prisoners.

When the kidnaping and his victims arrived here, Palmer said he would let the three men have the car, if they would promise to go back to Davenport. When Palmer started off walking, the men reported the kidnaping to police.

Patrolman Schleuter said he nearly suffocated in the cramped compartment of the coupe on the long ride. While the prisoners received no food during the drive, Palmer provided them with cigars and cigarettes.

Palmer robbed Dr. Fitch of $185, but overlooked a roll of $300 in bills which he carried. When the three were released, Palmer handed Fitch $15 for expenses back to Walcott.
Schultze was robbed of $93 and Schleuter of $1.

Palmer talked freely about himself after his arrest. Police Capt.
J. E. Kelley quoted him as saying he was the man who killed the guard in the break from the Texas Prison Farm, a crime for which Raymond Hamilton, one-time partner of the late Clyde Barrow, now faces the death penalty. Hamilton was convicted of murder Wednesday. During his trial the defense sought to blame Palmer.

Palmer said the two pistols which he carried were smuggled to him at the prison farm by Barrow, who is credited with having engineered the break.

ED MAYS ACCEPTS SERVICE IN RENT

Sheriff's Watchman Placed Duty in Four-Story House Apartment

A Sheriff's watchman was placed in the four-story penthouse apartment of Ed Mays on top of Continental Life Building. The
Mays, a former head of the Continental Life Insurance Co., recently lost control of the company and served with notice of attachment of his furniture and personal belongings. The attachment was made in connection with a suit for back rent filed against Mays by State Superintendent of Insurance O'Malley.

Having failed to find
Mays when they first called,
Deputy Sheriffs Walter
Beard and John Gish, chief execution officer, returned at 10:10 a. m. today
to open the door.

Mays opened the door.
Mueller introduced himself: "Mr. Mays, I'm here to serve you with this writ."

Mays said: "All right," and a photograph was taken behind the deputies in the small lobby, and attempted to enter the door.

Mueller put his foot in the way, preventing him. Mays told the deputies to come in.

Attorneys for O'Malley sought an eviction suit against Justice of the Peace Walker.

It was set for June 22.
"I don't know what I'll do," Mays said. "I'll have to see an attorney. I don't owe the Continental Life Insurance Company anything. They owe me for rent."

The suit for the rent was filed in the September term of Court. If Mays wants to quit the Sheriff's watchman
some while the suit is pending, he will have to post a bond for the amount of the sum claimed in the suit. O'Malley posted a bond when he filed the suit.

ED MAYS ACCEPTS SERVICE IN RENT SUIT

Sheriff's Watchman Placed on Duty in Four-Story Penthouse Apartment.

A Sheriff's watchman was placed in the four-story penthouse apartment of Ed Mays on top of the Continental Life Building today after Mays, a former banker, who recently lost control of the Continental Life Insurance Co., was served with notice of attachment of his furniture and personal belongings. The attachment was in connection with a suit for $18,000 back rent filed against him yesterday by State Superintendent of Insurance O'Malley.

Having failed to find Mays at home when they first called yesterday, Deputy Sheriffs Walter Mueller, Frank Beard and John P. English, chief execution officer, returned at 10:10 a. m. today.

Mays opened the door, which is on the twenty-first floor.

Mueller introduced himself, and said: "Mr. Mays, I'm going to serve you with this writ."

Mays said: "All right," then saw reporters and a photographer standing behind the deputies in the small lobby, and attempted to slam the door.

Mueller put his foot in the doorway, preventing him. Mays then told the deputies to come inside.

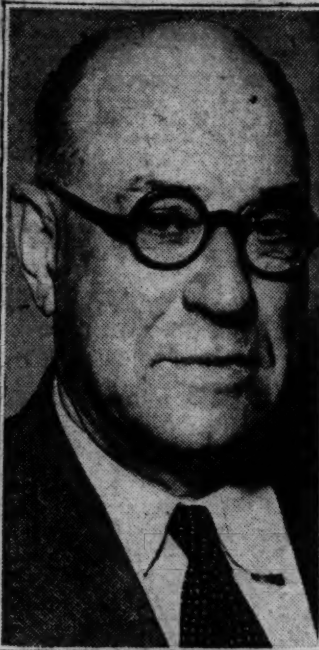

Attorneys for O'Malley also filed an eviction suit against Mays in Justice of the Peace Walker's court.

"I don't know what I'll do," Mays said. "I'll have to see an attorney."

"I do know I don't owe the Continental Life Insurance Company a dime. They owe me for back salary."

The suit for the rent was set for the September term of Circuit Court. If Mays wants to get rid of the Sheriff's watchman at his home while the suit is pending, he will have to post a bond for twice the amount of the sum claimed in the suit. O'Malley posted a similar bond when he filed the suit.

Running Against Schmoll

—By a Post-Dispatch staff photographer.
J. LOUIS BOEHL.

OLD FRIEND SCHMOLL'S ONLY G. O. P. OPPONENT

J. Louis Boehl 'Nice Fellow' but Won't Get Far in Primary, Circuit Clerk Says.

An old acquaintance and neighbor is the sole opponent of John Schmoll for the Republican nomination for Circuit Clerk, an office Schmoll has held since 1923. He is J. Louis Boehl, 3656 Humphrey street. Schmoll, who is seeking a fourth four-year term, lives at 3628 Utah place, a block away.

"Schmoll and I are good friends," said Boehl today in a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I've known him many years. I'm not going to attack him in the campaign, for he is a fair, square, upright man. I couldn't say anything against him and he couldn't say anything against me. I'll just say he's been in office a long time and it's time he stepped out."

Nearly 40 years ago, Boehl recalled, Schmoll wanted him to run for the old House of Delegates, but he declined. Boehl never ran for office before, but was president of the Thirteenth Ward Republican Club for two months about 10 years ago. He says politicians wanted him to run for the Republican committee in 1930 but he refused.

Says Friends Drafted Him. Boehl said he was drafted by South Side friends to oppose Schmoll, principally by Louis F. Yeckel, by whose real estate firm, Yeckel, Farickson & Co., Boehl is employed as a salesman. Boehl also is a director of the American Home Building & Loan Association.

Schmoll's supporters have heard that Boehl was brought into the race by Richard E. Gruner, Twenty-fifth Ward Republican committeeman and former Chairman of the City Committee. Gruner denies this and denies reports that he has a slate of candidates to oppose veteran incumbents seeking renomination. Boehl filed his candidacy at 4 p. m. last Friday, eight hours before filing time ended.

Opposition in the primary is not worrying Schmoll, who also believes the Republicans have a good chance to win the November election. Calling Boehl a "nice fellow," Schmoll asserted his opponent would not get far on a platform of throwing out a veteran officeholder. "He has tried to run for office a good many years, but never filed before," Schmoll remarked, without rancor. Vote-getting, in Schmoll's opinion, is a matter of hard work and long acquaintance with the voters, as well as a good record.

Boehl, who is 69 years old, has a son and three daughters. He is the son of the late Emil Boehl, a well-known St. Louis photographer of years ago. For 39 years Boehl has lived in the vicinity of Grand boulevard and Arsenal street. He got the gas company to extend its mains to this section through selling gas stoves to the people at his hardware store. He played an active part in obtaining the Fanning School and in forming the old Farmers' and Merchants' Trust Co. He also was in the furniture moving and storage business in the Grand-Gravois section. Schmoll, whose career here began as a bricklayer, long has been an influential Republican leader.

He helped draft the present City Charter and was director of Public Welfare under Mayor Kiel, 1917-21. He was an organizer of the Tower Grove Bank and its president for 10 years.

ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT'S NEW JOB
Vice-President of Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.
NEW YORK, June 15. — Elliott Roosevelt, 23-year-old son of the President, has a new job—vice-president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America. He will devote his full time to the position, said the Chamber's announcement of his selection, made at a meeting of the organization's board of governors last night.
Young Roosevelt has been an officer of advertising agencies, a rancher, vice-president of an airline and an aviation editor since his graduation from the Hun Preparatory School, Princeton, N. J., in 1930. He is now in Fort Worth, Tex., with his wife, the former Ruth Googins, and their month-old daughter, visiting his wife's family.

CANVASS SHOWS HOW NEW LEISURE IS SPENT

Home Activities Preferred by Many White Large Groups Seek Exercise and Education.

A study of the desires of St. Louisans for improvement of their leisure time has been made for the Board of Education, in recognition of the new leisure given many persons whose working hours have been shortened and the enforced leisure of the unemployed.
A canvass was made in nine districts of the city, representative of all sections but the West End, the far South Side and the southwest. Replies were listed from 12,422 white persons and 2363 Negroes. Answers from about 2000 more remain to be tabulated. Inquiries were not made of persons under 16, those now attending school or college or others not primarily concerned with the problem of spare time. The results are available for the use of schools, universities, social agencies or others.

Some of Results.
Of the white persons listed, 2942 want physical recreation; for their leisure, 2818 want informal general education, 3625 want some form of home activities, 3413 want to prepare themselves for employment and 2624 to better prepare themselves for the work they are in. There are 1104 desiring instruction leading to high school credits and 485 seek college credits.
Evening is the most generally available leisure period, being specified by 8245, while 2577 preferred daytime and 1010 Saturdays. It was found that 6231, or slightly more than half of those listed, use the Public Library, and 3015 have attended evening or other instructional classes in the last year.
Findings among the Negroes are divided as follows: Physical recreation wanted, 302; informal general education sought, 944; home activities preferred, 994; preparation for jobs designated, 690, and for improvement in job, 358; high school credits sought, 287, and college, 75; evening leisure, 1664; daytime, 562; Saturdays, 245; those who use Public Library, 878; those who have attended evening and other classes in the last year, 687.

Findings Sub-Divided.
The results, which are believed by those in charge of the inquiry to represent a fair cross section of the city's population, are divided by sex as well as by race, by various age groups and by employment status—gainful or non-gainful employment, or unemployment. In each of the employment groups, the figures show how many of the subjects finished or failed to finish grade school and how many attended high school or college.
Employed gainfully were 5145 white persons and 651 Negroes; employed not gainfully, including housewives, 4260 white and 532 Negroes, out of work, 3027 white and 830 Negroes. Thus 24 per cent of the white residents and 37 per cent of the Negroes questioned are unemployed.
It was intended when the survey was authorized by the Board of Education last month to canvass about 50,000 citizens. The inquiry was resumed today, women assigned through the relief administration being used as canvassers. Philip J. Hickey, representing the Board of Education, directed the study, which was under immediate charge of Logan Fuller, supervisor of adult education for the State Superintendent of Schools.

POLL SHOWS 47 STATES APPROVE OF ROOSEVELT

Vermont Only One to Express Dissatisfaction in Literary Digest Tabulation.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, June 15. — A majority of "yes" answers in each of 47 states is shown in the fifth weekly tabulation of the Literary Digest's poll on the question, "Do you approve of the whole the acts and policies of Roosevelt's first year?" while one state—Vermont—continued in the "no" column. The totals showed 534,804 "yes" votes against 340,569 "no" votes. The favorable ballots were 61.09 per cent of the total.

A special tabulation of the poll among bankers showed 11,275 "yes" against 10,045 "no" returns but the magazine stated that bankers in Southern States favored the administration. Combined returns from seven universities totaled 5201 "yes" and 3004 "no" votes.

The tabulation by states was:

TO REPLACE 4 3-4 PCT. BONDS WITH 4 PCT. LAND BANK ISSUE

Farm Credit Administration Expects to Save $985,000 a Year in Interest.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 15. — The Farm Credit Administration has announced that $131,381,000 in Federal Land Bank 4½ per cent bonds would be called on July 1 and replaced with 4 per cent bonds, thus effecting a saving. The 12 Federal Land banks have provided funds for retiring the bonds.

At the same time a new 4 per cent issue of consolidated Federal Land Bank bonds will be offered at a premium by seven bond firms in New York, Boston and Baltimore. They will mature in 12 years and will be called in 10 years. They will carry the same tax exemption as the called bonds.

A saving of approximately $985,000 per year in interest payments by the Government was predicted. The bonds called were $43,284,360 dated July 1, 1923, and due July 1, 1935; $38,789,200 dated Jan. 1, 1924, due Jan. 1, 1934, and $32,308,280 dated July 1, 1924, due July 1, 1934.

DRIVER INDICTED ON CHARGE OF LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT

Gordon Gundaker Accused in Death of John Ano, Roofer.

An indictment charging Gordon Gundaker, 28-year-old draftsman, of Vinita Park, with leaving the scene of an accident was voted yesterday by the grand jury.

The charge grew out of the fatal injury of John Ano, 71, a roofer, who was struck by an automobile on Easton avenue, near the city limits, June 6. The driver left the scene, but was overtaken by another motorist. A coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness was returned against Gundaker.

PH. D. RATINGS GIVEN 11 WASHINGTON U. DEPARTMENTS

American Council of Education Certifies to Qualifications for Graduate Courses.

Eleven Washington University departments have been certified by the American Council of Education as qualified to offer graduate courses for the degree of Ph. D., and one, the Department of Botany, has received distinguished rating. The departments are bacteriology, botany, classics, genetics, German, human nutrition, physics, plant pathology, plant physiology, sociology and zoology.

The university ranks among the first 25 in the country in number of divisions approved. Of the 77 educational institutions offering Ph. D. degrees, only 63 were considered qualified in any department. The qualification was on the basis of a survey in which more than 2000 college teachers participated.

CHECKUP ON ARMS SMALL LOAN BILL ABOUT TO BE SENT REPORTED OUT BY TO THE CHACO WAR HOUSE COMMITTEE

Justice Department Calls for Data on $600,000 Worth of Munitions Sold in U. S. to Bolivia.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Department of Justice is investigating $600,000 worth of war munitions now on the docks in New York and Norfolk, Va., for shipment to Bolivia.

The investigation is being made to determine whether the munitions were sold before or after 6:30 p. m., May 28, at which time President Roosevelt's proclamation stopping the sale of arms and munitions for use by Bolivia or Paraguay, went into effect. If title for the goods had passed prior to that time the shipments will be allowed to move on for the Chaco war front; if title had not passed at that time the Justice Department probably will seize the goods and proceed with criminal charges against the sellers. Two years' imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, for each violation is the penalty provided in the law authorizing the presidential order.

The shipments, made by four or five American companies, include mortars, aerial bombs, and special trucks for military use.

The Department of Justice has called on the manufacturers for their contract terms of sales and all pertinent papers to the transactions.

In one of the cases, officials believe title had passed at the time of the order. The check-up on the others, however, has not progressed to the point where an opinion could be expressed.

The transactions under scrutiny were reported by the Treasury. They are understood to be the only known cases of munitions sold to either of the Chaco belligerents since the recent act shut off American-made armaments from those countries.

Cousin of Roosevelt Dies.
SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., June 15.—Allerton Delano Hitch, cousin of President Roosevelt, died at his home here yesterday after a lingering illness. He was 69 years old. Born in Brazil, he was a member of a New York import-export firm doing business largely with South America.

Amended Senate Measure to Establish Federal Credit Union System Throughout Nation Approved.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—A telephone call from the White House sent the House Banking Committee into hurried session yesterday and brought from it a favorable report on legislation designed to help individuals get small loans at low interest rates.

Unanimously, the committee approved an amended Senate bill to establish a Federal credit union system throughout the nation. Chairman Steagall (Dem.), Alabama, was authorized to take whatever steps he thought necessary to get the measure through the House.

The bill would let any seven or more persons swear out an organization certificate for the creation of a Federal credit union. Its shares would have a par value of $5 each, and its life would be unlimited.

The certificate then would be presented to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, and on his approval a charter would be issued. Each year the credit union would pay not more than $10 to the Farm Credit Administration Governor, and would make such financial reports as he directed.

The union could make two-year loans to its members at interest rates of not more than 1 per cent a month. Membership would be granted on the subscription to one share of stock and the membership fee, but would be limited to persons closely associated in business or home life—the employees in one office, for instance.

Each union would be managed by a board of five directors, a credit committee of three and a supervisory committee of three. Loans could not be for more than $50 without security or for more than $200 or 10 per cent of the paid-in capital, whichever was greater, with security. Each year dividends would have to be declared and each credit union could be called on to act as a fiscal agent of the Treasury, if called on to do so. The unions would be subject to the same taxes as those levied on domestic corporations.

7-Time Arizona Governor Runs Again.

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 15.—George W. P. Hunt, seven times Governor of Arizona, announced yesterday his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for an eighth term. Three other men seek the Democratic nomination in the Sept. 11 primary. One of them is the present Governor, B. B. McMur.

GRACE ABBOTT QUILTS CHILDREN'S BUREAU

Woman in Federal Post 13 Years, to Become Professor at Chicago U.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 15. — Miss Grace Abbott, for 13 years chief of the Children's Bureau and a Federal child welfare worker under five Presidents, has announced her resignation, effective July 1.

She will go to the University of Chicago as professor of public welfare administration—back to the city where, at Hull House, she started her career. She will be fellow faculty member with her sister, Miss Edith Abbott, dean of the graduate school of social service administration. She will also edit
the Social Service Review.

Miss Abbott yesterday said goodbye to her staff, and called them
"courageous, forward-looking, always in the front line in standing up for the children." She left today for Grand Island, Neb., where her father is seriously ill.

Proposed for Cabinet Post.

A poll conducted in 1931 by a woman's magazine placed her among America's 12 most distinguished women for her efforts against infant and maternal mortality; child labor; juvenile delinquency. In the last administration, she was proposed for Secretary of Labor.

In resigning, Miss Abbott said:
"One of the great satisfactions which has come to me during my service in the Children's Bureau has been the appointment of my old friend, Miss Frances Perkins, as Secretary of Labor."

"It is with confidence that the work of the Children's Bureau will have the most sympathetic understanding and support that I now leave to resume an academic career."

Named Bureau Chief by Harding.

Under President Wilson, Miss Abbott came to the capital to administer the child labor law. It was declared unconstitutional, but she remained as secretary of the Child Welfare Conference conducting a children's year campaign.

President Harding appointed her Children's Bureau chief in 1921, a position she had held under succeeding chief executives.

Nebraska-born, Miss Abbott finished at the university of her State, got her master's degree in political science and studied law in the University of Chicago. She entered on a public career when Gov. Frank Lowden made her executive secretary of the Illinois Immigrant Commission.

GETS LIFE FOR KILLING GIRL

Young Chauffeur Found Guilty of Murder in Los Angeles.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 15.—
Charles Johnston, young chauffeur, was convicted yesterday of the murder of his former fiancée, Dorothy Smith, 18 years old, Monrovia

The jury voted life imprisonment, which makes it mandatory for the court to give that term when Johnston appears Monday for sentence.

EXCESS FUNDS AT NEW PEAK IN FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

Member Depositories' Balances
Wednesday $3,895,108,000, or $1-$90,000,000 Above Requirements.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Heavy Treasury expenditure of deposit balances and free gold sent the excess funds of Federal Reserve member banks to a new peak on Wednesday, this week's Federal Reserve statement reveals. Total reserve balances of member banks rose to a new high mark at $3-$89,108,000, or about $1,800,000,000 above the amount needed for legal deposit reserve.

The Treasury spent about $51-000,000 of its free gold stocks by issuing gold certificates to the Reserve banks and using the proceeds for general purposes. In addition, the Treasury drew down its cash balances at the Reserve banks by a further $28,000,000. The disbursement of these funds increased the balances of commercial banks by creating new private deposits to that amount.

Increase of $30,000,000 in the monetary gold stocks of the country was another factor in adding to bank reserves, while a decrease of $29,000,000 in money in circulation added still more to the inflow of

TELLS JEWS TO FORGET HITLER

WERNERSVILLE, Pa., June 15.
—Dr. Samuel H. Goldensohn, president of the Central Conference of American Reformed Rabbis, told the conference yesterday that repeated denunciation of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and his Jew-baiting Nazis was largely a waste of time.

He urged his fellow Jews to "keep some reserve strength for the more useful task of understanding the causes of the world confusion" and
"remove as far as possible the forces that threaten the stability of our social order." He said: "The most certain protection of any minority group comes from its participation in and the promotion of every just cause."

QUICK 'DIDN'T WANT' TO SHOOT MCCARTHY

Testifies "I Fired Only After He Shot at Me"; Gular Denies Being Armed.

"I didn't want to shoot him. I didn't want to shoot anybody. I fired only after he shot at me." This was the testimony yesterday of Leo W. Quick, business agent of the East St. Louis Boiler Workers' Union, in his trial at Bellevue on a charge of assault with intent to kill, in connection with the wounding of Frank McCarthy, president of the East St. Louis Structural Steel and Iron Workers' Union, during a labor dispute last Oct. 10.

McCarthy had testified Quick made an unprovoked attack on him in front of the East St. Louis Labor Temple, after a meeting at which a futile attempt had been made to settle a controversy between the unions over installation of tanks at the Central Brewery.

Gular Makes Denial. Gabriel Gular, a boilermaker, who is charged jointly with Quick, also testified yesterday, denying he had a weapon and corroborating Quick's testimony that McCarthy fired first.

Quick testified he brought a pistol to the meeting because McCarthy had had one earlier in the day and had threatened to kill him.

"On the morning of Oct. 10," Quick testified, "McCarthy and his brother, John, who is business agent of the steel workers, came to the brewery. Frank walked up to my machine and said, cursing, 'I'm here to run the boilermakers off this job. He had a gun then and threatened to kill me.'"

"I next saw him in the hall that evening. I left the meeting shortly after he did. When I got outside he was at the curb and swore at me again. He said, 'I'm going to shoot you right between the eyes.' I said,

"There's no use quarreling over this matter. It can be settled peacefully." He drew his pistol and shoved it in his stomach. I then pulled mine, at the same time knocking his hand down.

"He Fired; I Fired Back." "McCarthy stepped back, remarking, 'You've got me,' but he then fired at me. I fired back at him. He backed away, firing three or four shots in all. I fired twice. He started to run away and bumped into 'Red' Johnson, who took his pistol away from him."

"I drove to Bellevue and surrendered at the County Jail. I didn't want to shoot McCarthy. When he confronted me with his pistol I couldn't turn away because I feared I'd be shot in the back. I saw no other weapons at the scene but his and mine. And nobody grabbed and held him, as he testified. He was under the influence of liquor—that was the first time he had attended a meeting at the Temple for four or five months."

Gular testified he had been at the meeting and was in front of the hall just after the trouble began. He said five to seven shots were fired, but that he had no weapon. Later in the evening, he testified, Quick telephoned him from the jail, advising him to go to Bellevue, as the police were seeking him. This he did, he said, and he was locked up with Quick.

Corroborating Witnesses. Quick's and Gular's accounts were corroborated by eight witnesses, most of them boilermakers, who preceded the defendants to the stand. Frank Kerrigan, a Deputy Sheriff, testified he met Quick earlier on the day of the shooting and that Quick complained McCarthy had "pulled a gun" on him. He saw no weapon on Quick, he said. On two occasions several months before the shooting, Kerrigan testified, McCarthy had told him "if Quick ever fools with me I'll kill him."

The case was expected to go to the jury late today or tomorrow morning.

RICHARD V. CLARK JR. DIVORCED BY WIFE HE MARRIED IN 1933

Maiden Name, Jane Niggeman, Is Restored by Court.

Mrs. Jane Niggeman Clark, 21 years old, was granted a divorce yesterday from Richard V. Clark Jr., whom she married in January, 1933. Her maiden name was restored.

Charging general indignities, Mrs. Clark testified that her husband was indifferent, used abusive language and failed to support her. They separated a month ago, and she now makes her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Niggeman, 6354 Delmar boulevard.

Clark, who is 23, did not contest the suit. Following the marriage he and his bride made a wedding trip to Bermuda and lived for a time at 725 Skinker boulevard. His parents reside at 8234 Westminster place.

GOOD HEALTH CERTIFICATES GIVEN TO 7 OPEN AIR PUPILS

Head of School Committee Says Large Number of Children Await Treatment.

The Tuberculosis and Health Society presented certificates of good health to seven pupils who received their grade school diplomas yesterday afternoon at the Residential Open Air School, 9000 South Broadway.

Those who received the certificates were Christabel Hope, Pearl Johnson, Harriet Carter, Sally Fitzgerald, Dorothy Scheide, Mary Jane Schmittner and Olga Katunar.

Mrs. Arthur Leiber, chairman of the School Committee, reported the number of children waiting for treatment at the school was the largest since July, 1932. At present, she said, the society is caring for twice as many girls as last month.

Accused in Fake Medicine Sale. By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Clarence Baker, 24 years old, a barber, accused by Charles Pozza, 41 years old, of Aurora, Ill., of having forced him to pay $250 for a "skin disease treatment" which Pozza said was plain water, failed to appear in court yesterday to answer the charge of obtaining money under false pretense. Judge William E. Helander ordered his bond of $3000 forfeited and issued a capias for his arrest.

Air Liner Crash Inquiry. By the Associated Press.
KINGSTON, N. Y., June 15.—An inquest into the Last Chance Mountain airplane disaster, in which seven persons were killed, probably would not "get anywhere," District Attorney Cleon D. Murray of Ulster County said today. Murray, into whose hands the investigation was placed yesterday after discovery that the crash occurred barely inside Ulster County, said he was making an inquiry to determine whether he would order an inquest.

REQUESTS DROUTH AID FOR ALL OF MISSOURI

State Relief Director Asks That Every County Be Declared Secondary Area.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—Certification of all Missouri counties as secondary drouth areas was requested of the Federal Department of Agriculture today by Wallace Crossley, State Relief Director.

In a telegram to Secretary Wallace Crossley said that "practically every county in the State is entitled to similar recognition" as that given the 33 North Missouri counties recently certified as a secondary drouth area.

"If all of the 33 North Missouri counties just placed in the secondary drouth area by the Department of Agriculture are entitled to Federal aid," the telegram said, "I must insist, after a careful survey of conditions in rural Missouri, that practically every county in the State is entitled to similar recognition."
"There are a large number of counties South of the Missouri River and in the Southeast and Southwest portions of the State which have been hard hit and until recent rains all vegetation has suffered terribly. Very little grass or stock feed in most counties. Government's biggest help to farmers now would come from prompt payment of corn-hog program checks."

In commenting on the situation, Crossley said that if the 33 counties received Federal aid, all the counties should in order that "the drouth-ridden farmers of one area may not receive relief which is withheld from other counties equally stricken."

STATE ANTI-SALOON HEAD LOSES REFERENDUM APPEAL

Missouri Supreme Court Dismisses P. A. Tate's Action Involving 3.2 Pct. Beer Law.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—The Missouri Supreme Court on banc today dismissed an appeal by P. A. Tate, superintendent of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League, to compel Secretary of State Brown to accept referendum petitions on the Brogan-Roberts 3.2 per cent beer law which was passed by the 1933 General Assembly.

Nearly a year ago, Tate attempted to have the non-intoxicating beer law referred to a vote of the people. Brown refused to accept or file the petitions. On July 26, 1933, Tate applied to the Cole County Circuit Court for an alternative writ of mandamus to compel Brown to accept them. Circuit Judge Nike G. Sevier refused to issue the writ. Tate filed a motion for a new trial, which was overruled on Feb. 5, 1934. On Feb. 15, an appeal was granted to the State Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Frank, who wrote the opinion, held that the appeal should be dismissed because it had not been filed in time. The opinion was concurred in unanimously by the other Judges.

OLD OLYMPIC TURN VEREIN BUILDING BEING TORN DOWN

Structure at 13th and Monroe Streets Was Abandoned by Society 15 Years Ago.

The old Olympic Turn Verein building, at the southeast corner of Thirteenth and Monroe streets, abandoned by the society 15 years ago when it combined with the North St. Louis Turn Verein, is being torn down by its present owner to save taxes, insurance and cost of upkeep.

The two-story brick building, of solid construction and fronting 80 feet on Monroe and 112 on Thirteenth, was built about 50 years ago, when the society was first organized as the Social Turn Verein. Later the organization combined with the West St. Louis Turn Verein and the name changed to Olympic.

The society decided to combine with the North St. Louis body when its membership grew small, owing to the exodus of members from the neighborhood.

William Appel, the present owner, bought the structure at a foreclosure sale five years ago. At that time, and until three years ago, it was occupied by commercial firms. The cost of remodeling would be prohibitive, he said, and he plans to make the site available for a filling station. Taxes on the building were about $220 a year, he said.

COAL LABOR BOARD UPHOLDS CASE OF 8 INDIANA MINERS

Men Allege They Were Discharged Because They Asked Wages Provided Under Code.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Eight former employees of the Armstrong Coal Co. of Indiana, who alleged they were discharged because they asked wages as provided under the bituminous coal industry code, should be re-employed, the Bituminous Coal Labor Board ruled in a decision yesterday.

The men also objected to the collection of 8 per cent of their wages to cover the carrying of compensation insurance. The board ruled the collection of this money was in violation of the code. The board also ruled in the case that the operator was right in asking that only a certain amount of coal be loaded on each coal car.

GANGSTER ARRESTED ON EXTORTION CHARGE

Jerome Crets, Long Sought, Recognized by Detective Sergeants Driving By.

Jerome Crets, Cuckoo gangster sought since last February as one of the extortionists who demanded $2500 from Michael Accardi, bootlegger, was arrested on the street at Broadway and Pine today when Detective Sergeants Al Bean and George Fritche recognized him as they were driving by.

Crets, 38 years old, gave an address in the 5300 block of Conde street. He is named in an indictment with Herman Tipton, reputed head of the Cuckoo gang, and Carl Florida, a member of the gang.

Two others, Norman Godier and James Vincent Griffin, were shot and killed by police who waited in the Accardi home, 5952 Oakhurst place, on the night they returned for the money.

Tipton and Florida have been arrested and released on bond.

John Wilkerson Seriously Injured on Manchester Av.

John Wilkerson, 49 years old, 5103 Manchester avenue, was struck seriously last night when struck by an automobile after alighting from a westbound street car in the 5200 block of Manchester avenue.

The automobile was driven by Richard Farwell, a Negro, of 4280W North Market street. Wilkerson was taken to City Hospital, suffering from a skull injury, internal injuries and a broken left leg.

Immediate Naturalization Hearing Arranged for Pianist So She Can Sail to Study in Italy.

Mrs. Corinne Frederick of Belleville, a well known pianist, recently held to be an alien, is in Washington today to be naturalized so she may sail on schedule June 23 to take advantage of a scholarship to continue her musical studies in Italy.

Hearing of her inability to get a passport because she married Kirk Frederick, a citizen of Denmark, in 1921, friends in Washington intervened in her behalf and arranged for an immediate naturalization hearing.

She had been informed that she could not be naturalized here until an examiner's visit in July, after her scheduled departure.

DECLINES TO SIGN TRUCK CODE
CHICAGO, June 15.—Jack Keeshin, president of the National Highway Freighters' Association, who operates 307 trucks, refused yesterday to sign the truck code, as the deadline for signatures expired.

"I was the first trucker to sign the President's re-employment agreement last summer," he said,
"and I guess I'm the first to withdraw from NRA. It has taken me 21 years to build this business, and I refuse to turn it over to the Federal Compliance Board." He said that under the NRA code his labor costs had increased 22 per cent and his business, "not due to the NRA," 33 per cent, but his revenue per ton was down 12 per cent. He added,
"I'll continue to comply with the NRA."

UTILITY CHANGED BOOKKEEPING AND AVOIDED DEFICIT

Federal Trade Investigator Tells How Electric Bond & Share Continued to Pay Dividends.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—A Federal Trade Commission investigator testified yesterday that the Electric Bond & Share Co. so altered its bookkeeping methods in 1931 and 1932 that what would have been deficits in each year had there been no change, were turned into profits on the books of the company.

Leclair Hoover, commission accountant, said profits from stock sales had been included in earnings for many years up to 1931, but when those stock sales turned into losses in 1931 and 1932 they were not deducted from earnings, by the same method the profits were added.

Instead, he said, they were deducted from surplus so earnings, from which dividends to stockholders are paid, were maintained at a relatively high rate. Hoover gave no explanation for the change of bookkeeping method.

Dr. Thomas W. Mitchell, commission economist, testifying on a pool participated in by Bond & Share's officers and employees, said there was a prospect, which did not develop, that they might have got stock worth $100 or more for only $4 a share.

The plan provided that the officers and employees subscribe to the company's stock for $40 a share by a cash payment of 10 per cent or $4. The stock was priced on the market for $180 at the time—in 1929. The plan did not permit them to sell the stock for seven and one-half years, but any dividends in the form of stock or cash, could be used to pay the balance they owed.

Mitchell estimated that such dividends, had they continued at the 1929 level, would have paid off the balance of $36 a share in four and one-quarter years.

Hoover testified in regard to bookkeeping practices the company's net income in 1931 was shown by the company at $25,050.
084, but it would have been $16, 452,384 had the loss from sales of securities been deducted, as profits previously had been added.

In 1932, he said, the net income would have been $21,193 instead of the $13,886,666 shown by the books.

MISSOURI AND ILLINOIS BOYS TO PARTICIPATE IN PIG SHOW
National Stockyards of East St.
Louis to Sponsor Event Sept.
13-14.

A pig show for students of vocational agriculture in Missouri and Illinois high schools will be held at the National Stockyards Sept. 13 and 14, according to announcement by H. A. Powell, secretary of the St. Louis Livestock Exchange. The first day will be devoted to showing and judging the pigs, the second to a public auction. It is expected that at least 100 schools will participate, with a showing of about 1000 pigs.

Decision to hold the show and sale was reached following the lamb show and sale for vocational students, which closed at the stockyards Friday. Plans were discussed by J. E. Hill, Springfield, Superintendent of Vocational Agriculture for Illinois; C. L. Angerer, Jefferson City, Assistant Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture for Missouri; Secretary Powell and others.

Commission firms and other agencies at this market will provide a premium fund of $800 to $1000, as well as other prizes and an entertainment program. A pig show for Missouri students of vocational agriculture was held at St. Louis market last fall, but entries and attendance were severely reduced by the "sleeping sickness" epidemic and the Federal swine slaughtering campaign under the AAA.

NEW CITY FIRE SQUAD TRUCK HAS LATEST RESCUE DEVICES

Life Gun Shoots Rope Into Windows to Pull Up Hose; Lighting Plant for Dark Buildings.

A new quad truck, equipped with the latest of modern fire fighting and rescue devices, has been purchased by the Fire Department. It is smaller and speedier than the machines formerly used.

Included in the equipment is a life gun, used to shoot a rope through windows in tall buildings in order to raise a hose to the burning floor. There is also a generator capable of supplying enough electricity to illuminate a building in the event the power fails.

Other equipment includes chain blocks, drills, rams to force open doors, axes that cut iron and an acetylene torch. An inhalator and first aid kits also are carried.

Twelve men are being trained to operate the truck, which will be located at the Municipal Service Building. It will answer all downtown alarms of any consequence and major fires throughout the city.

The truck cost $2000, but the cost of the equipment has not been estimated. Funds for its purchase were provided in the new budget on the suggestion of Fire Chief O'Boyle.

BOARD POSTPONES ACTION ON THE MAYOR'S SHOWER

At Request of Dickmann, Bill for Remodeling Office Is

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment, at the suggestion of Mayor Dickmann, a member of the board, has postponed action on the bill to appropriate $23,500 for remodeling the Mayor's office in City Hall.

The Mayor asked merely that the bill be laid over and made no comment. Work planned under the ordinance included installation of a private elevator, a shower room and a cooling system. Republican speakers had commented figure for work required improvements, while Communists denounced it.

The Board of Estimate approved a bill appropriating from bond issue funds $600,883, representing the city's share of unemployment relief
during May, June, July and August. The board recommended that the portion designated for work relief be reduced from 30 to 20 per cent and that the clause "at prevailing wage rates" be stricken out. Board members explained it was their understanding that 20 per cent was the agreed figure for work relief and that, as much of the work would be unskilled labor, it was not necessary to prescribe pay at prevailing rates.

MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS PICK GEN. COLE FOR GOVERNOR

World War Commander Nominated on Third Ballot; Senator Walsh Indorsed.

By the Associated Press.
WORCESTER, Mass., June 15.— Senator David I. Walsh received the unanimous indorsement of his party at a Democratic State convention yesterday and was hailed as the "father of Massachusetts Democracy."

Walsh pleaded for continuous support of President Roosevelt and asserted he was returning to Washington to tell the President "Massachusetts Democracy is behind him to a man."

The convention adopted a platform recommending lower light and power rates, a revision of the judicial system in cooperation with the Federal Government in contributing to unemployment insurance, elimination of the "surplus racket" in the milk business and the taking of land for forest, beach and park developments. The convention condemned lynching and the exhibition of indecent motion pictures.

Gen. Charles H. Cole of Boston, war-time commander of the Fifty-second Brigade of the Twenty-sixth Division, was selected by the convention as candidate for Governor.
Cole defeated James M. Curley, former Boston Mayor, and State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley on the third ballot.

GOV. LANGER JURY STILL OUT

Resumes Deliberations After 12-Hour Session Yesterday.

By the Associated Press.
BISMARCK, N. D., June 15.—Jurors considering the case of Gov.
William Langer and four co-defendants resumed deliberations today.
The jurors, after receiving the case at about noon yesterday, were in session until midnight.

In his instructions, Judge Andrew Miller said the case "involves the question of whether the supreme laws of the United States be carried out honestly or whether they will be interfered with—converted by a corrupt administration of individuals who have to do with the administration of laws." The Government charged the defendant solited funds from Federal relief workers for support of "The Leaders" administration weekly newspaper.

CLARK-MILLIGAN DEMOCRATIC RALLY AT BROOKFIELD, JULY 4

40 Counties to Send Delegations; Senator's First Appearance in Northland

By the Associated Press.
BROOKFIELD, Mo., June 15. — A North Missouri Democratic political rally centering around United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark, St. Louis, and Representative Jacob L. (Tuck) Milligan, Richmond, will be held here July 4. Forty counties north of the Missouri River have accepted invitations to send delegations.

Senator Clark and Representative Milligan, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination as United States Senator, will speak. It will be Clark's first appearance in North Missouri since his election in November, 1932.

Hamp Rothwell, St. Louis, has promised to bring 300 persons. A white mule will be provided for Rothwell in the parade.

U. S. Marshal Quits in Illinois.
WASHINGTON, June 15. — The resignation of Henry C. W. Laubner, United States Marshal for the Northern District of Illinois, was announced today by Attorney General Cummings.

ILLINOIS SEEKS DROUTH AID FOR ALL COUNTIES

Will Endeavor to Obtain Extension of Federal Relief Now Listed for 57 Counties.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15. — Following the addition today of 26 more Illinois counties in the Federal drouth relief area, bringing the total to 57 counties or slightly more than half the State, officials of the Department of Agriculture here continued their efforts to have the entire State included.

As a result of Gov. Henry Horner's recent personal appeal to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, a total of $500,000 in Federal grants has been approved to provide livestock feed and seed for stricken farmers in the 31 counties originally designated by Washington authorities. This is far short, however, for the total needs of the State, it was said.

J. H. Lloyd, assistant director of Agriculture and drouth relief administrator for Illinois, announced he was awaiting official word from Washington regarding distribution of the anticipated $100,000,000 appropriation for developing loan phases of the Federal drouth relief program. Lloyd also estimated that approximately $4,000,000 is required for grants and loans to Illinois farmers who have no means of obtaining livestock feeds and seeds for the month of June alone.

Purchase of 65,000 bushels of soy beans for feed and seed has been completed, Mr. Lloyd said. These supplies are ready to go forward to farmers in the 57 counties from concentration points in Bloomington, Decatur, Chicago and St. Louis. Shipments will be made as rapidly as State drouth relief representatives present requests and estimates of needed amounts.

Counties not yet designated as part of the drouth relief area include the following: Jersey, Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Jackson, Williamson, Saline, Gallatin, Union, Johnson, Pope, Hardin, Alexander, Pulaski, Massac, Perry, Franklin, Hamilton, White, Wabash, Edwards, Wayne, Jefferson, Washington, Clinton, Marion, Clay, Richland, Lawrence, Crawford, Jasper, Effingham, Fayette, Bond, Montgomery, Shelby, Cumberland, Clark, Coles, Moultrie, Douglas, Edgar and Vermilion. Most of these counties lie in Southern Illinois.

Address by Dean Martin.
Associate Dean Frank L. Martin of the Missouri University School of Journalism will address St. Louis alumni of the school at a picnic Sunday at the American Car & Foundry Co. Country Club, Fenton. Those attending the picnic will meet at Lindell boulevard and Kingshighway at 10:30 and go to the grounds in a body.

MILK IS MUNICIPAL MONOPOLY IN ROME

Modern Plant and Use of Bottles Have Displaced Men With Cans.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, June 15.—Wine is giving way to milk on the tables of the Romans owing to the development of the finest milk plant in Europe and one of the best in the world, as Dr. Robert Stanley Breed, milk bacteriologist of Geneva, N. Y., characterized it recently while in this city.

Similar establishments are operating in Milan and Naples. The Rome plant is a municipal monopoly operated by a consortium of 681 milk producers under contract with the Governor of Rome. It is not subject to the law of supply and demand but sets its price in agreement with the producers as to give the producers a fair return on their investment and work. It takes care of the collection of the milk from the producer, the pasteurization, bottling and distribution to the dealers who deliver to the consumer at fixed prices. It gathers milk exclusively from dairy farms built on the reclaimed swampland around Rome.

American tourists who stopped in Rome several years ago saw little hand-propelled milk carts trundled about the streets of the capital by municipal employees. The milkman carried a high-pitched crescent horn. Every 50 feet he would stop and blow it. Windows opened. Down came buckets on strings, with a few copper coins in the bottom of the bucket. The milkman ladled into them the milk called for by the coppers.

Modern Plant. All that is gone. The "Milk Central" as it is called, began to rise. The most modern machinery was installed, the most hygienic methods employed. Inspectors were sent out to instruct milk producers in the latest scientific methods. Systems of check-up on the good or bad performance of the farmers were started.

Residents of Rome then for the first time made the acquaintance of milk bottles. A trip through the milk plant today shows 500 employees, mostly girls, handling the various processes. The sanitary and bacteriological control is rigid. Form letters are sent out if the milk comes in sediment in the cans, if it is deficient in fat content, if it contains too many germs, if it shows that the cows are ill. Three offenses pass with warnings, the fourth brings a fine, and successive offenses may bring suspension.

11.5 Cents a Quart. The total cost of handling the milk, including the amortization of the plant capital in 15 years, is 21 centesimi, or about two cents a quart. Dr. Breed said this was a remarkably low figure. Milk sells in Rome for 1.30 lire, or about 11.5 cents a quart. The immediate effect of the Milk Central has been a decided increase in consumption. Residents are turning from their table wine to milk.

In 1930 cows supplying Rome numbered 16,000. In February of this year there were 23,375. Consumption in the metropolitan area the year before the Milk Central went into operation was 118,061 quarts a day. In the first six months of the fiscal year 1933-34 this rose to 133,200 quarts.

This figure, however, is still low when one considers that the population of Rome is 1,050,000.

The progress realized in Rome is reflected in other Italian cities. Milan has a Milk Central, and in that city the consumption is higher than in the capital.

GETS FOUR-YEAR SENTENCE FOR THREATENING LETTER

Leeper (Mo.) Man Had Demanded $300 of a Rolla Farmer.

Robert Johnson, 33 years old, Leeper, Mo., was sentenced to four years in the reformatory at El Reno, Ok., today by Federal Judge Farris. Johnson was convicted a week ago of sending a threatening letter, demanding $300 from William Moss, a farmer near Rolla. He put his name and return address on the letter.

Philip Orlando, 45, was sentenced to four years at El Reno for possession of merchandise stolen from an interstate shipment. Orlando was convicted last week of having shoes, sheepskin coats and other goods stolen by young Negroes.

Awards in Typography.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The Francis Wayland Ayer Cup was awarded to the New York Herald-Tribune, and certificates of honorable mention were presented by nine other newspapers last night as a result of selections in the fourth exhibition of Newspaper Typography, in which 1486 daily newspapers participated. The presentations were made by Wilfred W. Fry, president of N. W. Ayer & Son, Inc., sponsor of the exhibit. The Herald-Tribune in the opinion of the judges, was the most outstanding in typographical excellence. It was the second time the cup has been won by the Herald-Tribune.

Baby Arrives in Ambulance.

A seven-pound daughter, her sixth child, was born to Mrs. Rice Foster of St. Louis in an ambulance en route to County Hospital last night. Mr. and Mrs. Foster had started for the hospital in his car, which was disabled by two punctures on Olive Street road near Bellas road, whereupon Foster called the ambulance.

$87,000 IN JEWELRY STOLEN

Mrs. Adolph Zukor Is Robbed in Chicago Hotel.

CHICAGO, June 15.—A band of international jewel thieves, believed to have gathered here to prey upon World's Fair visitors, stole jewels valued at $87,175 from Mrs. Adolph Zukor, wife of the movie magnate, police reported today. In addition to the Zukor robbery, police learned, members of the band ransacked the quarters of Mrs. Fitzhugh Scott of Milwaukee in the same hotel where Mrs. Zukor occupied a suite, but obtained only a few dollars in cash.

A picked detective squad was detailed to smash the ring. A constant watch on Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington, who dazzled World's Fair crowds with the $300,000 Hope diamond, has been ordered. The thief who robbed Mrs. Zukor obtained the jewels from a bed beside the one on which she was sleeping. The suite was on the thirteenth floor of the Blackstone Hotel.

Republican Group to New Quarters. New headquarters will be opened by the Fifth Ward Regular Republican Organization at 2103 Franklin avenue tonight. Among candidates expected to speak will be L. C. Dyer, running for Congress; Circuit Clerk Schmoll, seeking re-election, and Sigmund Bass, candidate for Circuit Judge.

SKETCH OF HITLER AID WITH HARVARD DEGREE

Career of Ernst Hanfstaengl, Who Is on Way Back for Class Reunion.

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 15.—When Ernst F. Sedgwick Hanfstaengl was pulling an oar on the freshman crew, leading cheers and writing college operettas, nobody dreamed his return to a Harvard class reunion some 25 years later would be an international incident. That was long before Adolf Hitler rose to prominence in Germany. Hanfstaengl is an intimate of the Nazi chancellor and is liaison officer between the German government and the British and American press.

About three months ago, Dr. Elliott C. Cutler, chief marshal for the 1909 class reunion, invited him to act as an aid in the ceremony. Hanfstaengl accepted and was quoted as looking forward "with the greatest anticipation" to meeting his old schoolmates on the banks of the Charles river.

Clash Over Proposed Visit. About that time Chancellor Hitler's treatment of German Jews was the subject of protest rallies in America, and the disapproval of Nazi policies boiled over on Hanfstaengl and Harvard. Dr. Cutler said Harvard university was not responsible for the idea; that it was his own. And he spoke pointedly of Harvard's faith in "the rights of free speech and the toleration of all beliefs."

Meanwhile Hitler's associate changed his mind and announced it was unlikely that he could make the trip from Berlin to Cambridge. He said he was "flabbergasted" at the stir he had raised in America. Another aid was chosen in his place. Then, some weeks later, he received the episode by banking $1000.

FEDERAL LAND BANK HERE LENDS $1,207,000 IN DAY

Total for the First 13 Days of June Is $6,692,100; Bonds Used in Refinancing.

The Federal Land Bank of St. Louis had its fourth "million dollar day" Wednesday when $1,207,000 in land bank and commissioner's loans were closed.

During the first 13 days of June the bank has lent $6,692,100 to 2181 farmers in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas. The total is $3,500,000 more than was lent in a similar period last year.

The bank is now giving Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation bonds instead of cash to farmers' creditors when it refinances their loans. Walter L. Rust, president of the bank, said the bonds were being accepted as readily as cash.

CHILD, 3, SERIOUSLY BURNED WHEN DRESS CATCHES FIRE

Betty Jean Wakeland, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wakeland of Bridgeton, suffered serious burns on her legs and body when her clothing caught fire from kerosene her brothers had been using to kill potato bugs yesterday.

The brothers, Richard, 11, and Robert, 6, were burning the bugs in a can when Robert accidentally kicked it over and the burning oil ignited the girl's dress. The boys called their father, who rolled her on the ground and extinguished the flames. She was taken to County Hospital.

GEN. GLASSFORD APOLOGIZES

Retracts Statements Reflecting on California Courts.

BRAWLEY, Cal., June 15.—Summoned before the County Board of Supervisors, Brigadier-General Pelham G. Glassford, Federal Labor Conciliator in the Imperial Valley, apologized to Judge Vaughn Thompson for his statements reflecting on the honesty and integrity of Imperial Valley Courts.

The former Washington (D. C.) Chief of Police, who resigned following the bonus riots, was questioned last night by the supervisors concerning a statement he issued Wednesday in which he charged that one prominent Imperial Valley official had declared he, Glassford, could be "eliminated for as little as $50." Asked to name the county official, Glassford said the man was B. A. Harrigan, County Agricultural Commissioner. Harrigan, who was present, denied ever having made such a statement.

DEAF-MUTE HELD FOR TRYING TO KILL SISTER WITH HAMMER

"Noticed She Was Acting Funny and Thought It Best to Put Her Out of Way."

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Charged with beating his sister on the head with a hammer, Charles Schragar, 38 years old, a deaf mute, was arrested today. The sister, Helen, 35, was in a serious condition as a result of the beating.

The attack was made with a claw hammer while the sister was sleeping, police said. Seven or eight blows were struck. Afterward, police say, Schragar walked into the bedroom of his brother, tapped him on the shoulder, and handed him a penciled note reading: "I have noticed sister Helen acting very funny lately, and I thought it best to put her out of the way."

EAST ST. LOUISIAN, 82, HIT BY AUTO, DIES OF INJURIES

Driver Says Samuel West Walked Into Side of His Car.

Samuel West, 82 years old, died at Christian Welfare Hospital, East St. Louis, last night, of injuries suffered Tuesday when hit by an automobile at Eighteenth and State streets, East St. Louis. West, who lived at 1738 Ohio avenue, suffered a broken hip and a skull injury.

The driver of the car, Charles H. Graf, a clerk of 226 North Illinois avenue, Belleville, told police that West walked into the side of the car.

A Ring on her Finger and Rings on her Phone

for the Girl with a CAMAY COMPLEXION

"Keep young and beautiful," says the song, "if you want to be loved."

So get yourself a Camay Complexion—a skin beautiful to look at and soft as satin to touch.

Then your friends will confirm what your mirror will tell you—that you're a much better-looking girl than you were before—a more alluring woman.

For the Soap of Beautiful Women will lift the veil from your loveliness, will clear the drabness from your skin, and reveal the beauty that today is hidden.

A CAMAY COMPLEXION AND ANOTHER BEAUTY CONTEST WON!

You probably think that Beauty Contests are only for starry-eyed blondes and piquant brunettes.

But—truth is—you, and every other woman in the world, are in a daily Beauty Contest. Friends—strangers—everyone you know and meet is a judge of your attractiveness. And the impression people get of your looks and your charm depends so much upon a clear, lovely skin. With a Camay Complexion you'll win approval and praise.

"A number of friends have asked me how I keep my skin so soft," said a young dietician. "I've told them that all my complexion care can be summed up in one word—Camay."

Try Camay—and convince yourself! You'll be sorry if you don't—for you'll be cheating your skin of the gentle care of as fine a beauty soap as can be made.

CAMAY BUBBLES ARE BEAUTY BUBBLES

Camay's lather is a beauty lotion in itself! For Camay is a blend of the purest of beauty oils chosen for one reason only—because they are good for your skin! As each drop of water mingles with the pure, white soap, Camay's gentle lather is formed—fragrant Beauty Bubbles, freshly made each time you cleanse your skin. That is why Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, is the perfect beauty soap for your complexion!

'TREASON CODE' ARRESTS AS SEEN BY BOTH SIDES

Montgomery County, Ill., Prosecutor Says They Are to Show Radicals Law Must Prevail.

11 HELD AFTER 'RELIEF' OUTBREAK

Prisoners Declare They Are Illegally Detained for Grand Jury—Call Charges 'Boloney.'

Eleven men, two of whom are professional Communist organizers, are in jail at Hillsboro, Ill., 70 miles northeast of St. Louis, awaiting action of the November grand jury as the culmination of a series of "relief demonstrations" which have erupted in Montgomery County.

Technically, the prisoners are charged under an Illinois statute with conspiracy to overthrow the Government and conspiracy to incite a riot, punishable by a penitentiary sentence up to 10 years. But the primary object of the arrests, as defined by State's Attorney George A. Hall, "is for the purpose of showing the radical elements in this county we have such a thing as law and order and to show the rank and file they have been misled."

Says Arrests Were Helpful. Hall, who emphasized that "bona fide conspiracies existed," said to a Post-Dispatch reporter today that the arrests, two weeks ago, had the effect of "quieting down" conditions in the county. He described some of the demonstrations, most of them a rural adaptation of the Communist demonstrations for "unemployed relief" which have occurred at City Hall in St. Louis, explaining they had disrupted law and order.

Ball on the charge of conspiracy to overthrow the Government, based on the "treason code" of 1919, passed in 1919, which fixed at $5000 each, while $3000 additional is demanded of each prisoner for release on the other conspiracy charge. All except one waived preliminary hearing and the hearing on that one resulted in his being held with the others.

Prisoners' Side of It. Those under arrest, regarded by county authorities as the "ringleaders" in the disorders, asserted today to a Post-Dispatch reporter, who saw them in jail, that they were "illegally detained" and asserted they exercised only lawful means "in appealing for relief to which we were entitled."

The two professional organizers, both from Chicago, are Jan Wittenberger, 30 years old, Southern Illinois organizer for International Labor Defense—a Communist organization on which the prisoners pin their hopes for release—and John Adams, a 26-year-old professional Communist speaker.

The others, all members of the Unemployed Council of Montgomery County, which is affiliated with the National Unemployed Councils, a Communist organization embracing the Unemployed Councils of St. Louis, are:

Frank Pansick, 30 years old, of Taylor Springs, chairman of the County Unemployed Council; five students of Nokomis: Robin Staples, 40; George Reid, 28; John Holland, 32; Carl Gerulla, 60; John Lapshansky, 42; Victor Renner, 28; of Panama; Gordon Hutchins, 34, of Hillsboro; and Frank Prickett, 37, of Taylor Springs.

Charges Called "Boloney." Several of the nine local men said they were miners, one or two mentioned service records, all joined in an approving chorus as Pansick, the leader, referred to the charges against them as "just a lot of boloney."

Turbulent events, including a group demonstration which disrupted Nokomis City Council, and the picketing of homes of relief officials, took place for several weeks before the arrests were made, State's Attorney Hall said. In Hillsboro, the relief demonstrations resulted in the issuance on May 16 of the following proclamation by Mayor Ludwig:

"Whereas, the assemblage of large numbers of persons around public relief headquarters and in other places on the streets of Hillsboro and parades and processions on the streets of the city have threatened the public peace, all such assemblages and parades in the city are hereby prohibited. The prohibition of matters or grievances of not more than five persons at any time in a peaceable manner will not be interfered with. No picketing of private homes will be tolerated hereafter."

Copies of the proclamation are posted on the porch of the Montgomery County Courthouse, which operates under the Illinois Emergency Relief Administration, a Federal organization. A special Deputy Sheriff guarded the door of the commission today, and authorities there declined to discuss complaints of the prisoners, in the absence of Lester Denton, executive officer in charge.

Accused of Plotting to Overthrow the Government

In Nokomis, according to State's Attorney Hall, a "mob," led by some of the prisoners, forced the council to reconvene a session and rescind a similar resolution. Citizens, including members of the American Legion, he said, had organized a Vigilance Committee, "in case the demonstrators return."

The State's Attorney said leaders of the Unemployed Council had urged the abolition of the food lists prescribed by the State Commission and had picketed the home of four of the members of the Montgomery County relief board. Then, after the City Council canceled permits for meetings and parades, they "held a parade anyway."

At first they were quiet and orderly enough," State's Attorney Hall said, "but then they couldn't stand it any longer and the ringleaders began to make speeches."

Authorities threw a tear gas bomb, the State's Attorney related, and the mob fell back to the street. Several were arrested, he recalled, and released the same day. Sheriff Saathoff ordering them to get out of town in 10 minutes. The crowd disappeared in trucks, assembling at Taylor Springs, a mile south. They threatened to return, the State's Attorney said, but did not do so.

The round-up of the leaders then began, he said, the charges against them based on speeches they had delivered and pamphlets they had distributed.

Adams, who had made a speech in Montgomery County about two weeks before his arrest, was arrested in an adjoining County, Hall said, as he was approaching Montgomery County to make another speech. Adams said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that he was "making speeches from the Communist viewpoint and from the angle that the unemployed were denied their rights."

Says Violence Was Advocated. The State's Attorney asserted that the Communist speaker had advised his hearers to "help themselves" to supplies. Other speakers, he said, had advocated violence and referred to the legionnaires as "rats." Disparaging remarks were made about the Sheriff and the County and relief authorities, he said.

"The rank and file of the demonstrators are all right," said the State's Attorney, "but they are poor folks who have been misled by outside agitators who want to stir up trouble for their own ends."

The State's Attorney disclosed that A. J. Muste, chairman of the American Workers' Party, visited him a few days ago on behalf of the prisoners, going on to Belleville only to be arrested there under the State "treason code" while distributing pamphlets to pickets at the closed Knapp-Monarch plant.

By a coincidence, the State's Attorney had heard Muste speak in another county the night before his visit, asserted he "heard him solicit funds to come over here and liberate the prisoners."

"Muste denied that when I talked to him," State's Attorney Hall said, "and pretty soon he began inquiring about making a speech at Hillsboro. I told him it wouldn't be advisable but he did not refuse permission. He took the hint."

At the jail, the prisoners claimed any desire to be assisted by Muste, whose party partakes of elements of Communism and Socialism without being affiliated with either party. Most of their sentiments were formulated by the two Chicago Communists, the Montgomery County men adding that relief allotments were less than the minimum allowed in other parts of the State.

Then they resumed a pinocchio game, interrupted by the first callers, with the exception of relatives, they have been permitted to see and the first to talk to them inside their cells.

Illinois Treason Code Has Been Upheld by State Supreme Court.

The Illinois statute under which the charges were brought against the 11 prisoners at Hillsboro and also against Muste at Belleville makes it a felony for anyone openly to advocate, by word of mouth or writing, the reformation or overthrow of the Government by violence or other unlawful means, and provides a penalty of imprisonment ranging from one to 10 years.

The California act under which Miss Charlotte Anita Whitney was convicted in 1920 makes criminal syndicalism a felony punishable by imprisonment of from one to 14 years. It defines criminal syndicalism as any doctrine advocating the commission of crime, sabotage or unlawful methods of terrorism to accomplish a change in industrial control or effecting any political change. It applies to anyone (1) advocating criminal syndicalism by spoken or written words; (2) attempting to justify criminal syndicalism; (3) printing or publishing anything advocating criminal syndicalism; (4) organizing or becoming a member of any association advocating criminal syndicalism; (5) practicing any act advised by the doctrine.

The Illinois law was passed June 28, 1919, and the California law on April 30, 1919. The Illinois law, known as the treason code, also makes it unlawful to publish anything advocating overthrow of government, to organize or join any society advocating overthrow, or to attend any meeting where overthrow is advocated. It has been held constitutional by the Illinois Supreme Court.

U. S. Supreme Court Ruling Upholding California Act.

The California law was sustained by the United States Supreme Court in 1927, and the conviction of Miss Whitney was upheld. The Supreme Court held that the constitutional guarantee of free speech did not permit open advocacy of syndicalistic doctrines. (Miss Whitney was immediately pardoned by the Governor of California.)

Justices Holmes and Brandeis concurred in a separate opinion written by Justice Brandeis in which it was pointed out, first, that although the rights of free speech and assembly are fundamental, they are not in their exercise absolute, being subject in their exercise to restriction if the particular restriction is required in order to protect the State from destruction or from serious injury, "political, economic or moral"; and, second, that, however, mere fear of serious injury to the State cannot alone justify suppression of free speech and assembly, but there must be "reasonable ground to fear that serious evil will result if free speech is practiced and there must be reasonable ground to believe that such danger is imminent."

The Brandeis opinion contains the following sentences: "The fact that speech is likely to result in some violence or in destruction of property is not enough to justify its suppression. . . . The deterrents ordinarily to be applied to prevent crime are education and punishment for violations of the law, not abridgment of the rights of free speech and assembly."

"Whether in 1919, when Miss Whitney did the things complained of, there was in California such clear and present danger of serious evil might have been made the important issue in the case. She might have required that the issue be determined either by the court or the jury. She claimed below that the statute as applied to her violated the Federal Constitution, but she did not claim that it (the statute) was void because there was no clear and present danger of serious evil, nor did she request that the existence of these conditions of a valid measure thus restricting the rights of free speech and assembly be passed upon by the court or the jury."

Thus, in the view of the Brandeis opinion, a defendant admitting the constitutionality of a State law restricting free speech or assembly may raise the question whether the State's exercise of that arbitrary power was reasonable and necessitated by imminent danger to the State.

RAIL PENSION BILL PASSED BY HOUSE; TO CONFERENCE

Measure Provides for Payments by Employes and Companies Into Retirement Fund.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Cresser bill to provide pensions for railway employes was passed today by the House. The measure was sent to a conference committee to adjust differences between that and a similar bill passed by the Senate.

The House bill places a limit of $100 a month for retired railroad workers over 65 years of age with 30 years of service.

The measure creates a railroad retirement board of three to administer an initial $20,000,000 fund, $30,000,000 of which is to come from the workers and $60,000,000 from the railroads.

The Senate last night passed the Hatfield-Wagner bill for a nationwide retirement system for railway employes under the supervision of a three-man board appointed by the President.

Employees would be retired at the age of 65 or on a reduced scale at an earlier age on completion of 30 years of service. The pension fund would be supported by contributions of 2 per cent of the employes' wages and twice that much by the roads.

Senator Wagner (Dem.) of New York, co-author of the bill, said it would "blaze the way for full treatment of the problem of old age security which has been met in every other great industrial country and which there is no reason or excuse for neglecting in our own."

The vote on the bill was 65 to 0. An amendment offered by Metcalf (Rep.), of Rhode Island, which would have barred rail union business officials from participation in the plan, was defeated. The bill as passed includes any representative of an employe organization to take up such a position.

The railroads, Wagner said, with a "relatively highly paid class of workmen," are particularly adaptable to a "laboratory experiment" of this kind. Davis (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, said the legislation presented a "reasonable and valuable approach" to the problem of old age security.

Metcalf offered a resolution to extend the provisions of the measure to all common carriers comprising with railroads, but on the objection of Wagner he withdrew it.

Wagner estimated that on the basis of present payrolls the annual contribution by employes would be $10,000,000, whereas he estimated that the probable maximum retirement the first year would not exceed $50,000 employes with total payments of $50,000,000.

The first two years of operation of the plan would be looked on as experimental. At the end of that time the board would be charged with recommending legislation based on its findings from actual operations.

Metcalf asked that the legislation be deferred until a survey now being made by Joseph B. Eastman, railroad co-ordinator, was completed, and read telegrams from railroad presidents contending it would add heavily to their expenses.

Sponsors of the bill estimate the average wage of $1667 annually for railroad labor will result in an average pension of $83.33 a month.

HITLER, MUSSOLINI DISCUSS ARMS BUT REACH NO ACCORD

Germany Not Going Back to Geneva Despite President Talks, It Is Pointed Out at Venice.

By the Associated Press. VENICE, June 15.—Germany will not return to the Geneva disarmament conference despite conversations between Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini of Italy, German correspondents were told at a press conference this afternoon.

The conference, to which only German newspaper men were admitted, took place immediately after Hitler's return from his second meeting with Mussolini.

The correspondents were told no accord would be signed as a result of the meeting, although the premier found themselves in agreement on many points.

Nothing was decided with reference to disarmament, it was said, although diplomatic conversations between Germany and Italy on this subject will continue.

No Step Toward Bloc.

With reference to a possible Italian-German bloc to offset French and Russian blocs, correspondents were told no such step was being planned. The German newspaper men were told that the chief value of the meetings was to establish a personal contact which the chiefs of the two nations think will be valuable in the future.

The conversations between Hitler and Mussolini began immediately after a luncheon at the golf club on the Lido. Again, as yesterday, they were alone as they conversed. They talked in German.

Well-informed Italians represented themselves as greatly disappointed with yesterday's conversation between the two leaders on the ground that Hitler had proved himself still a visionary while Mussolini, essentially a realist, wanted to get down to cases immediately. Today's discussion was more concrete.

Although Mussolini kept Hitler waiting 10 minutes for a review this morning, Hitler more than evened up the score in the afternoon, for he kept Mussolini waiting 20 minutes for a luncheon given by Fulvio Suvich, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs.

Entire Hotel for Mussolini.

Mussolini is occupying, all to himself, the biggest hotel at the Lido which is also the largest hotel in all Italy. Although it is just opening for the summer season, it has refused to admit other guests during his stay.

Hitler and Mussolini met early this morning at the Piazza San Marco, where 15,000 Fascist troops passed in review.

At the conclusion of the parade Mussolini and Hitler were caught in the rush of a huge crowd which pressed forward to see the dictators. Fascist troops had to force a way through the crush for them.

Hitler returned to his hotel to receive members of the German colony. Afterward he visited the biennial art exhibition and went with Mussolini to Lido Island for a luncheon.

Hitler expects to return tomorrow to Berlin.

HOUSE COMMITTEE REJECTS MEASURE FOR OIL CONTROL

Turns Down Administration Bill by 12 to 5—Fight Put Off Until Next Session.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 15.—The administration's program for oil production control legislation at this session was rejected by the House Commerce Committee yesterday by a 12 to 5 vote.

The committee recommended, instead, the appointment of a subcommittee to report to the next Congress on the need for legislation.

Representative Disney (Dem.), Oklahoma, author of the bill, after a talk with President Roosevelt today, said that the fight for its enactment would be put off until next session.

Chairman Rayburn placed the issue before its committee only after a personal request from President Roosevelt for action. Previously, Rayburn had said nothing would be done, barring request from the President.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, oil administrator, said a "very dangerous situation" had been created, and that there were no national means now to prevent illegal production of oil.

Enforcement Difficult.

"Of course, we will do the best we can with the powers we have to prevent running of hot oil and keep production down to allowable," he said. "But in view of the disposition in some of the courts to enjoin us, it makes it very difficult."

The Disney bill would have granted to the administrator authority to restrict production nationally and within the states, and to bar from commerce petroleum produced in excess of his quotas. The opposition to the bill, based largely on contentions it would lead to dictatorship of the industry, was backed by the major companies.

The action of the Rayburn committee in suggesting appointment of a subcommittee was advanced dur-

MERRY GO ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The people who fought to get into the Senate caucus room the other day, or strained their ears to catch the words of the speaker, or strained their eyes to catch the significance of the show they were watching.

To most, it was a political free-for-all, a bull-baiting performance with a red rag in the face of the 1 Brain Trust trying to get them to acknowledge Red allegiance. Actually it was one of the most significant incidents which has occurred since March 4, 1933. It exposed the political maneuvering of the Roosevelt administration.

Why Roosevelt is having such a separate struggle getting his congressional floor leaders to go down the line on the Wagner labor bill, why the Democratic House Bankers Committee, at the behest of building and loan association lobbyists, emasculated the President's housing program.

Why the President's old-age pension and unemployment insurance bill failed of consideration this session, had to be laid over until next year with a face-saving message which was chiefly a stump speech.

Why the appointment of Dr. William L. Thorp was withdrawn, despite the fact that for nine months he had filled with signal competence his post as Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

It explains in short, why the biggest test of the New Deal comes from the party supposed to keep it in power.

Conflict.

NO OTHER single incident in the past year so clearly and definitively reveals to the public light what an inchoate, unwieldy, conflicting, highly individualistic mass this thing called the Democratic party really is.

It is the blue sense of the word it is not a national party. It is an aggregate of sectional, local and, above all, personal elements—including some of the most brilliant, able, idealistic leaders in Congress—always tempted by the pull of sectionalism and personality.

Cleveland, Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt each was swept into office on waves of internal upheaval and unrest. The great mass of the electorate wanted a change of faces and names and turned to the only political alternative, a Democrat.

The party, of course, claimed the victory. But it wasn't the party that won the election.

New Dealers.

PROPOSITION to confirmation of Tugwell as Undersecretary of Agriculture was not a matter of principle or even politics. It was purely personal. The Democrats who raised the hue and cry against him were:

Harry Flood Byrd, wealthy Virginia landowner, one of the great apple-orchardists in the country, and a vigorous opponent of crop reduction.

Josiah William Bailey, wealthy corporation lawyer from North Carolina and an outstanding Democratic critic of the New Deal.

Elison (Cotton) Ed. Smith, South Carolina cotton planter, an experienced, bombastic party wheel-horse who just now is the subject of considerable comment, both in his state and Washington, as a result of the disclosure that he has two daughters, and a prospective son-in-law, on the congressional payroll.

The appointment of Tugwell was not really at stake. There was no question of either his ability or character. What these three Old Guards were striking at, the objective of fire and antics, was the New Deal, more specifically the man in the White House who personifies the New Deal.

All through the special session last year, and the six months of legislative activity this year, these men, plus others on the Democratic side in both branches of Congress, have fretted and muttered against Roosevelt liberal policies, sometimes openly voted with Old Guard Republicans in opposition.

Roosevelt Critics.

"YOU are just attacking the administration, that's all," quietly remarked Iowa's Democratic Senator, Louis Murphy, to Smith, as the latter was elaborately explaining just why he was against the Tugwell appointment.

"I resent that," roared the bulky, drooping-mustachioed South Carolinian. "By the eternal God, I won't stand for these dirty insinuations."

He launched into another flag-waving harangue. Murphy leaned back wearily. Other members of the committee exchanged knowing glances. They knew that there was much reason for Smith's frenzied denial.

"Cotton Ed" has been sore for some time. And chiefly because of his Democratic colleague from South Carolina. The latter—Jimmy Byrnes—is one of Roosevelt's most trusted congressional advisers. Smith, after 25 years in the Senate, is not.

Byrd and Bailey have been among the most vitriolic critics of the New Deal.

The result was the political free-for-all—Democrats lampooning Democrats, Republicans coming to the defense of the administration, and the chief man criticized being not so much Tugwell, but Henry Wallace, his chief, and inferentially, the President himself.

The incident will go down in congressional history along with the circus midget in J. P. Morgan's lap.

Merry-Go-Round.

WHEN it comes to the ladies, Illinois' bearded, grandiloquent Senator "Ham" Lewis can't be bothered with such obstacles as Senate rules. Introduced in a Capitol corridor, Miss Kyllikki Poinjola, member of the Finnish Parliament, "Ham" promptly invited her onto the Senate floor. Senate rules prohibit this, but when doormen and guards tried to tell this to "Ham" he waved them aside with an angust sweep of his arm. With a deep bow he ushered the foreign visitor into the chamber.

When Soviet Ambassador Troianovsky travels, his baggage always contains a chess board. As a revolutionary exile from Russia he played with Lenin. Troianovsky is also fond of contract bridge, and is a first-rate player.

The recent scandal in the office of the Detroit Collector of Internal Revenue regarding the solicitation of campaign funds has both State and national Democratic leaders worried. Inside word in Michigan is that the expose is having a disastrous effect on Democratic prospects in Michigan's fall elections.

COMMITTEE FOR RESTORATION OF EUGENE FIELD HOME NAMED

James P. Henry Heads Group Which Will Make Plans for Museum of Fieldiana

A committee to make plans for the restoration of the childhood home of Eugene Field, at 634 South Broadway, and to arrange for a museum of Fieldiana there has been appointed by Superintendent of Instruction Gerling of the Board of Education.

It consists of Jesse P. Henry, chairman; Dr. Gerling; McCune Gill, local historian; and Myrtle R. Rogers, director of City Art Museum. Dr. Gerling consulted with Henry on the personnel. Henry, in turn, consulted with McCune Gill, business, Carl P. Deniel, as has been said, have agreed to pay the immediate cost of preserving the house, which is about 89 years old.

The Board of Education accepted the offer Tuesday, canceled an old lease of the premises, which would have expired next April, and directed its attorneys to obtain possession of the place.

"The committee," said Henry, "will start the establishment of a field shrine. It will decide on ways and means to raise money for the restoration, furnishing the place and creating a museum. We expect to have something definite done within a month."

The board's attorneys are arranging for immediate possession of the house and property adjoining it on each side, on a 62-foot lot which the board owns. Con P. Curran, printer, sub-leasee who has held the place, has wrecked 10 adjoining houses to save taxes. His appeal to wreck the Field house started the movement to preserve it as a memorial to the poet.

ST. LOUIS BOAT AND SPORT SHOW OPENS IN AUDITORIUM

River Craft, Hunting and Fishing Equipment on Display at Exposition.

The St. Louis Boat and Sport Show opened yesterday in the exhibition hall of the new Municipal Auditorium with a display of river craft, hunting and fishing equipment, and various boxing, wrestling, bicycle, and fly-casting exhibitions. The show will continue daily from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Sunday.

A bathing beauty pageant with 30 entries will be held each night at 8 o'clock with entries from industrial concerns in the city. The three winners will receive free trips to the Chicago Progress Exposition at White City.

Chief among the exhibits are those of canoes, outboard motorboats, runabouts, and river cruisers, shown by several boat companies. A taxidermist has installed an exhibition of stuffed animals and a kennel has an exhibition of 20 beagles, setters, pointers, retrievers, and springers. There is also a display of equipment for a summer cottage and horsehoe pitchers will show their skill each night.

PRINCE OF WALES NEAR HIS FORTIETH BIRTHDAY

Still a Busy Man—Takes on Serious, Sometimes Weary, Expression.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 15.—The ever-popular Prince of Wales, still a bachelor, will celebrate his fortieth birthday June 23.

"You do wear very well, you know," he recently told David Lloyd George. It was a compliment which the war-time Premier easily could have returned.

The main visible change wrought by the years is a seaming of the forehead and a lining of his cheeks which impart to the Prince a serious, sometimes weary, air.

His Recent Activities.

He is still listed as the world's best matrimonial prize, but that's just a gesture, for even the die-hards have become reconciled to his bachelorhood. The "Prince-is-going-to-marry" rumor has died.

If the world at large hears less of the Prince than it did during his globe-trotting days, Great Britain knows him better.

Conspicuous in his recent work has been a series of tours to towns and villages blighted by the depression. He has been learning conditions at first hand, seeing what is being done and adding his words of encouragement.

No booster of false hopes, he said recently: "I am neither a great optimist nor a great pessimist but I think that in some ways things are better."

That his popularity increases with the years is understood from an incident that occurred on his latest tour to Wales.

Because of her age, a 101-year-old woman living in a village off the Prince's itinerary was not able to see him. The Prince heard about her and made a special excursion out of his way to visit her home.

"Your Highness, you have made an old woman very happy," she told him. And he replied: "It makes me happy to hear you say that."

A Typical Heavy Day.

His schedule is always a crowded one. One typically heavy day included a visit with some orphans, making a speech and distributing prizes; then a quick dash to a military organization of which he is honorary Colonel to distribute annual prizes; then a change of dress, dinner and attendance at the first of the royal court; and finally, when most persons would have called it a day, another change and away to a railway station to begin his trip to Wales.

Golf is his main relaxation and pleasure, though often at no time must play by the clock in order not to miss an engagement.

Recently he was to play himself in as captain of the Royal St. David's Golf Club. When the time came, it was raining hard. Officials pondered, gazed at the leaden sky, shook their heads.

The Prince arrived briskly. Would he go? There was no quibbling, only a crisp: "Certainly" as he donned spiked shoes, slipped a pair of waterproof trousers over his knickers and strode to the first tee.

HORSE SHOW ON SUNDAY AT WESTBOROUGH CLUB

The summer horse show of the Westborough Country Club will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in the outdoor arena at the club, Berry road and Lockwood avenue, Webster Groves.

The program comprises 12 events, four in the hunter and jumper classes, six for three and five-gaited horses, a children's lead-in class, and a relay race between polo ponies from the St. Louis Country Club and a picked team of local horses.

The show is in charge of W. N. Sitton, chairman of the executive committee. Saddle and harness judges are J. M. Wellman, Claude La Rue and G. L. I. Davis. August A. Busch Jr. will judge the hunters and jumpers.

SYMPHONY SOCIETY PRAISES ACOUSTICS OF AUDITORIUM

Makes Statement in Letter to Subscribers of Next Season's Seats.

In notifying subscribers for season seats at next winter's series of concerts of the location of their seats in Municipal Auditorium's Opera House, the Symphony Society praised the acoustics and seating arrangements of the hall. Its letter to subscribers said:

"Careful tests made by the management and members of the Executive Committee during the grand opera and other events have proved that the acoustics are excellent in all parts of the hall and the seats uniformly comfortable and convenient. Our patrons will, of course, have to become accustomed to the new hall, but we have every reason to believe that the same comfortable and congenial atmosphere will prevail at the Symphony concerts in their new home as was the case at the Odeon."

As far as possible, the society assigned seats under the same general plan that was used at the Odeon last season. Those dissatisfied with assignments were invited to examine charts and select other available seats. The society will move its business office from the Odeon Building to the fourth floor of the auditorium about next Wednesday.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

A WHITE Gothic arch filled with blue delphinium, built at the end of a broad stretch of greensward, was the background for the garden wedding at sunset yesterday of Miss Jane Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Horace Moulton, and Dr. Willard Bartlett Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Willard Bartlett, 53 Westmoreland place.

The garden, at the Moulton home in Brentmoor, is bordered with beds of lilies, peonies, petunias and roses, silhouetted low against ares and shrubbery.

The bridal party emerged from the library and walked to the altar through an aisle of white satin ribbons caught to posts by clusters of yellow daisies. The trunk of an oak tree, its branches hanging low at each side, was concealed by a wall of evergreen, with small pine trees continuing into a broad semi-circle at each side. The arch, with white glimmis at its base, was centered against the tree. Sprays of flowers, in tall urns, were arranged on top of the columns, and blue hydrangeas combined with ferns and palms filled smaller urns at their bases. In front was a white prie dieu with satin cushions. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. William Scarlett, Episcopal Bishop of Missouri, and the Rev. Dr. William B. Lampe of the West Presbyterian Church. A stringed orchestra played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore the deep ivory satin wedding gown worn previously by her sisters, Mrs. James Crawford Ward, who was Miss Grace Moulton, and Miss Matilda Moulton, whose wedding to Charles McQueen Gee took place at the American Embassy in Tokyo, Japan.

The gown is designed with a deep yoke and long close fitting sleeves of tucked tulle. The front of the gown falls straight to the floor, and the back continues into a long, wide train attached with fullness to a deep inverted point at the low hip line. The bride's veil was arranged to her hair with a rose point lace cap, and the tulle was overlaid with a panel of the lace. She wore a long face veil and carried lilies of the valley tied with tulle streamers.

Delphinium blue predominated in the gowns of the bride's attendants. The bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Jackson, Miss Marian Davis, and Miss Drucilla Gee of New York, were gowned in pale blue organza, flowered with tiny white blossoms and brown hairbraids tilted over the right side and held by blue velvet ribbon looped under the hair. They carried shepherd's crooks tied with bouquets of delphinium and rose buds. The gowns were close fitting to the knees, were circular flounces were attached by box pleated headings. More of the box pleating covered the upper arms and was arranged as flat collars caught in front with tailored Roman striped bows. They wore tailored Roman striped belts. Mrs. Ward, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore pale yellow mousseline de sole, with a blue grosgrain belt and streamers. The gown was trimmed with diagonal folds of the material which fell over the arms and was arranged in a pointed yoke effect at the back. Additional folds added fullness to the lower part of the skirt. Miss Irene Pettus, a cousin of the bride, was in pastel pink, her gown made like that of Mrs. Ward. Both carried arm bouquets of delphinium and roses in shades to harmonize with their costumes. Their hats, like those of the bridesmaids, were brown, trimmed with blue velvet.

Dr. Robert Wilson Bartlett was his brother's best man, and another brother, Aurelius T. Bartlett II, James Crawford Ward, brother of the bride; Jale F. Johnston, Silas Bent McKinley; L. Benoit Tompkins and Thomas C. Hennings Jr., were ushers.

Mrs. Moulton wore a gown of cocoa brown lace, made with a train and a jacket effect formed by a peplum above the waist. Her flowers were white orchids. Mrs. Bartlett's gown was dusty pink lace, also with a train. A pink length jacket completed the ensemble, and her hat was a broad-brimmed model of black straw. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at small flower-trimmed tables at the north side of the garden. The scene was lighted by amber and blue flood lights from the trees, with a new moon shining in the west. The bridal party was seated for dinner in the spacious dining room, at a long, oval table adorned with a centerpiece of white larkspur and gladioli bordered with silver and crystal cornucopias filled with Easter lilies. Tall ivory tapers in silver candelabra gave the illumination.

Guests at the table, in addition to the bridal party, were Mr. Ward, brother-in-law of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hawes Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Desloge Campbell, Miss Elizabeth Emerson of Auburn, N. Y., who, with her father, Fred L. Emerson, arrived yesterday; Miss Virginia Harris, Dr. George W. Crile Jr. and Henry Jenkins of Hannibal, Mo. The out-of-town guests included Mrs. James Oliver Bosseler of Jacksonville, Ill., sister of Dr. Bartlett Sr.; Oran McCormick of Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackson of New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Bartlett departed last night for a honeymoon which includes an ocean cruise, to be gone six weeks. They have taken an apartment on Buckingham drive.

Dr. Bartlett's wedding gift to his bride was a diamond and platinum bar pin, and he gave his ushers leather traveling bags. The bride gave her attendants egg-shell tinted compacts with their monograms in gold.

The bride was a debutante of the past winter. She made her bow at a rainbow dinner dance at the St. Louis Country Club, an outstanding event of the social season. She received her education at Homer Hall in St. Louis and Gunston Hall, Washington.

Dr. Bartlett attended Smith Academy, Lawrenceville, N. J., and Princeton University, where he was graduated in 1922. He took his degrees in medicine at Washington University and the University of Michigan, and later did post graduate work in this country and in Europe. He is associated with his father in the practice of surgery.

SENATE COMMITTEE FOR HOUSING BILL

Approves Measure in Substantially the Form Submitted by President.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Senate Banking Committee yesterday approved the administration bill designed to provide funds for home construction and repair. The bill was approved with a record vote in substantially the form submitted by President Roosevelt.

Despite signs of Republican opposition on the floor of the Senate, the committee voted 11 to 7 to retain the disputed proposal for creation of $5,000,000 national mortgage associations as a kind of "Federal Reserve System" for discounting mortgage paper.

The committee voted, 9 to 7, to place the housing program under a single administrator to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, instead of under the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, as in the similar bill passed by the House.

The major points of the bill provide for:

Creation of the office of Federal Housing Administrator, to be appointed by the President for four years, to be confirmed by the Senate, and to receive $10,000 a year.

Establishment of a $200,000,000 fund to insure 20 per cent of the losses by private lending institutions in financing home repairs or renovations, with a limit of $2000 on loans for this purpose to a single home owner.

Creation of a mutual mortgage insurance fund for insurance of first home mortgages up to $16,000, and second mortgages on low cost housing projects.

Mortgage Associations. Authority for the administrator to set up national mortgage associations to discount first mortgages for lending institutions in the same manner as the Federal Reserve System discounts commercial paper in banks, each association to have a capital of at least $5,000,000.

Creation of a savings and loan insurance corporation with a capital stock of $100,000,000 to insure accounts up to $5000 in Federal savings and loan associations, and other building and loan associations that are members of a Federal home loan bank.

Each institution whose accounts are insured would be required to pay to the corporation a premium of one per cent of the total amount of insured accounts annually until a reserve fund has been created equal to five per cent of all insured accounts.

Extension of the borrowing power of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation from $2,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000, with the present earmarked fund of $200,000,000 for loans on improvements to homes refinanced by the corporation increased to $400,000,000.

Motor Cavalry Heads Back to Kentucky After Tests

Officer Doubts Mechanized Equipment Will Ever Entirely Supersede Horses.

The First Cavalry, 200 vehicles strong, meandered across the Mural Bridge this morning, on the way to its home post, Fort Knox, near Louisville, Ky.

The First, which has just concluded six weeks of intensive training with new mechanical equipment instead of horses, rested yesterday at Jefferson Barracks, where it was organized 101 years ago. Returning home from Fort Riley, Kan., the motor-operated outfit arrived at the barracks Wednesday night.

Lieutenant-Colonel J. R. Chaffin, commanding officer, said the maneuvers demonstrated that mechanized cavalry never will entirely supersede horse cavalry.

"When the battles were in the open," he continued, "we undoubtedly held the edge. But when the men retreated to heavy woods, we were at a loss to overcome them."

The cavalry unit left Fort Riley Tuesday. It will spend tonight at Vincennes, Ind., and will reach Fort Knox tomorrow.

Seven Killed in Bogota Riot

Colombians Attack Jail to Free Political Leader.

BOGOTA, Colombia, June 15.—Seven persons were killed and more than 15 injured last night as police fought a mob which assaulted the jail at Honda, on the Magdalena River.

The mob hurled stones at jail guards, and police were sent to the assistance of jail authorities.

The attackers were trying to liberate Francisco Castro, president of the Honda Municipal Council, who was imprisoned after disorders provoked by what was described as a campaign against Honda's commerce.

POST-DATING OF BAD CHECKS HELD CRIMINAL

Missouri Supreme Court Rules Writer Is Liable to Fine or Sentence.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—The Missouri Supreme Court en banc ruled today that the writing of post-dated checks, which are not made good, is a criminal action and liable to a fine or imprisonment, instead of involving only a civil action on the contention that it is just promise to pay debts if the writer has the money.

The ruling was on the court's affirmation of the conviction of a DeKalb County farmer who was fined $200 in the Caldwell County Circuit Court for "issuing a check in payment of a past due debt, knowing at the time he did not have sufficient funds in or credit with the bank upon which it was drawn."

The defendant, H. E. Taylor, had written a check for $163.50 on June 26, 1930, to pay a debt he owed Fred E. Cooper, blacksmith of Mabel, Mo. The check was post-dated July 20, 1930, and not honored at the bank because of insufficient funds.

In appealing to the Supreme Court, the defendant contended that two State statutes involving the writing of checks without sufficient funds were in violation of the State Constitution which forbids imprisonment for debt.

John T. Fitzsimmons, commissioner of the court who wrote the opinion, held that the statutes "do not impose imprisonment for debt in violation of the Constitution."

"In this case," he pointed out, "by the verdict of the jury, a fine was assessed against the defendant, and, by the judgment of the court predicated upon the verdict, he was ordered committed to the custody of the Sheriff pending the payment of the fine."

In a memorandum dissenting from the opinion, Commissioner James A. Cooley suggests that a post-dated check "is not a representation that the maker has at the time funds in or credit with the bank on which it is drawn sufficient for its payment on presentation, but rather only that he expects to have such funds or credit at the date written on the check."

Judges Ernest S. Gantt, Charles T. Hays, Frank E. Atwood and George R. Ellison concurred in Fitzsimmons' opinion, while Judges William F. Frank, Ernest M. Tip-ton, and C. A. Leedy Jr., dissented.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AGAIN TURNS DOWN BIRTH CONTROL

Resolution Gains Less Support Than Heretofore; Dr. J. S. McLester New President.

CLEVELAND, O., June 15.—Birth control was turned down for the fifth consecutive year by the supreme body of American medicine, the house of delegates of the American Medical Association, yesterday, receiving somewhat less support than heretofore.

There were two resolutions, both seeking the investigation of birth control devices and formulation of recommendations of a policy to be adopted by the American Medical Association. Neither went beyond asking for investigation. One died in committee. The other resolution went formally before the delegates for a vote. It recommended that a special committee investigate and report back to the house of delegates. About two-thirds of the delegates rose when the noes were called for.

The delegates, by resolution, objected to free medical service given by government medical agencies to cabinet officers, Senators, Representatives "and others high in official life." They directed their state organizations to "use influence with Representatives in Congress to relieve taxpayers of the unjustified expenditure of public funds here-in set forth."

James Somerville McLester, M. D., of Birmingham, Ala., was elected president for next year, defeating his only rival, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming by 14 votes in a total of 156. Dr. McLester is professor of medicine at the University of Alabama.

He counseled Negroes to quit fighting among themselves in politics and unite to end their political troubles, saying the Negro vote can turn the tide in Missouri, Illinois, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Kansas.

"All we have to do," he went on, "is stick together and maintain in power the party that has always been fair to us, the Republicans. All the favorable legislation we have ever been accorded emanated from the Republican party and all the handouts wished on our race have been hatched in Southern Democratic states. The New Deal has been a poor deal for the Negro. By ignoring our race, organized labor makes it easy for greedy capitalists to use Negroes as strike breakers."

NEW YORK, June 15.—Executives of Remington Rand, Inc., and representatives of their striking employees reached an agreement last night whereby the company recognizes the unions and the unions agree to a continuation of the open shop policy.

The settlement will be offered to the employees at meetings tomorrow and if accepted the workers will return to their duties Monday.

Seven thousand men and women in the Syracuse, N. Y., Ilion, N. Y., Middletown, Conn., and Norwood, O., plants of the company have been on strike for five weeks.

The agreement follows closely the details of the settlement President Roosevelt made in the automobile industry controversy, James H. Rand Jr., president of the company, said.

"The agreement in regard to wages was substantially the same as the company offered 30 days before the walkout," he added. "There will be no back pay for lost time."

MISSOURI CODE BOARD OBTAINS MORE PAY FOR 1000 WORKERS

Adjustments Since Feb. 1 Under NRA Agreements Total $41,870.

The Missouri NRA Compliance Board has obtained wage restorations for about 1000 employees whose compensation did not come up to that specified in the codes for their industries, Robert K. Ryland, director of the board, said today.

Most of these adjustments have been procured since Feb. 1, Ryland said.

The amount varied from a few dollars to more than $100, and the total for the period was $41,870, he said.

Adjustments were most numerous in businesses coming under the cotton general retailing and grocery codes.

TWO CONVICTS ESCAPE FROM McNEIL ISLANDPair Seize Motor Boat, Outdistance Pursuers in 4-Mile Race to Mainland.By the Associated Press.
TACOMA, Wash., June 15.—
Possibly today's escape of two convicts who yesterday escaped from the McNeil Island Federal penitentiary, seized a motor boat and outdistanced pursuers in a four-mile race to the mainland.Throughout the night officials of the penitentiary, known as the "prison without walls," led guards through the woods of the Fort Lewis military reservation in search of the men. William L. Fitzmaurice, 34 years old, San Francisco coun-terfeiter, and T. F. Audette, 32, Portland (Ore.) automobile thief.Fitzmaurice and Audette broke through a barred door in the cell block and went through a tunnel leading to the prison's auditorium.
From there, they made their way to the main prison yard. With no tower guards on duty, the prisoners cut their way through a wire gate.Discovered, they broke into a sharp run down a 300-yard incline to the penitentiary's dock, as the prison alarm sounded. Brandishing knives, they overpowered the pilot of the motor boat, hurled him to the dock and started the motor.
Before other boats set out in pursuit they were more than two miles away on the four-mile race to the mainland.Their escape recalled the getaway 14 years ago of Roy Gardner, notorious railway mail robber, who swam a mile to another island.
Gardner was recaptured on the mainland.

McNeil Island penitentiary occupies the island of that name 12 miles south of Tacoma in Puget Sound. The island is roughly three miles long by three miles wide.

While distances to nearby bodies of land vary from one to five miles, the swift tides and the deadly chill of the water have sufficed to make the island virtually escape proof except in those cases where prisoners have been able to obtain boats. Several have tried to swim to freedom at the cost of their lives.TWO ADMIT KILLING GENERAL, ASSERT MACHADO ORDERED ITFormer Cuban Sergeants Also Implicate Chief of Staff in Blas Maso Murder.By the Associated Press.
HAVANA, June 15.—Strengthening the Cuban Government's case against former President Gerardo Machado, two former army sergeants have confessed they killed
Gen. Blas Maso in 1929 "under direct orders" from Machado and Gen. Alberto Herrera, chief of staff of the Cuban army under Machado.
The confession was entered in court records yesterday.Prosecuting Attorney Pablo Lavin said he was demanding death penalties for the two men, Jose
Sanchez Hernandez and Felipe Dague Hernandez, as well as for Machado, Herrera and a former army Major, Santiago Trujillo, implicated in the confession.LUGGAGE

BAKED MUSHROOMS

One pound fresh mushrooms.
One teaspoon salt.
Dash of pepper.
Three tablespoons butter.
One-quarter cup cream.
Clean the mushrooms and place them in a baking dish. Season and dot with butter. Add the cream and bake, covered, till tender in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about 30 minutes.

MARGARINE USED FOR CAKE AND COOKIES

Request Answered for Substitute Shortening Recipe.

We are asked if margarine can be substituted for butter in making cake. We give two recipes, one for cake and the other for cookies, in which margarine is used successfully.

The cake is a white one, sometimes called "bridal cake."

White Cake.

Three-quarters cup margarine.

Two cups sugar.

Three and one-half cups pastry flour.

One-half teaspoon salt.

Three and one-half teaspoons baking powder.

Three-quarters cup evaporated milk.

Three-quarters cup water.

Five egg whites.

One and one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Sift, pour once, measure and combine with other dry ingredients. Sift three times, add dry ingredients and liquids alternately to the creamed mixture. Fold in the egg whites and the flavoring. Pour into cake tins and bake in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes. Three 9-inch layers. Use any desired icing.

Fruit Cookies.

One and one-half cups margarine.

One and one-half cups brown sugar.

Three-quarters cup granulated sugar.

Three eggs, well beaten.

One teaspoon vanilla extract.

One-half teaspoon almond flavoring.

Two tablespoons cold water.

Five cups flour.

One-half teaspoon cinnamon.

Three-quarters teaspoon salt.

One and one-half teaspoon soda.

One cup nutmeats, chopped.

Three-quarters cup raisins, chopped.

Twelve candied cherries, chopped.

Cream margarine and sugar thoroughly and add eggs. Blend well. Combine extracts and water. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add liquids and dry ingredients alternately to the creamed mixture. Add nuts and fruit. Blend well. Roll one-quarter inch thick and cut into fancy shapes. Place on a cookie sheet and bake in a quick oven about eight minutes. (Makes 30 cookies.)

CHEESE PUFFS

Cut rounds of bread two inches in diameter, dip in melted butter. Add one pound grated cheese to stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and one-quarter teaspoon baking powder.

Spread on bread and place under broiler of range. Bake until cheese melts and is slightly brown. Serve with salad.

RASPBERRY SHORTCAKE

One and one-half cups sifted cake flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
Two-thirds cup sugar.
Four tablespoons softened butter or other shortening.
One egg, well beaten.
One-half cup milk.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.
One quart raspberries, crushed and sweetened.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift together three times. Add butter. Combine egg, milk and vanilla and

EGGPLANT WITH PINEAPPLE

Cut an egg plant in two lengthwise. Scoop out most of the pulp and soak in strong salt water an hour or more. Drain and cook in boiling water until tender. Drain again and dry through sieve and mix with one cup bread crumbs, three-quarters cup crushed pineapple, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, and a beaten egg with enough rich milk to make a good stuffing consistency. Stir all together, seasoned with salt and pepper.

CHICKEN HASH

Put six ounces of chicken fine and mix with one cup of cold chopped potatoes. Season with salt and pepper, and add one-fourth cup milk. Brown in a skillet with plenty of fat, fold together like an omelet, and turn out onto a hot platter. Surround with sliced chilled fresh tomatoes.

MAN IN THE MOON SALAD

Six slices pineapple.
One-quarter pound cream or cottage cheese.
Six halves of peaches.
Whole cloves.
Maraschino cherries.
For each of six servings arrange slices of pineapple on bed of lettuce. Fill center with cheese. Top each center with a peach half, cut side down. Make the "old man in the moon's" features on the peach with whole cloves for eyes and nose and the cut bits of cherry for the

another Ivory Soap Contest

WIN ONE OF THESE NEW 1934 PLYMOUTH 4-DOOR DELUXE SEDANS WITH HYDRAULIC BRAKES SAFETY-STEEL BODY INDIVIDUAL WHEEL SPRINGING PATENTED FLOATING POWER

JUST WRITE A LETTER OF 200 WORDS OR LESS ON A SUBJECT YOU PROBABLY KNOW BY HEART...

EASY TO WIN THE 5 BEST USES I HAVE FOUND FOR IVORY SOAP... AND WHY!

Big News! Thousands of Women asked for Another chance to Win a Plymouth! So Ivory Soap gives you another Big contest—as Easy to Win as the first!

Here's the good news for American housewives! The response to the first Ivory Soap Win-A-Car Contest was so enthusiastic—the interest so great—that we're holding another Win-A-Car Contest—just as simple as the first—just as easy to win. Pretty soon now the judges are going to announce the happy winners of the ten new Plymouth DeLuxe Sedans which were offered as prizes in the first contest. In the meantime, here's still another chance to write a letter on a subject you probably know by heart... still another chance to win one of the 1934 Plymouth DeLuxe Sedans. If you didn't take part in the first contest—don't miss this one! Practical housewives are going to win these cars and you may as well be one of them. If you did enter the first contest, by all means write another letter for this second contest and double your chances of winning a big prize.

It would be a thrill, of course, to win any kind of car. But the car you can win in this Ivory Soap contest packs many extra thrills. It's the new DeLuxe Plymouth 4-door Sedan! 15 feet, 6 inches from bumper to bumper... with big-car smartness, roominess and comfort in every inch! America's most up-and-coming automobile!

This sensationally popular Plymouth gives you smooth, quiet power plus the luxurious comfort of Floating Power engine mountings and Individual Wheel Springing. And, in addition, it assures your absolute safety with a Safety-Steel Body and Hydraulic Brakes. What family wouldn't be extra-proud to win a car with all these extra features!

And you can win FREE one of these 1934 Plymouths—or one of 660 other valuable prizes—just by sitting down at your own desk for five minutes and writing in your own words about your experiences with Ivory Soap. We don't want any trick advertising slogans. You don't have to make up words. The women who win prizes in this contest will win just by stating in their own sincere language for what 5 uses they consider Ivory the best soap—and why.

No other soap is so Pure

Almost every woman uses Pure Ivory Soap many times a day, so you can probably write your letter straight from your own experiences. Why do you think Ivory is the best soap to use for your complexion... for your bath, for baby's bath... for Dad's shave... shampoo... baby's clothes, silk stockings... undies... dairy colored clothes... wool blankets... piano keys... picture frames... linoleum... mirrors and windows... porcelain and marble... chintzes and organdy... jewelry and silver... suds for spraying plants. Ivory is the one soap of 1001 uses. And what other soap is so pure?

If you use Ivory regularly your letter should write itself. But just to help you get started, here are a few recent letters from Ivory Soap users. Letters as simple and chatty as these—talking about the five best uses you have found for Ivory Soap—will win the big prizes. It will pay you to read these carefully—they will give you valuable hints.

"Ivory's Purity is our family slogan."

"There's a baby in our home, two other children—also Dad and myself. Baby's being brought up on Ivory baths, because doctor said it was so pure. And she's never had a bit of rash or irritation. We are an Ivory family—use it for bath, complexion and shampoo. Dad would howl plenty if we tried to get him to bathe with a strong, smelly soap! He even uses Ivory Soap for shaving." Mrs. H. T.

"This Pure Soap does Dozens of Jobs"

"Where else could you find such an all-around soap as Ivory? Nowhere, because Ivory is pure. It's so pure I use it as my own complexion soap, and get compliments about my clear, fresh skin. Yet there's always a cake of Ivory in the kitchen doing hard work for me, too—washing dishes, to keep my hands smooth—cleaning enameled woodwork. Tell everybody that Ivory keeps paint so glossy—it doesn't dull it the way impure soaps do. My linoleum looks practically new because the store where I bought it advised me to wash it with pure Ivory suds. I'd be lost without Ivory!" Mrs. J. R.

"A salesgirl told me to wash it with Pure Ivory"

"I wish I could thank the salesgirl who told me 4 years ago to wash anything dainty in Ivory. She's saved me dollars, and that counts in these times! Since then I've washed all my silk and woolen things only with Ivory. And Ivory's the one pure soap that discourages stocking ruin! And I wouldn't dream of letting any of baby's clothes or my husband's socks touch anything but Ivory's pure suds! You can see we are a 100% Ivory family when I tell you that I use it for my face." Mrs. B. L.

Now read the rules carefully and then sit right down at your desk and write your own letter. You don't have to chew on your pencil or grope for words. Remember—a practical housewife has the best chance to win. Don't forget to enclose wrappers (or their facsimiles—see rules) from any size cake of Ivory Soap. And don't forget to write plainly on your letter your own name and address and that of your favorite grocer. Follow the simple rules. Write your letter now—you may win a 1934 Plymouth DeLuxe Sedan! Or one of the other 660 valuable prizes! Write that prize-winning letter now.

RULES

1. Write us in your own words your answer (200 words or less) to the question: "The Five Best Uses I Have Found For Ivory Soap—and Why." Be sure your name and address is plainly written on the letter. Also write plainly on the letter the name and address of the grocer store in your neighborhood which you feel is doing the best job of displaying and featuring Ivory Soap for this contest.

NOTE: We ask you to include this grocer's name and address because housewives who win grocery prizes will receive credit in the amount of the prize with their favorite grocer.

2. To your letter attach 4 Ivory Soap Wrappers (or reasonably accurate facsimiles thereof that you have drawn and colored yourself). Wrappers from any size cake of Ivory Soap will do.

3. Send your letter (with your own name and address and the name and address of your grocer plainly written) and the 4 Ivory Soap Wrappers (or facsimiles thereof) to IVORY WIN-A-CAR CON-TEST, P. O. Box 625, Cincinnati, Ohio.

4. Letters will be judged on the clearness, sincerity and interest of the statements you make about Ivory Soap, and the best letters meeting these requirements. Judges will be Miss Faye J. Hamilton, Household Management Editor, Hamilton, Household Management Editor; Miss Christine Froedrich, Domestic Science Editor; American Sunday Worker. The judges in this contest are entirely unbiased. They have been asked to judge only the effectiveness of the arguments submitted. The opinion of the judges must be accepted as final. In the event of a tie, identical prizes will be awarded to the contestants. All entries submitted become the property of Procter & Gamble.

5. All entries must be postmarked before midnight, July 8th. Prize-winners will be notified by mail as soon as possible after the contest closes.

Contest subject to all provisions of Federal, State and Local Regulation. Procter & Gamble employees and their relatives are not eligible to take part in the contest.

APPROPRIATE SAUCES
SUGGESTED FOR FISH

Good for the Amateur Fisherman's Lucky Week-End Catch.

These are the days when many a man starts out hopefully fishing and, if successful, likes to have a big fuss made over his catch with the family gathering around the dinner table to enjoy it.

Any fish, whether amateur catch or purchased at one of the fine fish shops and markets with which St. Louis is well supplied, is better appreciated if prepared just right with appropriate sauce or stuffing. Here are some suggestions:

Baked With Tartar Sauce.
Wash and dry trout or other fish carefully. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge lightly with flour. Place six strips of bacon over the top and surround with about one-half cupful water. Bake frequently, using one tablespoon butter and one cup water. Bake in a moderate oven for about one hour. The fish may be cut into individual servings or baked in one large piece. Serve with tartar sauce made by mixing three-fourths cup sandwich spread with one-third cup mayonnaise.

Baked With Mustard Sauce.
Cut 1½ pounds fillet into six servings and season lightly with salt and pepper. Lay in shallow, well-greased baking pan. Make a sauce as follows: Melt one tablespoon butter, add one tablespoon flour and blend well. Add one cup boiling water, one tablespoon lemon juice and one tablespoon prepared mustard, and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened (about three minutes). Pour over the fish. Add one tablespoon melted butter to one-half cup dried bread crumbs and sprinkle over fish. Bake in a hot oven for about 20 minutes.

Baked Stuffed Fish.
Wash one medium size fish carefully, dry, sprinkle with salt and pepper, stuff with recipe below, sew up with twine and put in a pan, dredge lightly with flour and place six strips bacon over the top. Add enough water to keep from scorching (about one-half cup). Bake frequently, using one tablespoon butter and one cup water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about one hour. Serve with tomato sauce made by adding a small amount of flour to one small can cream of tomato soup. Cook until thickened.

Fish Stuffing.
Combine two cups dry bread crumbs, one-quarter cup melted butter, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one teaspoon chopped parsley, pepper to taste, few drops onion juice and one tablespoon chopped sweet gherkins, and mix thoroughly. This makes a dry crumbly stuffing.

Fish With Tomato Sauce.
Cut two pounds fish into individual servings. Spread a thin layer

Melt two tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoons flour and stir until well blended. Add one-half teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, one-quarter teaspoon onion juice and one cup milk, and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from fire, and add one-quarter cup ketchup.

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:
"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

FIRST NEW APPLES
HERE THIS WEEK

Home-Grown Red and Black Raspberries in Markets.

The first of the season's apples are reported in this week, rather earlier than usual. Peaches, though not cheap yet, are beginning to come in more briskly with several carloads from Georgia leading this fruit.

Home-grown red and black raspberries and cherries are quite plentiful, and there are also blackberries.

Huckleberries from Arkansas are in, too. Strawberries are to be found only occasionally—that is, of good quality.

Lovers of melons may easily satisfy themselves as there are many varieties of cantaloupe, honeydews and honeyballs.

Gooseberries for jam and jelly are here and there is a great amount of rhubarb. Our grandmothers called this "pieplant," and it's rather a pity that even today it is mostly used for this or sauce.

For rhubarb is delicious in gelatin desserts, in preserves or jams and it's well worth while cultivating a wider use of it.

VEGETABLES HELPED
BY RECENT RAINS

Conditions in the State Reported More Encouraging.

The heavy rains of last week are said to have considerably brightened the vegetable outlook in nearby farms and gardens. That is, for those crops which were not already hopeless because of the long drouth. Shipments of vegetables from other states continue to be plentiful, with Texas leading in supplies.

An interesting shipment this week was the first of the season's yellow bantam corn from Texas. Tomatoes from this same State are coming in many carloads lots. Green corn is coming from several states now and is much cheaper. There is still some asparagus, but its days are numbered now.

There is some fine cauliflower in this week from the State of Washington, which, though higher priced, will be preferred by some, as it is more compact and attractive in appearance than the rather scraggy home-grown cauliflower now on sale.

Lima beans from Florida, butter beans from Alabama and string beans from Alabama and Tennessee are all seen in the markets.

GROUND MEAT BETTER BUY THAN MANY KNOW

For real economy in meat buying, choose ground meats. The inexpensive lean cuts from neck, flank, shank or chuck have delicious flavor and provide important food values. These cuts are often disregarded by the choosy housewife because she thinks she must stew or pot roast them to make them tender. We suggest grinding them. The butcher will gladly put the chosen cut through his electric grinder and give you the trimmings. Ground meat is tender meat and needs only a hasty pan broiling or oven roasting such as is given the choicest meat cut.

In patties, hot or cold, meat loaves, or as stuffings for vegetables, ground meats are always well liked. Fresh pork and ham ground together in equal parts give a delightful flavor for a loaf, as does the combination of beef, veal, and fresh pork. Hamburger (ground lamb), made into patties and wrapped with bacon is as tasty as a lamb chop. Browned sausage mixed with a bread dressing makes a delicious stuffing for peppers, stuffed tomatoes or whole baked squash.

Ham and Mustard Sandwiches. Spread bread with butter mixed with dry mustard and place a slice of ham sprinkled with minced pickle between the slices. Toast lightly in hot oven.

CORN PUFF

Beat yolks of three eggs, add one pint of canned corn, one teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Beat three egg whites until they stand in peaks, then fold into corn mixture.

Put in greased baking dish, and trim crusts from one slice of buttered bread. Cut bread in fingers and lay butter side up across top of dish. Bake about half an hour in moderate oven.

Since the days of the "square-riggers"—the pick of Alaska salmon! Always the rich, red color you like—always the quality you want and expect—yet priced for 1934 budgets. Why not give the family a real treat tomorrow?

REQUESTS FOR MEAT RECIPES ANSWERED

Swiss Steak, Baked Ham Slice and Meat Loaves Included.

Requests for recipes for Swiss steak, meat loaves using cooked and uncooked meat, ham slice baked with potatoes, are answered in this column today.

Swiss Steak.
One pound round steak cut one and one-half inches thick. Three-fourths teaspoon salt. One-eighth teaspoon pepper. One-third cup flour. Two and one-half tablespoons brown drippings. One onion (medium). One-fourth green pepper. One cup boiling water. Rub.

seasoning into both sides of meat. Sprinkle one side with half the flour. Pound it into meat with hammer or the edge of thick plate. Turn and do the same to the other side. Melt drippings in small Dutch oven or iron skillet with sides. Add sliced onion and diced pepper. Four over boiling water. Cover utensil tightly and continue cooking in 375 degrees F. oven for 45 minutes. Add more seasoning and thickening to gravy just before serving if desired.

Ham and Scalloped Potatoes.
One thick slice ham. Four cups sliced raw potatoes. One and one-half cups thin white sauce. Salt and pepper. Cut a slice of Fixed Flavor Star Ham one-half inch thick and flour lightly. Fry each side until it begins to brown, then put into a baking dish, cover with the white sauce and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Turn and bake another half hour. Cut pared potatoes into medium thick slices, boil until almost tender and drain. Arrange in the casserole, lay the

Is Your Child Left Out of Things?

What a headache parents have when their children are left out of things because they're not strong enough to keep up! Many doctors will tell you that children thrive, grow strong, and take on weight (if they're too thin) when they eat Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit at least one meal every day.

Shredded Wheat contains the carbohydrates you need for energy; the proteins you need for tissue building; the vitamins you need for bone; those mysterious vitamins that help you to resist disease, and brain to keep you regular.

Shredded Wheat is easily digested, and does not lie heavy on your stomach. It is the ideal food for hot weather.

Give your child Shredded Wheat. See the difference in the way he feels, the way he plays, and the way he enjoys life. Learn the same lesson for yourself. There's no reason for being anything but happy, healthy, and well!

SHREDDED WHEAT

slice of ham on top, bake 25 minutes.

Meat Loaf.
Two pounds hamburger steak. One egg. One-half onion, chopped. One green pepper, chopped. One-quarter cup evaporated milk. One-quarter cup water. One cup bread crumbs. Two tablespoons chopped parsley. Two teaspoons salt. One-half teaspoon pepper. Have the meat chopped fine, mix it thoroughly with the unbeaten egg, bread crumbs, seasonings and liquid. Form into a flat loaf and fry in hot drippings until well browned, about 15 minutes. Remove to a well greased baking plate or baking pan, and lay strips of bacon over the meat. Place in a moderate oven, and complete cooking, allowing 45 minutes.

Four tablespoons quick-cooking Tapioca. Three-quarters cup tomato juice or meat broth.

One-half teaspoon salt. Dash of Cayenne. Dash of black pepper. One-half teaspoon onion, finely chopped. One teaspoon parsley, finely cut. Three-quarter pound (three and one-half cups) cooked meat, ground. Combine ingredients in a mixture and mix well. Shape into loaf in roaster or large pan. Bake in hot oven 30 minutes; then decrease heat to moderate and bake 30 minutes longer, basting frequently during the baking with a mixture of one cup hot water and four tablespoons butter. Serve with tomato sauce.

ORANGE MUFFINS

Sift two and one-fourth cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-third cup sugar; add grated rind of one orange. Combine juice of one orange and enough water to make one cup, with two egg yolks, and two tablespoons melted shortening; beat in dry ingredients. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake in muffin pans 25 minutes in hot oven and serve with jellied fruit for dessert.

EUROPEAN RECIPES GIVEN FOR CABBAGE

Old German, Russian and Belgian Savory Suggestions.

There is one vegetable which should appeal to bargain hunters just now more than usual. It costs actually less than it cost a year ago, and it was then comparatively cheap, we thought. This is old friend cabbage, of such ancient and honorable lineage that it ranks with wheat and rice and beans in the history of the human race.

We eat more cabbage in this country than any other vegetable except potatoes. Certainly we come by the taste very naturally. Our forefathers were cabbage eaters long before they came to America—for generations back. The early settlers of America brought their cabbages with them across the sea—and we are still planting and eating this transplanted product of the kitchen gardens of Europe.

Which is all very much to the good, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, for cabbage is one of the best of leafy vegetables as well as one of the cheapest. It supplies minerals and vitamins which we must have, and we need the leafy roughage, too, for good digestion.

There was, however, in the light of what we know today, something very wrong about the old-time ways of cooking cabbage. Look over some of the old cook books and you will see. "Steam one and one-half hours," "bake for two hours," "boil three hours," and so on—such are the directions, over and over again. That explains, probably, why some people do not like cabbage, and many abominate the odor which pervades the house when cabbage is cooked in the old, long-time way. But if you cook cabbage five, 10 or 15 minutes only, instead of hours, those complaints will be dispensed of. Delicate flavor, delicate texture and no "cabbage odor" at all in the house are the results of short-time cooking. More important still, by short-time cooking you prevent the loss of food value that comes from long cooking of the foods which, like cabbage, are rich in vitamin C.

There is much to be learned, however, from the old world ways of serving cabbage, even if they did cook it to death. We steam or boil and butter it, we cream it and scallop it, we use it in slaw hot and cold, and in salads. But there are other ways we might copy—especially from Germany, Scandinavia, Russia and the Near East. For example: The Russian dish called tsche is a beef stew with cabbage, onions, leeks, a parsnip and sour cream.

There is the German steamed cabbage, which combines deliciously with ham, or any other meat for that matter. This is seasoned first with vinegar, and later with a little sweet cream or top milk. Then there is German fried sauerkraut—fried in fat in six minutes in a little fat. There is a beef stew with cabbage, onions, leeks, a parsnip and sour cream.

Or there is cabbage with sausage—the sausages fried and arranged on a hot platter with chopped cabbage which has been cooked for six minutes in a little fat. There is cabbage scalloped with bread crumbs and cheese; or cabbage and carrots in a lamb stew; or sweet and sour cabbage (red or white) which is cooked with sour apples and seasoned with brown sugar and vinegar. Or there is filled cabbage, a favorite in several countries, which is the cabbage head with the center taken out and replaced with stuffing, then the whole stuffed cabbage baked in the oven.

Stuffed Cabbage Rolls.
In the Near East, and elsewhere in Europe, they make cabbage rolls, which are sometimes called stuffed cabbage, although really each separate leaf is first wilted and then added around a mixture of chopped meat and bread crumbs, or meat and rice, or maybe rice and raisins. These rolls are then cooked, perhaps in a baking dish with a little water, and served with gravy, or perhaps in well-seasoned tomato juice.

Dutch salad, like other raw cabbage dishes, is highly recommended by nutritionists because of the high vitamin value of cabbage leaves before they are cooked. (Raw cabbage is interchangeable with tomatoes and oranges for its vitamin C content.) Dutch salad is shredded cabbage sprinkled with crisp bits of fried bacon or salt pork. Over this pour a dressing of the pork fat, vinegar, salt, pepper and dry mustard.

German Steamed Cabbage.
Two quarts shredded cabbage. One teaspoon salt. One-quarter cup vinegar. One-quarter cup sweet cream or top milk. Steam cabbage until just tender (about 15 minutes). Add salt and vinegar and when cool add cream and serve. Or serve hot if preferred. Sour cream may be used instead of vinegar and sweet cream.

Filled Cabbage.
One large cabbage. Two cups dry bread crumbs. Two tablespoons bacon or salt-pork drippings. One large onion, chopped fine. One pound ground beef. Seasonings (pepper, salt, nutmeg, parsley, sage).

Scoop out center of cabbage head, and parboil shell for about 10 minutes in a cheesecloth bag to keep leaves in shape for refilling. Chop center part fine as for slaw. Brown chopped onion in bacon or salt pork drippings, add ground beef, chopped cabbage and bread crumbs, and stir until heated. Add seasonings and put the mixture back into cabbage shell. Bake, uncover, in a pan or baking dish with a little water until cabbage is just tender.

The old-world recipes call for two eggs in the stuffing, but these may well be omitted. The seasonings, of course, may be varied according to taste.

Belgian Red Cabbage.
Two sticks cinnamon. Salt and pepper. One-half teaspoon cloves. One onion, sliced thin. One bay leaf. Two cups water. Three tablespoons pork drippings. Five or six firm, tart apples peeled and cut in quarters. One medium-sized red cabbage, sliced thin. Two tablespoons vinegar. Two tablespoons sugar.

Put seasonings in water, add apples and then cabbage. Cook until just tender, add vinegar and sugar. Cook about one minute more. The appearance of this dish is better when hard winter apples are used. Summer apples, as a rule, cook up too much.

Tsche (Russian).
Two pounds beef brisket cut in small cubes. Three pints water. One medium-sized cabbage, chopped. Two onions, sliced. One parsnip, sliced. One tablespoon flour. One-quarter cup sour cream. Salt and pepper.

Cook meat in three pints of water until almost done, then add vegetables and cook until all are tender. Mix sour cream and flour, add some of the hot liquid and stir until smooth, then add to stew. Season to taste and serve hot. Small pan cakes (buckwheat preferred) are often served with tsche.

PRUNE-RADISH SALAD
One cup cooked prunes. One-half cup finely diced pineapple. One cup sliced radishes. Pit prunes and cut into slices. Blend prunes, pineapple and radishes with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce. Serves 4.

Licked when it's hot?

If you pass up hot, heavy foods get summer energy from this protective fruit

Authorities tell us we should depend more on protective foods for our energy—especially in hot summer weather, when it's hard even to think about eating!

This way we add vitamins, minerals, alkalinity and other vital factors to our diets.

Among the best of protective foods is delicious Canned Hawaiian Pineapple. Latest research shows that it combines many factors that help balance the diet, make it safer...and that, besides, Canned Pineapple supplies quick "summer energy"!

Keep cans of pineapple chilling in your refrigerator; eat some every day. Two slices or a Pineapple Cup of crushed or tidbits is the proper serving. And add the delicious flavor of this fruit to hot-weather dishes you like best—the cool inviting salads, appetizers and desserts. There are many attractive ways to serve Canned Hawaiian Pineapple.

LOST! a wealth of happy song!

Don't blame your canary if he doesn't sing. He does his best with the food you give him. A "starvation diet," lacking in nourishment, won't encourage song!

Warning!

Unless you are sure his seed is well-balanced and wholesome, you're taking chances! Change to French's Bird Seed and Biscuit. It's a complete food, furnishing a perfect balance of the health and song essentials every canary needs. Air-Washed to avoid a "diet of dust."

French's Bird Biscuit—which sells regularly for 10c—is included in every package of French's Bird Seed. It is a rare tonic treat that rounds out the perfect diet.

French's Bird Gravel gives canaries "teeth" to aid digestion. It is clean, hard and sharp—as it should be.

VEGETABLE OMELETS FOR MEATLESS DAYS EVERY-DAY JELLY DAY FOR MANY WOMEN

Asparagus Garnish or Filling of Mixed Vegetables Good.

Requests for asparagus omelets are answered today and we also include one for a mixed vegetable omelet.

The asparagus in this recipe is used on the side with the omelet, but it may be cut up and creamed and used as a filling between folds of the omelet.

With Fresh Asparagus.

Five eggs.

One-half teaspoon cream of tartar.

Two tablespoons flour.

One-half teaspoon salt.

Dash of pepper.

Five tablespoons evaporated milk.

Two tablespoons butter.

Cooked asparagus.

Separate eggs. Beat yolks until lemon colored and thick. Add flour, salt and pepper to yolks and mix until smooth, then add milk. Beat whites until foamy, add cream of tartar and whip until stiff but not too dry. Fold yolk mixture thoroughly but lightly into whites. Heat butter bubbling hot in large frying or omelet pan. Pour in egg mixture. Cook over a low flame until bottom is well browned, about 20 minutes. Set in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) to dry top. Put the desired number of cooked asparagus stalks (canned asparagus may also be used) on a heat proof platter and sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Put in oven while top of omelet is drying. With a spatula or pancake turner, fold omelet and slide it into platter next to asparagus. Garnish with sautéed mushrooms. Serve immediately. Serve six.

With Mixed Vegetables.

One-half cup peas.

One-half cup diced celery.

Two-thirds cup diced carrots.

Two tablespoons sliced onions.

Two tablespoons butter.

Dash of salt.

Dash of pepper.

One recipe omelet.

Cook peas, celery and carrots in a small amount of briskly boiling salted water 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Sauté onion in butter until tender; add to other vegetables. Season with salt and pepper; place vegetables between folded layers of omelet, serving six persons.

BROWNIES

One-half cup butter or other shortening.

One cup sugar.

Three-quarters cup flour.

One-quarter teaspoon salt.

One-half teaspoon baking powder.

Two squares unsweetened chocolate.

One cup walnut meats, broken in small pieces.

One teaspoon vanilla.

We give by request this reliable brownie recipe:

Cream shortening, add sugar and well-beaten eggs.

Sift flour once, measure; then sift flour, salt and baking powder together, and add to creamed mixture. Add chocolate, previously melted.

Stir in nuts and vanilla. Pour into well-greased shallow pan and bake about 30 minutes. Cut in squares while still warm.

RICE AND CHEESE CROQUETTES

Eight ounces cheese.

One-half cup milk.

One tablespoon flour.

One tablespoon fat.

Two cups cooked rice.

One egg.

Two tablespoons milk.

Melt fat. Blend with flour and salt. Stir in milk and cook until mixture thickens. Add cheese. Cook over a low heat until smooth. Add rice and beaten egg just before removing from stove. Chill, then shape into croquettes and roll in fine cracker crumbs. Roll in egg diluted with milk and again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees F. or until a cube of bread browns in 60 seconds.

A Few Glasses at a Time Is Convenient Modern Plan.

The thoughtful woman, anxious for generous supplies of jelly, jams and other sweets for her family's pleasure is putting up a few glasses or jars every day or so now as she sees fruit bargains in the markets.

For prospects are not very bright with the long dry spell cutting down vitus in many sections, so she watches carefully and picks up a few boxes here and there as she can.

With the short-bill method made possible by the use of fruit pectin, it's a quick and easy job making jelly or jam these days, and women do it on short notice.

Sweet Cherry and Gooseberry Jelly.

Four cups juice.

Seven cups sugar.

One bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, stem (do not pit) and crush about two pounds fully ripe cherries. Crush about one and one-half pounds fully ripe gooseberries. Combine fruits. Add one-fourth cup water and bring to a boil; cover and simmer 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 glasses.

This recipe and the one following are designed to give slow setting, tender jellies. It may take a week for them to reach a usable set.

Blueberry and Sour Cherry Jelly.

Four cups juice.

Seven and one-half cups sugar.

One bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, crush about one and one-half pounds fully ripe blueberries. Stem (do not pit) and crush two pounds fully ripe cherries. Combine fruits. Add one-fourth cup water and bring to a boil; cover and simmer 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 glasses.

Sour Cherry and Red Raspberry Jam.

Four cups prepared fruit.

Seven and one-half cups sugar.

One-half bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, stem and pit about one and one-fourth pounds fully ripe cherries; chop thoroughly or grind. Crush or grind about one quart fully ripe raspberries. Combine fruits.

Measure sugar into large kettle. Add prepared fruit, filling up the rest with water if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Skim; pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 11 glasses.

EGGPLANT WITH TOMATOES

One medium-sized eggplant.

One egg.

Two or three ripe tomatoes.

One-half teaspoon salt.

One cup crushed cornflakes.

Peel eggplant. Slice thin. Dip in beaten egg, then in cornflakes. Fry until tender and brown on both sides in skillet containing about one-fourth inch melted fat. Cut tomatoes in round slices about one-half inch thick. Dip in cornflakes but not in egg. Brown in frying pan in hot fat until nicely brown and tender. Serve one slice of tomato on each slice of eggplant.

SIE
FAIRMOUNT'S FUTURE JEOPARDIZED BY NEW RULE, EDDY SAYS
FAIRMOUNT CHARGE OF DOLLAR WILL RUIN PATRONAGE
HERE, HE THINKS
By Dent McKimling.
If a man can't lift 100 pounds, would you ask him to step up and do it?
That is the enigmatic answer of Robert S. Eddy, general manager of Fairmount Jockey Club to the question of the Illinois Racing Commission that this new admission charge will ruin the business of racing.
"If you can't get people in sufficient numbers to come to the races
when the admission price is 50 cents, how in the world are you going to get them to come out when you charge a dollar?" he wants to explain.
It so happens that the ruling prohibiting the issuance of so-called passes does not have any bearing upon the current Fairmount meeting. There are thousands of season passes to the Fairmount races in circulation and they will be honored throughout the meeting, the management announced yesterday.
However, Fairmount officials are seriously worried over the question of a minimum admission charge, as it will apply to future meetings.
The new edict of the commission governing racing in Illinois specifies that the minimum charge shall be $1. from which the track shall pay all tax charges. At the present time, the great majority of Fairmount patrons pay 50 cents upon showing a "pass." The effect of the new ruling would be to double the admission charge for the average race patron in this area.
"Looks like a boomerang," Eddy says. "The object of the commission was to increase the State revenue. But the net result, as I see it, will be to reduce the revenue."
Fairmount, then, is opposed to the new regulation? "He was asked."
"Positively," was the answer — but in stronger terms. "We have no marvel with anyone on the pass question here. The data on which this regulation goes into effect is the opening day at Arlington Park.
That makes it appear that Arlington
Park initiated this new movement.
Now it appears to me that if Arlington Park did not care to issue passes, the Illinois Racing Commission would do to do to decline to issue passes. Arlington Park's pass problem is not our problem, but the state-wide order of the Illinois Racing Commission ties us up in the same as it does Arlington Park."
"Why Not Close Handbooks?"
"And," continued Eddy, as he waxed up to his subject, "if the Illinois Racing Commission wants to do something really constructive in racing, let it devote its time to improving the handbook business instead of issuing regulatory measures. Do you know that the handbooks are becoming so vast in numbers and so easily available that it will soon be impossible to operate a race track?
"Of course I know that the Illinois Racing Commission couldn't do anything along that line that would affect our business here, because we draw largely from the Missouri side, but I mean as a general principle. The Illinois Racing Commission is devoting entirely too much time to the business of regulating the operation of tracks instead of doing something constructive for the racing game. This new ruling is not going to do one penny of good for the racing game or for the revenue of the State."
"For example," he continued, "we at Fairmount are charging and turning over to the State and Federal Government the required tax on every admission, whether it be cash or pass. Presuming that the new regulation be in force at our next meeting, the State and Federal Government could not possibly get any more revenue than it is getting now, and probably will get less because our admission price will be arbitrarily raised from 50 cents to $1.00, which, as it looks to me now, will reduce our attendance by at least a thousand per cent."
"But," interposed the reporter,
"You can't operate with the average of one thousand fewer patrons than you have at this meeting, can you?"
"Can't Operate on $1 Admission."
"Certainly not," Eddy replied.
"This thing opens up a very serious question. Chicago with its four million within a 40-mile radius may have one set of circumstances to take care of — we have another.
They asked me, at the eleventh hour, to fly up there by airplane to attend the meeting at which this plan was devised. I told them I couldn't fly to that meeting or to any other meeting. I'm busy managing this here. I asked them what meeting was all about and they told me it was a very secret subject. I told them I didn't care how secret it was, I wanted to know what it was all about and they said they couldn't tell me except that it was about passes. I didn't attend.
Now I read that there will be a minimum admission charge of a dollar at all Illinois tracks. I hope that the Illinois Racing Commission will soon turn its attention to building up the racing game and not spending its time issuing mandates and regulations which hamper the people who are trying to keep the racing game alive."
And so, race patrons, it appears

been so different—the result yesterday. Broaca opened wildly and walked Cliff and West to start the game.

First Shutout for Browns.

Here will depart immediately for the jump and to turn a young pitcher's dream of victory into a nightmare of defeat. So, what? Nothing much except the Browns suddenly went Soviet on the bases and on Burns' lap to Gehrig. West ran Cliff off third and caused that young gentleman's baseball demise in a run-up. A double play on a ball that Ben Blewett School runner would have played safe. After that the Browns might as well have been in Hawaii. They certainly didn't make their presence felt in the Yankee Stadium.

The score, as you all know, was 7 to 0, and it was the first time this year the Browns had been unable to score. And, it was as pretty a whitewash job as any pitcher could hope for.

Newsom vs. Murphy.

Manager Hornsby still has an idea that the Browns can beat the Yankees, and today, instead of using Blaeholder or Coffman, as was his original intention, he will shoot in Buck Newsom in opposition, probably, to Fordham Johnny Murphy. Murphy defeated the Browns, 4 to 1, on five hits, at St. Louis on May 28. Newsom talked a good game in the lobby this morning and it's already down in his book as a Newsom victory.

Following today's game, the Browns will depart for the question Boston, where, tomorrow, they open a five-game, three-day series with the Red Sox, now tied with the Browns at 500. A single game is due tomorrow with doubleheaders. COLLEGE'S SYRIZA ROBERTS. No Doubt. BEST PARRY—Capitalist, Drole Folly, HARRY to place.

SOFTBALL TITLE WON BY HOLY INNOCENTS

Two runs in the fifth inning gave the Holy Innocents softball team a 2-0 victory over the Corpus Christi outfit and the championship of the Parochial School Softball League yesterday afternoon at National Softball Park.

Holy Innocents had won the title in the city division, while Corpus Christi had taken the county group championship.

The Arthur Donnelly Memorial Trophy will be awarded to the Holy Innocents team on June 25 at the Knights of Columbus hall, 3547 Olive street.

The Yanks took in sending a collegian in against the Browns. Not a single Brownie in yesterday's lineup, except the third pitcher, McAffee, ever saw a college except at a big football game. McAffee graduated from the University of Michigan.

Something seems wrong with Bill Dickey, the Yankee catcher. He always was a great hitter, especially against the Browns. In the two games here, he hasn't hit safely and hasn't hit a ball hard.

In the last four games, 33 of the Browns have struck out. Two left-handers and two of the right-handers were operated for the enemy.

Today's the last day for major league trades. The deadline is midnight. There may be something doing.

Mack Signs Pitcher.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Vernon, left-handed pitcher of the University of Indiana team, yesterday was signed by the Athletics.

Champion Reaches Semi-Final Round In Negro Tennis

Charles Graham, defending champion from Tulsa, Ok., continued his easy progress to a successful defense of his title in the St. Louis open tennis championship for Negroes, by defeating Russell Smith, 7-5, 6-1, in a quarterfinal round match yesterday afternoon on the Tandy courts.

In the boys' division, William Andrews, who eliminated the defending champion, Arthur Randalls, in an early round, went to the finals in his division by winning 1-6, 6-3 from Wendell Pruitt.

In the junior singles, Bo Madden and Ernest Grady qualified for the finals, Madden defeating Robert Taylor 6-3, 7-5, while Grady won 6-2, 6-4 from Preston Ingram Jr. Yesterday's results:

TRACK STARS PRACTICE FOR PRINCETON MEET

By the Associated Press.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 15.—With the arrival of Milton Sandler, former New York University star, to complete the ranks of the half-centers, 11 of the 22 entrants in tomorrow's all-star track meet went through their last hard workouts in Palmer Stadium.

Glenn Cunningham, famed Kansas miler, and his coach, Bill Hargis, were expected yesterday, but wrote they could not come from New York until today, when John W. Follows, favorite in the two-mile event, and Bob Kane, 48.5-second quarter miler from Cornell, all are due.

All the athletes here appeared in good shape except Joe Mangano, whose knee injury continues to bother him slightly.

Brownie Notes

NEW YORK, June 15.

If Bruce Campbell fails to make the major league grade, he'll never be able to say that Hornsby didn't give him a chance. The Rejals in right field today. In the two New York games, Garmis has failed to hit so, perhaps, Hornsby figures Campbell can't do any worse.

That yesterday was an off-day for Hornsby's team is indicated not only by that first-inning bit of base running, but by the fact that, in the fourth, Ben Chapman sent up a foul and Burns thought Hemsley was going after it while Hemsley had the idea that Burns would take it. As a result, neither came within yards of the catch and Chapman then tripped.

The aged Mr. Ruth continues to worry pitchers. Andrews, just missing the plate, walked Crockett and Ruth in the first inning. He worked the count to 3-2 on Ruth and then had to put one over. It was last seen high in the right field seats. It was No. 10 for the Old Man of Manhattan.

While all those Brownies were striking out, only two Yanks fanned. They were both Mr. Ruth who didn't care so much for what his old friend, Ed Wells, served him in the third and fifth.

Harland Clift has made one hit in New York, but at bat. We're more familiar with the atomic theory, we'd try to figure out that average.

Those who said that Rollie Hemsley was "far over his head" when he was leading the league in hitting, are certainly having their inning. The Browns' catcher has made four hits in his last 30 times at bat. To be just, however, his failure to hit hasn't spoiled the young man's work behind the bat. He's hustling as hard as ever, hit or no hits.

That was an unfair advantage.

FAIRMOUNT'S FUTURE JEOPARDIZED BY NEW RULE, EDDY SAYS

FAIRMOUNT CHARGE OF DOLLAR WILL RUIN PATRONAGE HERE, HE THINKS

By Dent McKimling.

If a man can't lift 100 pounds, would you ask him to step up and do it?

That is the enigmatic answer of Robert S. Eddy, general manager of Fairmount Jockey Club to the question of the Illinois Racing Commission that this new admission charge will ruin the business of racing.

"If you can't get people in sufficient numbers to come to the races when the admission price is 50 cents, how in the world are you going to get them to come out when you charge a dollar?" he wants to explain.

It so happens that the ruling prohibiting the issuance of so-called passes does not have any bearing upon the current Fairmount meeting. There are thousands of season passes to the Fairmount races in circulation and they will be honored throughout the meeting, the management announced yesterday.

However, Fairmount officials are seriously worried over the question of a minimum admission charge, as it will apply to future meetings.

The new edict of the commission governing racing in Illinois specifies that the minimum charge shall be $1. from which the track shall pay all tax charges. At the present time, the great majority of Fairmount patrons pay 50 cents upon showing a "pass." The effect of the new ruling would be to double the admission charge for the average race patron in this area.

"Looks like a boomerang," Eddy says. "The object of the commission was to increase the State revenue. But the net result, as I see it, will be to reduce the revenue."

Fairmount, then, is opposed to the new regulation? "He was asked."

"Positively," was the answer — but in stronger terms. "We have no marvel with anyone on the pass question here. The data on which this regulation goes into effect is the opening day at Arlington Park. That makes it appear that Arlington Park initiated this new movement. Now it appears to me that if Arlington Park did not care to issue passes, the Illinois Racing Commission would do to do to decline to issue passes. Arlington Park's pass problem is not our problem, but the state-wide order of the Illinois Racing Commission ties us up in the same as it does Arlington Park."

"Why Not Close Handbooks?"

"And," continued Eddy, as he waxed up to his subject, "if the Illinois Racing Commission wants to do something really constructive in racing, let it devote its time to improving the handbook business instead of issuing regulatory measures. Do you know that the handbooks are becoming so vast in numbers and so easily available that it will soon be impossible to operate a race track?

"Of course I know that the Illinois Racing Commission couldn't do anything along that line that would affect our business here, because we draw largely from the Missouri side, but I mean as a general principle. The Illinois Racing Commission is devoting entirely too much time to the business of regulating the operation of tracks instead of doing something constructive for the racing game. This new ruling is not going to do one penny of good for the racing game or for the revenue of the State."

"For example," he continued, "we at Fairmount are charging and turning over to the State and Federal Government the required tax on every admission, whether it be cash or pass. Presuming that the new regulation be in force at our next meeting, the State and Federal Government could not possibly get any more revenue than it is getting now, and probably will get less because our admission price will be arbitrarily raised from 50 cents to $1.00, which, as it looks to me now, will reduce our attendance by at least a thousand per cent."

"But," interposed the reporter, "You can't operate with the average of one thousand fewer patrons than you have at this meeting, can you?"

"Can't Operate on $1 Admission."

"Certainly not," Eddy replied.

"This thing opens up a very serious question. Chicago with its four million within a 40-mile radius may have one set of circumstances to take care of — we have another. They asked me, at the eleventh hour, to fly up there by airplane to attend the meeting at which this plan was devised. I told them I couldn't fly to that meeting or to any other meeting. I'm busy managing this here. I asked them what meeting was all about and they told me it was a very secret subject. I told them I didn't care how secret it was, I wanted to know what it was all about and they said they couldn't tell me except that it was about passes. I didn't attend. Now I read that there will be a minimum admission charge of a dollar at all Illinois tracks. I hope that the Illinois Racing Commission will soon turn its attention to building up the racing game and not spending its time issuing mandates and regulations which hamper the people who are trying to keep the racing game alive."

And so, race patrons, it appears

CAVALCADE WILL MEET CHICSTRAW IN THE $25,000 DETROIT DERBY

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, June 15.—With Mrs. Dodge Sloane's great three-year-old, Cavalcade, topping the stellar field for tomorrow's Derby with its purse of $25,000 added money, racing fans today looked forward to a clarification of the three-year-old championship situation.

Cavalcade won the Kentucky and American Derbies and has been trailed all the season by Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, also entered in tomorrow's headline. The other threat to Mrs. Sloane's racer is George D. Widener's Chickstraw, which defeated Cavalcade in the Walden Handicap at Falmouth.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that Cavalcade as a two-year-old defeated Chickstraw in three previous races.

With this triangular problem the fans had difficulty in selecting their favorites. It was expected that the horse which comes through ahead tomorrow will settle the disputed title once and for all.

BAER STOPS CARNERA, WINS WORLD'S TITLE

ment and took what was handed to him. And he would still have been fighting in the eleventh round, if Referee Art Donovan had not taken pity on him and called it off. At the end Primo was on his feet and willing but apparently out of control as far as his legs were concerned.

The finish came as something of a surprise. After the third round, Max had slowed down materially. In fact, Carnera, in his clumsy way, might have been credited with a shade on points in any or all of the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds. Ringsiders were wondering if Max was weakening. Perhaps there was something to the story that he was not in condition to go 15 rounds.

"Looks like Carnera will get him yet," suggested an Italian sympathizer.

Baer Opens Another Rally.
Perhaps Max heard that one. In any case, in the tenth round he set out to disprove what Carnera crowded him, he curved over a right hook that sent the Italian back on his heels, bleeding at the nose. He followed it up and Primo staggered into the ropes and went down.

He got up wobbling and Referee Donovan went between the men, trying to get Baer to go to his corner. However, Carnera was on his feet and under the rules was legitimate prey. Donovan split the men but it didn't matter. Primo, Max floored him again and the bell was all that saved the finish then.

In the eleventh round, Carnera came out looking fairly good and forced the pace. But he hadn't the stuff. He ran into a right and went down. Imagine the "big one," as Bill Brown called him, refusing to take a count, in his condition! No sir! Me, I'm Carnera the champion! Up he got for the "eleventh time with never a count. He took one on the lug that sent him staggering into his corner, upright but helpless. That was too much for the referee. He called it a day.

Primo Is N' Convincing.
Primo really showed he had courage. In fact, after the third round, he seemed to regain his poise and his strength, somewhat. Once or twice he landed a good blow to Baer's head. In the eighth round it looked like he might have hurt his foe. While Max was coasting, Primo won two or three rounds on points. But at no time did he seem convincing. Ringsiders were satisfied after the first five rounds of the opening round that Carnera had met his match. He could not hit his target often and when he did land he had no power behind the punch.

Baer, on the other hand, surprised many of those who thought he was just a playboy. He clowned only once or twice and then only because he saw that Carnera was through. He fought a very careful fight. He struck few blows and he used them to good advantage. He is a better fighter than this writer credited him with being.

He crouched, shifted, backed away and enticed Carnera into following him. Frequently he would go for half a round without striking a blow. When he let drive, he had figured out his opponent and he usually covered a telling punch. He looked like a smart fighter.

Has Fighting Disposition.
Has fighting disposition. Well, we'll have to wait and see about Max. He can hit—at least he can hit men like Carnera. He's cool and has a fine fighting disposition. But there are no Dempseys on the horizon to test his real merit. Today the best heavyweight prospect is supposed to be Steve Hamas. And try to sell him to an excited public at $25 the ringside seat. Baer should take him apart.

Jack Dempsey, still going big in popularity, was at ringside. When Baer won he put on the only case of real enthusiasm we have ever seen Dempsey develop.

There isn't any doubt that the Livermore Larruper, or what have you, has a loyal supporter in Jack. Of course, a lot of us could be loyal at 75 per cent of a winner's share of a gate of more than $400,000.

After the fight, Carnera exhibited a swollen right ankle, which he

WRAX'S COLUMN

NEW YORK, June 15.

New Yorkers Like Frisch.

OUR Frankie Frisch, who, years considered, should be hearing the nads of his career, is nearer it's zenith, according to the view of some 14,000 New York fans. In the voting contest being conducted here for the all-star team players who will defend the prestige of their respective major leagues, a lefty Gomez, a Lou Gehrig, and other players with baseball haloes, he should be picked ahead of the local celebrities.

Perhaps New York remembers Frankie from his McGraw days, as the "Fordham Flash." Frisch was one of the infield leaders of his day—or any other day, for the matter of that.

Frisch has earned his honors. While Gehrigger of Detroit may have something on him at bat, Frankie is hitting .305—there isn't a pitcher in either league who would not rather have Frisch plugging up that gap around second base than either Gehrigger or Oscar Melillo. The years have proved Frisch about the most dependable man defensively that the National League has known since Hornsby was in his prime.

FRISCH

What, Another One?

BILLY MCCARNEY, may his shadow increase—but not too much—is handing us another Luther McCarthy. McCarthy has handled many a fighter and lots of good ones, just at this time he has Steve Dudas, who is all that Billy once hoped Luther McCarthy would be.

He weighs 187 pounds and it's just as good as if he weighed a ton. Hard as nails, young, can punch, and unbeaten as an amateur or professional, and so on ad infinitum. McCarthy speaking.

Still, William is a pretty good judge of fighting men, and perhaps—in fact we hope—he has at last connected with a heavyweight who can wake the ringsiders up out of their slumbers.

But for a leaky heart valve, way back when Jess Willard was just beginning to peep and Al Peley was a white hope, McCarthy might have become world's champion.

He had everything, including a fighting disposition. Too bad he had to start out just when he looked up like a mountain in the prize ring. Too bad for McCarthy, too—it took him 20 years to get another winner. That was Max Schmeling, who, with Joe Jacobs, Billy steered into a title.

Better Lay Off.

JACK DEMPSEY, who is still being pressured to accept the job of matchmaker for the Madison Square Garden Corporation, will do well not to yield to temptation.

From the writer's observation of Garden affairs, Jack would butt into a highly organized situation that could easily cause him a lot of grief. Apparently the impending change in administration sprained in one of his tumbles to the canvas in the first round and which his handlers declared slowed him up as the fight progressed. He had a swelling on the left side of his face where most of Baer's vicious right-handers connected. His nose and mouth were cut and bruised and his body blotchy red from the blinding effects of Baer's blows.

Roth Defeats Hall.

E. B. Roth, 77 years old, defeated Lester M. Hall, 32 years of age, 20-44, in a second round Perpetual Youth handicap billiard tournament match yesterday afternoon at Peterson's. Hall was shooting for 65. C. H. Fessenden, 75, will oppose W. H. Henry, 74, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

tion of garden affairs has demoralized the working force. Until somebody straightens out that angle the matchmaking task will be no sinecure. In the last 12 months boxing has resulted in about a half million dollars worth of red ink and you don't laugh off figures of that sort in these days.

The fact is that boxing is no longer an asset to the Garden's indoor career, although the club was originally founded and the building erected on the theory that boxing was to be the bread winner. Hockey and circuses do more than boxing to keep the garden a going concern.

CAVALCADE THE ACE

RAINER BOB SMITH of the Brookmeade Stables, has sent Cavalcade after another Derby at Detroit, to be run tomorrow. A victory would be No. 3 for Cavalcade. He would need only one more to tie the record of Black Gold and the famous Letham, as Claude, each of whom won four derbies in his three-year-old form.

Cavalcade, however, has a fine chance to win his four derbies without suffering a defeat in a Derby, whereas Black Gold and Claude missed chances to make a record of five victories. Cavalcade, by winning the Detroit and the Latonia derbies, could set a record unequalled in American history. Two of the derbies won by Black Gold and Claude were secondary events. Cavalcade could win four major events by adding to his Kentucky and American Derby successes, victories in the Detroit and the Latonia derbies.

That he is the most consistent three-year-old there is no longer any doubt. Bob Smith, his trainer, thought High Quest, the best of his young racers, but he probably has changed his mind since High Quest succumbed to Peace Chance in the Belmont Stakes—the only real Derby run in the United States.

Any time Cavalcade starts you can't reasonably select a three-year-old to beat him. He has done everything that has been asked of him, under weight, over a route, he comes from behind to do his stuff. He has been within inches of his form in every race and in time that equaled, bettered, or at least approached the record for the distance he competed in.

Consistency is the greatest asset in man or horse. Like Galant Fox, Cavalcade can do his stuff after a race and be depended upon. He may not be another "Man O'War," but they'll have to beat him every time he goes to the post for our money. He gives 100 per cent every time he starts, his record shows.

Publicity Mad.

THAT explains Max Baer. Normally Max is a pretty decent fellow. He talks quite intelligently. If you want him to talk that way. Nobody's fool, is Max. If he thinks there is the possibility of head lines in you, he'll do his stuff, just as you like it.

Diszy Dean talks without thinking. Max talks just as wildly as Diszy—after he has thought it over. Knows what he's doing all the time, every day, and doesn't get too big a load of the idea that the first word in Max's bright lexicon is "Jane."

He's just another Broadway boy trying to struggle along, aided by eight-column streamers.

AMERICAN ATHLETES TO MAKE FOREIGN TOUR

By the Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 15.—Twenty-one outstanding athletes in the American outdoor track and field championships under the auspices of the A. A. U. in the Marquette University Stadium, June 29-30, will be selected for two all-star teams scheduled to visit Sweden and Japan this summer.

Lyman Bingham, assistant to Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U., said today that seven which will leave Milwaukee, July 7, for a tour of Sweden. Fourteen are to be picked for a visit in Japan, beginning Aug. 15.

BRAXTON WINS HIS NINTH GAME IN A. A.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Garland Braxton, who failed to make the grade with several major league clubs, is southpawing his way through the American Association at a clip which may earn him another trial in higher company.

Yesterday Braxton let St. Paul down with six hits as Milwaukee defeated the Saints, 15 to 2, in the final game of their series. It was the veteran lefthander's ninth victory of the season against three defeats.

Minneapolis, however, retained its five and one-half game lead over Milwaukee, by taking another from Kansas City, 3 to 1. Both Buck Marrow and George Hockette were hit hard, but each team turned in four double plays.

Toledo belted Archie McKain and Eldon McLean for 15 hits to take the series final from Louisville, 8 to 2. Bill Perrin, who went all the way for the Mud Hens, yielded 11 hits, but was effective with men on and was helped out by a pair of double plays.

Indianapolis defeated Columbus, 10 to 2, in a night game. Jim Turner stopped the Red Birds with only seven hits, while Glenn Spencer and Cross gave eight between them.

"Buster" Lucas Signs.

ROCHESTER WINS BUT FAILS TO ADVANCE

By the Associated Press.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 15.—The Rochester Redwings finally have broken a serious losing streak but their return to the winning column failed to help them make up any ground in their pursuit of the Newark Bears, pace-setters in the International League.

Rochester pounded out 21 hits in beating Syracuse, 17-10 yesterday, but Newark likewise won, beating Buffalo, 3-1, in a night game, and remained four and one-half games in front of the Wings.

Burning Feet and Black Stockings Run to Dead Heat

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DETROIT, Mich., June 15.—Two horses, Burning Feet and Black Stockings, won the seventh race at the Detroit race track yesterday, finishing in a dead heat over the mile and a furlong route. It was the second time this year that a dead heat has been recorded. El Puma and Musing furnished the first one at Tropical Park on March 19.

Burning Feet, owned by M. Lowenstein, and Black Stockings, running in the colors of A. J. Halliwell, finished so closely aligned that the judges couldn't separate them. Thistle Fyrn took third.

THREE WIN TITLES IN TRAPSHOOTING EVENT

By the Associated Press.
READING, Pa., June 15.—Two amateurs and a professional from Philadelphia and its suburbs divided title honors in the first day of the Pennsylvania State trapshooting.

S. Morris Crothers, Philadelphia, tied with Walter S. Beaver, Berwyn, in 143 out of 150 targets at the opening of the shoot yesterday. Crothers then won the shootoff for the class championship with 49 out of 50. Beaver broke 48. A. J. McDowell, East Lansdowne, captured the professional doubles with a 92.

Class B honors went to John G. Martin, Harrisburg, with 146; and Class C was won by John E. Schroll, Mt. Joy, with four down. Clarence B. Rush, Bethlehem, scored 140 to win the Class D event and Miss Elizabeth Wister, Philadelphia, hit 137 to take Class E. Beaver, with 94 out of 100 (59 pair), took the amateur double target class while Carmy W. Eselman, Lancaster, and Allen H. Allen, town, divided runnerup honors with 89 each.

Sport Show Opens.

The St. Louis Boat and Sport Show opened at the New Municipal last night with 4000 people in attendance. Chester Pledge took the boys' division bait casting accuracy contest with 97 points, while Robert Piros took the men's baitcasting title. Exhibitions were given in horsemanship pitching, archery, boxing, bicycle riding, and bicycle riding on tread mills.

Fine Idea, Says Germany.
Important Meetings.
Four That Could Rule.
One $710,000,000 Item.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ENGLAND, France, Italy, etc., decided not to pay the United States.
Germany says: "A good idea," and decides not to pay anybody, at least not for six months. A six months "moratorium," meaning "no money to be paid."
You will hear "moaning at the bar," and a good deal of it, when Europe's professional defaulters find that they are to get from Germany a taste of their own medicine.

Few newspapers yesterday failed to print more pictures, more words, more guesses as to the winner, in connection with last night's heavy-weight prize-fight, Carnera-Bear, than were printed on any other subject.

We all love peace, decency. Even pugilistic assault and battery, with gate-receipt accompaniment, is not always approved. But last night's meeting between two heavy duffers, prizefighters interested more Americans than yesterday's meeting between Mussolini and Hitler. Newspapers know it, and act accordingly.

What Hitler and Mussolini said to each other will never be known, unless, as is probable, one or both write their memoirs and tell about it. If Stalin and Kemal Pasha could have been at the meeting the real power of Europe would have been there, for among them the four could control any situation. Kemal is not the least important, for holding Istanbul and the Dardanelles he could open or close the gate of the Mediterranean to Russian power.

The meeting of Hitler and Mussolini reminds you that it is still possible even in "effete Europe," for men to rise from low down to high up.
Mussolini ruling Italy is the son of a blacksmith; Hitler, absolute ruler of Germany, was a house painter who found it hard to make a living.

The national debt of the United States has risen to a "new high" for all time, namely, to 27 billion dollars, a debt 27 times as big as it was before the big war started. Wars are expensive, especially when with simple-hearted idiocy you lend money to dear friends in Europe.
Paying interest on that 27 billion dollar debt, at the rate of only 3 per cent, will cost Uncle Sam or American taxpayers, $710,000,000 a year, a sum almost equal to the national debt before 1914, 40 per cent more than the total cost of running the Government for a whole year when Tom Reed said extravagance would ruin us.

Not content with mere "inflation," this Government is inflating with bonds that bear interest, and at the present moment that "conservative inflation" puts one single item of $710,000,000 a year on the taxpayer's back.
A United States Government bond, mind you, no longer payable in gold, has nothing but the Government's name and is no better than a greenback with the same Government's name on it. By using greenbacks instead of ally bonds, that "little item" of $710,000,000 a year could have been saved.

In London long ago police and public were horrified when a man known in crime's history as "Jack the Ripper" murdered one miserable woman after another, apparently with a maniacal desire for revenge on womankind.
The public and police in Paris are agitated and puzzled concerning some supposed "mad man" who has sent 20 dangerous explosive bombs through the mails, each containing a tube of dynamite, to be exploded by a cap when the package was opened.
A number of French postoffice employees have been wounded by these bombs sent with letters signed "The three judges of hell" denouncing and threatening the French people, regardless of age or sex.
The sender of the bombs appears to be a man of some education, since he signs one of his letters "Minos, Esque (Aecus) Rhadamanthe," three judges that according to Greek mythology, "mete out justice in Hell."

The earth's uneasy quaking spread from one continent to another. A few days ago the Argentine was shaken and Genoa, in Northern Italy. Yesterday, Calcutta sent word of earthquake shocks in Afghanistan and Baluchistan, worse than earthquakes that killed thousands in India last January.
The whole northwest Himalaya range, part of the earth's greatest range of mountains, is reported badly shaken. The wind "bloweth where it listeth," and the earthquake is equally uncertain.

Reprisals Are Cure For The Inconsiderate

Mutual Concessions By Members of a Household Are Essential.

By Martha Carr

DEAR Mrs. Carr:
PLEASE tell me what attitude
you would take with a husband nearing 50 years old (two love-children), who does nothing viciously wrong, but who is becoming utterly selfish that he never considers what his family might care to do.
He wants to stay up until 3 a.
m. and read and disturb his wife and the children who are trying to sleep, and who get up at 7 a. m., but he should care to sleep until 10 a. m. if he must be quiet, and his breakfast ready at any hour he wishes; regardless of the children's sleeping hours. If he wants to ride in the car at night—ride one must, or he is totally unaware of his lack of consideration and merely says, "Everyone has a right to live his own life—provided he harms no one thereby."
Doesn't this attitude do great harm to the children and adolescent ages. If a woman cares a lot, she suffers a great deal silently,
and will it pay in the end?
"AT-SEA."

The "provided" is giving your husband a large loophole. I believe it is up to you not to suffer so silently. Or if you prefer, suffer in silence, without saying anything, perhaps not so silently when he sleeps in the morning. You and the children (when you are busting out in the early hours) tell him, just "living your lives." Sometimes these reprisals are only for him in extremity; why not explain to him now, since the silence available nothing, that there are several ways to be lived in that house; that at night and some in the morning. In order to make it a personal day, each must concede something to the other, in comfort and consideration. One of the finest ways to live our own lives is largely to live them for others.

My dear Mrs. Carr:
THERE is an answer to the boy who thinks that girls are "gold diggers." It is the boy who wishes to be a gold digger. I know from experience. I have been out in double dates with girls who are gold diggers, but I have never been in. And, for my reward in trying to help a boy save and not spend his money foolishly, I am the only one who looks up when he is spending his money. You think this is a good way for you to show his appreciation of the other kind, or her help?
DEE BEE.

DEAR Martha Carr:
Read the letter of "Another Bachelor." If all men were like him, the next generation would not until old age to get married.
I think about the whole affair. That bachelors are to blame for the condition of the world now.
They lack responsibility. Many a girl would like to marry and raise good family. Those who keep the world going right are the good ones. A HAPPY MOTHER.

My dear Mrs. Carr:
It is moving to St. Louis in less than a month, I wonder if I stranger here. I wonder if I didn't get in touch with some musicians there through your column.
I have been very successful in this and hope I will be able to perform someone who is dependable.
STRANGER.

The best thing for you to do is want ad. for players of the musical instruments you mention.
You can find out the status of the applicants you have through the Musicians' Union.

DEAR Mrs. Carr:
I HAVE no problem of my own to bring to you, but this is in answer to the egotistical young gentleman who signs himself,
"Speed," to his very sorrowful letter. Surely there is some little girl waiting for him in this vast world!
His trouble lies in his assets—of which he possesses too many for his day and age. Most of the young fellows I know would be only glad to have his possessions.
Tell him to wake up and look out. He'll find somebody who is a "gold-digger." SENIOR.

DEAR Mrs. Carr:
I take just a little of your precious space and answer
"Speed." What a name for a boy trying to find a reasonable girl who is not a gold digger. There are hundreds of girls who are reasonable and there are just as many places to find them. But you say, "not every girl will fall for a boy just because he has a car and spending money."
A REASONABLE GIRL.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot offer advice on matters of a strictly legal or medical nature.
Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

MAGGIE CLINE

A Great Star Of the Old Days Makes Her Last Bow

MAGGIE CLINE

SOME 42 years ago, John W. Kelly, songwriter, rushed into a backstage dressing room of Tony Pastor's Fourteenth Street Theater to tell a blue-eyed, buxom Irish lassie, "Maggie, I've written another song for you."
Maggie Cline, who was that girl died at her Fair Haven, N. J., home
June 11, but the song, "Throw Him Down, McCloskey," remains among the immortal memories of the days when vaudeville was America's entertainment fare; a song which Maggie Cline took for her own and wielded as a scepter to become queen of the circuits and Brunn-hilde of New York's famous Bowery.

Until Kelly offered the ballad to her, Maggie's chief claim to fame was more than voluptuous figure, whose curves were inclined to burst from both sides of her wasp waist. A former burlesque queen, she was, however, already a headliner at Tony Pastor's rendezvous when "Throw Him Down, McCloskey" fell her way. Kelly had named his masterpiece "Throw Him Down McGinty," but Maggie, after agreeing that the song was "a good one," objected to the hero's name.
"I don't like McGinty," she advised the hopeful songwriter. "It ain't a fighter's name. He sounds like a fussy sit-around-in-mother's-parlour fellow. I'll call it 'Throw Him Down McCloskey.'"

She gave Kelly a two-dollar bill.
Maggie, at that time, might have been called the supreme Irish comedienne of the nation. A few days later she sang her new song at an Easter Sunday benefit concert in Tony Pastor's. No orchestration of the song had been made,
so she hummed the tune a few times to the orchestra leader just before curtain time. The song was the hit of the show. During the next 20 years Maggie was to throw McCloskey down not less than 6000 times, not only for the gallery boys but for Grover Cleveland, William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

Years later, Maggie tried to drop the song from her act, but she never ended an appearance without a loud clamor for the classic. Usually she saved the ballad for her last number and the gallery boys would roar approval as she stepped out in an emerald gown and announced:
"Now, ladies and gentlemen, I will sing the dainty and pathetic little ballad that drove me into this business."

MAGGIE was monumental. She sometimes weighed 230 pounds and she had the voice of 100 choristers. While stage hands provided the sound effects, making more noise than Dewey at Manila, Maggie would take a deep breath and let herself go. The original version:
I
"Twins down at Dan McDevitt's at the corner of the street.
There was to be a prizefight, and the parties were to meet.
To make all the arrangements, see everything was right;
McCloskey and a Negro were to have a finish fight.
The rules were London prizeing,
McCloskey said he'd try To lick the Negro in a punch or in the ring he'd die.
The odds were all for McCloskey," although the bets were small—
On McCloskey ten to one, on the Negro none at all.

Chorus.
"Throw him down, McCloskey," was to be battle cry.
Throw him down, McCloskey; you can lick him if you try.
And future generations with wonder and delight Will read in history's pages of the great McCloskey fight.
II
"The fighters were to start in at a quarter after eight;

But the Negro didn't show up and the hour was getting late.
At last he sent a messenger who then went on to say
The Irish crowd would jump him and he wouldn't get fair play.
Then up steps Peté McCracken and said that he would fight.
Stand up or rough-and-tumble, if McCloskey wouldn't bite, McCloskey said 'I'll go you,' the seconds took their place And the fighters started in to decorate each other's face.
III
"They fit like two hyenas, till the forty-seventh round,
They scattered enough of blood about, bigosh, to paint the town.
Till McCloskey got a mouthful of poor McCracken's jaw; McCracken hollered murder; and his seconds hollered foul.
The friends of both the fighters that instant did begin To fight and at each other the whole party started in.
You couldn't tell the difference
twixt the fighters if you tried—McCloskey lost his upper lip, Mc-Cracken lost his eye.
Maggie put her whole soul into the declamation. Her powerful arms flailed and cuffed, and when she landed a haymaker the superbackstage would hurl a heavy piece of scenery to the floor with a resounding crash. Then, with a toss of her shapely head, she would swagger off, tough and triumphant, while the gallery rose as one man and whistled like a West Indian hurricane, for an encore.
Maggie was a past master of repartee with the gallery boys. One night, as she finished singing,
"Don't Let Me Die Until I See Ireland," one of the boys called out:
"Well, why don't you go there?"
Maggie never flinched an eyelash.
"Nix!" It's too far from the Bowery," she retorted, almost bringing down the house as she swaggered off the stage.
Maggie frequently was sandwiched between "Chincheek" at Blackwell's Island and one of Dion Boucicault's soul-stirring melodramas. Theatrical managers of the '90s were certain of a contented audience with Maggie on hand to put the gallery in good humor and patrons were willing to sit through an otherwise dismal program just to hear her throw Mc-Closkey again.
"There was only one person I ever met who didn't like the song," Maggie said. "That was my dad.
He said, 'Maggie, it ain't ladylike.'"
As early as 1909 Maggie was an old-timer with gray locks silvering her once golden hair, but she still was the Irish queen of variety. Her mere appearance provoked gales of anticipatory laughter. The laugh always came before the joke was finished.
Maggie Cline was born in Haverhill, Mass., in 1857. When she was 15 she ran away from home to go on the stage. Three times her father trailed her and brought her back. Then she ran away with a circus and returned of her own accord, disillusioned and crestfallen, a few weeks later. By this time, however, her parents were resigned to Maggie's misbehavior, and permitted her to go her way.

MAGGIE . . . all dressed up to sing "Throw Him Down, McCloskey."

Some of the song hits she helped popularize were "Has Anybody
Here Seen Kelly," "The Hat Me
Father Wore," "The Pitcher of Bury Park, N. J., where she was him," "McDowd's Initiation" and "None of Them's Got Anything on Me."
Maggie made her debut in the legitimate theater in 1896 as the heroine of a four-act comedy-melodrama, "On Broadway." She explained later that she had no intention of singing at the benefit but just couldn't help it when the spotlight was turned on her.

An Unpleasant Odor.
Sometimes in damp weather the dish towels or dish cloth will have a somewhat disagreeable smell that ordinary washing does not seem to remove. Add a little ammonia to the water when washing them and you will soon find they are sweet-smelling again.

Accessories For The Home

A SQUARE crocheted just now and then and before you know it you have enough to make some striking accessory that will add distinction to your home and give you much pleasure. This design —exclusive with Laura Wheeler—is a lovely medallion that is very easy to sew together. Besides making a handsome chair back set, it lends itself to scarfs, buffets and vanity sets, dollies and luncheon sets and many other articles. They may be made entirely of the crocheted or of the squares combined with linen. A striking bedspread can be made of this design in a slightly larger size also given in the pattern.
Pattern 731 comes to you with detailed directions for making the medallion in two sizes as well as charts for joining them to make a variety of articles; illustrations of all stitches used and yardage requirements.
Send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) for this pattern to St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Needlecraft Dept., 52 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Little Capes With Ruffles Are in Style

They Will Be Worn at All the Swanky Dances This Summer.

By Sylvia

GIVE a girl a handsome cape, to throw about her shoulders and she won't mind appearing at the swankiest dance of the summer in a year-old evening dress. The little capes this season are the nicest ever. One of them is made of ruffled net—eight rows of it, to be exact, because I counted them.
A shade may be obtained to make you forget the color of the frock, or to emphasize it if you think it's worth superlatives.

Another cape that is a darling and very youthful, too, although you don't have to be sweet 16 to get away with it, is of pique. One side is white and the other either pastel or dark colored. A combination of brown and white will please the dancers who like to stick to tailored clothes while shell pink and white will be a delight to the frou-frou individuals. A ruffle that is very full stands up around the neck.

Have you noticed how many smart girls are garlanding themselves with artificial flowers now that hot weather has caused the swains to neglect sending real orchids? Sometimes the girls choose daisies and sometimes gardenias.
They use these little leis to bedeck the capes mentioned above, or to swing around the neckline of a simple evening gown.

There is a linen bag in one of the St. Louis shops that arrived a bit late, but is so intriguing, it shouldn't suffer from unpopularity.
It is a squishy, sack-like affair of a luscious shade of pink. The tighter you fill it, the handsomer it will be. The body of the bag is gathered onto a plain linen band. A twisted cord handle was an inspiration.

Another summer bag which will get by the discriminating dressers because it has a bit of originality combines white linen and navy patent leather. The patent forms a little skirt at either side and thereby gives the bag its notoriety. Several other color combinations are available.

When a saleswoman tells a fair shopper that a certain accessory was picked by a movie star, her sale is made without any further argument. That's what happens with a collar. Joan Crawford chose it, so we're told. Perhaps you've seen it in the stores—a brown orangle ruffle with a white braided pique band next to the neckline and a couple of white pique bands to decorate the edge. Judging by the sales, it seems to have "it."

Those summer frocks of corded material that look like silk but is proud to be synthetic are a boon to the business girl who doesn't want to spend all of her evenings with an iron in her hand. A clever interpretation combines white and navy. The body of the dress is white, but the upper part of the bodice, including short sleeves, is dark of color. Another with more practicality for day after day wear has shirtwaist touches and shows a mixture of brown and white.

A summer wardrobe that hasn't at least one costume with a sailor collar isn't up-to-date. But don't get the idea that all of these collars must look alike. Sometimes a reversal of the usual theme is a successful idea. A white linen frock, for example, wears its nautical square in front rather than at the back.

Admirers of zircons now can have rings on their fingers without sacrificing many dollars. The reason for this is the appearance of a new synthetic stone. Besides the rings, there are bracelets, earrings and pendants, all of them set in combination with rhinestones. Unless you're an excellent judge of jewels, you'll find it hard to separate the imitation from the real.

Another bit of news that concerns jewelry is the arrival in town of some elegant star sapphires. Contrary to the precedent set by the zircons mentioned above, these stones are genuine. Some are round, but the majority are oval.
All are set in antique gold.

When making boiled custards stir constantly to prevent lumping and curdling. Do not over-cook; remember that they thicken up when cool.

Blemishes!

need no longer mar
your appearance:
The antiseptic and astringent action promotes healing and renders an exquisite complexion which conceals permanent blemishes.

STYLE

A Smart Summer Model Made From Pattern in Post-Dispatch.

If you are an experienced seamstress or just a beginner, this pattern will appeal to you, for it is simplicity itself to make, but has the smartness of a French model when completed.
Aren't those sleeves perky, and not at Orange Fudge.

The many persons very fond of the flavor of orange will enjoy this sweetmeat. Three cups sugar, one-third cup milk, one-half cup water,
two teaspoons grated orange rind,
one-quarter cup orange juice, one-quarter cup butter. Boil sugar, milk and water for five minutes. Add remaining ingredients and boil to soft ball stage. Cool, then beat until creamy, adding one-quarter cup candied orange peel, cut very fine.
Pour into a buttered pan and when firm cut into squares.

Faith Grows From Living Up to Faith

By The Rev. Joseph Fort Newton

"WHAT you wrote about prayer recently helped a lot," writes a very kind reader. "The idea that our deepest desire is our life-prayer, makes sense. But some of us want to go further, if we can."
"Like Katherine Mansfield," he goes on, "many of us would like to offer a song of praise to someone, if we could feel that there was anyone to take it. But it is like talking over a phone, with no one there."

No one? How do you know? It is not enough to pray; we must also know how to listen. "He that hath ears to hear let him hear," said Jesus, who did not think He was talking into the air when He prayed.

Anyway, be honest about it, whatever you do. Do not pray to anything you do not believe in. If you do not believe in God, never pretend that you do; never pray as if you did. Tell no lies on your knees.
A great preacher once lost his sense of God, but he recovered it by praying to the next best thing that was left—the abstract principle of right. It was a dreary devotion, but the light came back. He was sincere; he did not put into his prayer anything but what was actually in his heart. He prayed up to the level of his faith, and tried to live up to the level of his prayer;
and more faith came.
If you cannot pray to God as a known Being, approach Him in an unknown Something, if you want to find Him. If you cannot feel Him, feel after Him; if you cannot see Him, look in the direction where He may be.
In short, if you cannot fly, walk;
if you cannot walk, stand and wait.
Remember, the light comes to us at daybreak, not in the middle of the night. If you see anything that looks like sunshine, go and stand in it.
Lay aside all anxiety and seek reality—but do not make your mind the measure of what may be. If you are true to the best truth you know, be sure your sky will clear and your day of faith will dawn.
Yes, there is somebody there; be sure of it. For ages men have lived in God and found Him real.
As one put it, every unhidden needle points to the pole; every un-stopped river empties into the sea.

A Romantic Serial Story

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

AT 8:30 Flora took the tray Frankau brought to the garden door and put it on the bed. Trudy gazed at one of the most appetizing breakfasts she had ever seen: cantaloupe in a bed of crushed ice, crisp, buttered toast, two shirred eggs under a hand wrought silver cover, fragrant coffee in a small silver pot. The china was Ming, and beside the fragile cup and saucer was a fresh pink rose bud, the dew still on its bursting petals.

Through the wide open doors she could see the garden, blazing with color. Enclosing it was the parapet, like a fence behind the row of tall hollyhocks that grew above the whitewashed concrete.

But for the buildings towering beyond, she might have been looking out into a country garden.

A blimp was sailing through the blue sky, golden against the morning sun.

"One lump or two?" Flora asked. She had poured Trudy's coffee, and was standing beside the bed, the silver sugar tongs in her strong fingers.

"Two." The girl watched the two cubes drop into the liquid, saw the bubbles they made as they started dissolving.

"Cream?"

"Cream." When Flora had the cream in, Trudy took a spoon and stirred her coffee. Although she hadn't slept at all during the night, she wasn't tired, and although she wasn't hungry, she was going to eat.

The tray was going to be empty when Frankau saw it next. She had determined that much during the night. If she was going to play a waiting game, she was going to do it properly.

Slowly she started on the cantaloupe, then when it was finished tackled the shirred eggs, loathing every bite she was taking, yet making herself go on.

"You were hungry!" Flora exclaimed when she came to remove the tray. Trudy watched her go with it out into the garden and set it down on a table.

"You can go out in the garden if you like."

"I'll stay here." Getting out of bed, Trudy put on the blue negligee and made herself as comfortable as she could in a big velvet chair that looked toward the dressing room.

From the bed she saw the garden, from the chair by the door, the painting. The least offensive position was the one she was in, except that one corner of the dressing room window was in plain view.

"A magazine," Flora handed her several, which the girl took eagerly. Not that she could read them, but the turning of their pages would occupy her hands, which weren't as steady as they had been when she was talking to Frankau last night, promising to marry him.

FOR half an hour she pretended interest in the magazines. The one time she glanced up at Flora, the woman was looking at her. Their eyes met for an instant and Trudy was the first to drop hers.

There was a small clock beside the bed, but she didn't want to seem too impatient about the time, so she seldom looked that way. When she did, it was with panic that the minutes were speeding by so quickly. Time had never gone so fast. Ten-thirty already! An hour and a half left until noon.

At 20 minutes to 11 Frankau appeared from the garden and stood in the doorway. He was wearing a dark flannel coat and white trousers, and his shirt was open at the neck. In his arms he carried a large box.

"Lovely morning, isn't it? I couldn't have asked for better. The license is all arranged for. Fortunately I was able to use some influence, so you wouldn't have to go down, my dear. I just returned myself."

He stepped into the room and walking over to the bed, started to take the cover off the box.

"You should be curious, but I can see you aren't, Trudy," he chided. "Well, this is your wedding dress. I ordered it yesterday, and stopped to get it this morning. After all, you can't be married in the garden in a pink lace dinner gown."

From the crisp tissue paper, he took an ivory satin dress and a long lace veil. Both Flora and Trudy stared silently at the shimmering folds of satin as he laid the dress out on the bed.

Into Flora's eyes came a veil that might have been fear, but when Frankau turned to her a moment later, it was gone.

"You'll help Miss Vernon into the dress, won't you, Flora? There's some lingerie in the drawer where you found the night things, and hanging on one of the hooks in my dressing room, you'll find a suit, which Miss Vernon can put on after the wedding."

"I've already called Sam, and he'll be here at noon. You and he will be witnesses for the wedding."

"Then to Trudy: 'I'm asking an old friend of mine to perform the ceremony. He'll be here at noon, too, and you'll be of course. Your bouquet I put in the icebox, but as soon as you are ready, I'll bring it in to you.'

"Now, if you'll excuse me, I'll go, because I have a good many things to attend to. We're selling on the Gramercy at 2:30, which

TODAY'S PATTERN

A Subtle Frock
YOU might think to look at it that it would be difficult to wear—the silhouette is so simple. But haven't you overlooked the clever lines which the seaming traces on the figure? They are astonishingly grace-giving as well as very smart. On the bodice, buttons call attention to the side seams which carry the eye down to the long panel of the skirt and create an illusion of additional height and slenderness. The unbelted front waistline is extremely chic and the belt joined in the side seams fastens smartly in back. The back neck opening is the last word!

Pattern 1912 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

SUMMER KAMP FOR BOYS FROM SIXTEEN TO SIXTY

Conducted by Aunt Bella

View of the Social Hall, or Dining Lodge, Overlooking the Lake.

ANNOUNCEMENT: A Summer Kamp for tired Business Men is the realization of a dream that has been bothering your Auntie B. for years. Bench and bar agree that a husband should get away from his wife for at least six weeks. Kamp Hi-Dee-Hoe is the place to send him, dearie. He will be taught unselfishness, and self-discipline, and how to mingle agreeably and merge with the group, and all that stuff.

In selecting herself as Physical Director, Aunt Bella recognizes her genius for leadership and sympathetic understanding. Tents, ginger ale, gramophone needles, seltzer water, hair oil, etc., are all provided by the Kamp Kummunity Kash Katore. Those who bring horses may ride at no extra cost. We will have our Outdoor Theater, and write and produce our own burlesque shows. We will learn to read the stars and Variety, and those who care to press wild flowers may do so.

The Kamp Uniform (address of store at which to purchase same will be given upon registration) will consist of flashlight, "shorties," "shoesies," and paper hats which we shall make ourselves with scissors and paste. The camp fee for six weeks is $300 and a case of beer. References: A. Bella, in care of this newspaper; Oh-So-Good Weiner Packing Co.; Balboa Tent & Awning Co.

Poets who live by their pen Diet every now and then.

"This," says the League for Social Reform, "is a trying period for parents."

It certainly is. Parents spend half their time worrying how a child will turn out, and the rest of the time wondering when a child will turn in.

"I swear!" "Frankau may sink his own ship, but he's not going to sink mine, too. Now I think you'd better start getting dressed."

"You mean—in that?" Trudy pointed to the white satin dress.

"Yes, there's no other way. You may have to go through with the ceremony. I've got to think this out."

With that Flora went into the bathroom and drew a bath for the girl. While the tub was filling she looked through all the cabinets. No razor. Frankau had left nothing to chance.

Rummaging through his cupboards in his dressing room, she came on a bootjack but discarded it after weighing it in her hands for a moment. Too heavy. Too unwieldy.

"Your bath's ready," she called to Trudy. When Trudy was in the tub, she went into the bedroom, and looked around.

A brass paper weight on a table near the door drew her attention. She picked it up and considered it. Frowning. Small, heavy enough—it must weigh three pounds. The

Style Trends In Early Fall Paris Displays

By Adelaide Kerr

PARIS, June 14.

"ACCENT the side," is the maximum of the mode for early fall clothes which Bruyere launches in her latest collection. Bodices closing on the diagonal with wrap-around skirts buttoning all around the waist, dresses with side fastenings caught with bright flowers, wrap-around coats and one-sided plaistons and vee necks on frocks all proclaim the importance of the side effects.

"Paint red," rich bright blue, black, brown, beige and grey were the outstanding colors in which the frocks are fashioned. Their fabrics are soft wools such as homespun, silk alpaca and canvases and heavy crepes. "Asia yellow," a vivid sunny hue, is often used as accents on flowered summer frocks.

The wrap-around skirt effect is the outstanding feature of the frock display. "Paint red," black and rich blue frocks are designed with bodices which fasten on the diagonal and continue into a skirt which wraps entirely around the waist, buttoning all the way.

Others are finished with vee shaped vests or plaistons placed slightly at one side of the bodices, while others are finished with necklines pulled to one side and caught with a bright flower. Flying back panels, placed slightly to one side, are a feature of several frocks.

Generally the trimming of the dress is designed to enhance the side emphasis. A midsummer frock of heavy white silk canvas designed with a diagonal bodice closing and a wrap-around skirt is trimmed with three bows of sapphire blue velvet running down the left side of the bodices with the closing.

Costs of beige homespun and black wool are designed with wrap-around effects which cause them to close well on the left side. Most of them button. They are, for the most part, finished with small

After all, who should know more about complexion care than a beauty expert? And when 20,000 of these experts say there's nothing like Palmolive for keeping a girl's skin fresh and young and lovely... why, I believe it!

I have no use for beauty claims that have no reason why! Palmolive tells me exactly why it's better for my skin... because it's made from olive and palm oils, scientifically blended. Just knowing that gives me a lot of confidence.

It's wonderful, the difference, Palmolive, has made in my skin! Twice each day I work that rich, velvety lather into my pores, rinse with warm water, then cold. And Palmolive baths keep all my skin soft, smooth and lovely!
